Diener - Hart wedding solemnized October 28

The Salem Mennonite Church was the scene of a lovely fall wedding on October 28 at 6:30 p.m., between Ann Marie only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hart and Marvin Lee, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Diener of Canby, Oregon. Bishop John B. Stauffer, grandfather of the bride, performed the ceremony, while Rev. Paul Voegtlin preached the sermonette.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length A-line gown of lace over organdy with an empire waist, lily-pointed sleeves, and a lace-trimmed neckline. An organdy train trimmed with lace fell from the shoulders. Her bouquet was a cascade of roses and white carnations.

Maid of honor, Louise Stauffer, cousin of the bride wore a turquoise green dress while Patty Magines, cousin of the groom, and Wanda Good friend of the bride wore gold dresses. Laurice Stauffer, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and wore gold also. The identical A-line dresses were floor length gowns, with empire waists, round necklines and elbow-length bell-shaped sleeves. Their bouquets were in cascade form of white carnations.

The groom was attended by his brother, Ron Diener, and Dan and Jim Hart, brothers of the bride. Clifford Hart, brother of the bride, and Mike Magines, cousin of the groom, were ushers.

A quartette comprised of Mrs. Enos Stauffer, Orvin Boettger and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roth, and a trio comprised of Mrs. Enos Stauffer, Mrs. Joe Roth and Mrs. Sandford Boettger rendered the music. One of the songs sung by the trio during the ceremony was composed by the groom's aunt, "God Holds My Hand".

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hart chose a three-piece navy blue and white suit. The groom's mother chose a three-piece knit navy suit. Their corsages were of red roses and white carnations.

The reception was held in the church parlors for 250 guests. Orvin Boettger, uncle of the bride, was master of ceremonies, and Clare Good, a friend of the family, gave the tribute to the bride. A beautiful three-layer cake centered the bride's table. It was decorated by the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. Lee Roth. In charge of the guest book was Susan Stauffer, cousin of the bride. Lucille Wideman, Joyce Boettger, friends of the bride, and Nancy and Lorna Stauffer, cousins of the bride, were in charge of the gifts.

For going away, the bride chose a three-piece aqua suit, with black accessories. Her corsage was a gardenia. After their honeymoon through British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, the happy couple will make their home near Canby, Oregon, where the groom is employed.

Out of town guests were from Salem and Canby, Oregon, Daysland, Viking, Edmonton, Duchess, Carstairs, Three Hills and North Battleford, Sask.

Ministik Hall gets PA system

(Mrs. J. Roddick)

MINISTIK — On Saturday evening the dreams of several Ministik people became reality when their public address system was officially dedicated.

At different meetings, a p.a. system was mentioned and then forgotten. However, a lady who first thought one would be feasible in the hall made a motion that the community combine forces to make the purchase of one as a centennial project. This was done and on Saturday evening, November 18, at a pot luck supper and social evening enjoyed by the community, it was declared "in use" by Mrs. Claude Leach who cut the ribbon and was the lady aforementioned.

Bill Roddick, hall president was master of ceremonies for the evening. Coffee and cake was served at the close of the evening by Mrs. Keith Williams and Mrs. Pat Paterson, who were in charge of the supper, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Leach, Mrs. Bill Roddick and Mrs. Albert Horricks.

Saturday will be a big day for youngsters in Tofield, as that jolly old gentleman, Santa Claus will be coming for a visit.

Santa will be arriving at the Exhibition Grounds by helicopter at 2:30 p.m., and will go from there to the Tofield Community Centre, where he will meet all the children of the area.

Ed Watson, president of the Tofield Chamber of Commerce, has received a telegram from Santa saying that everything is okay, that he expects no problems or delays and that he's looking forward to meeting all the children.

CFCW will be broadcasting from Tofield beginning at 1:00 o'clock, with Christmas music being played and interviews with some of Tofield's businessmen, as well as Santa Claus.

Treats provided by local service clubs will be given to the children at the Community Centre.

Lutheran Parsonage dedicated at Ryley

(Mrs. Bray)

On Sunday, Nov. 26, Holden and Ryley congregations held a joint service at Bethel Lutheran Church, Ryley, under the direction of Pastor Stanley Rude. Dr. Karl Holfeld of Saskatoon, President of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Canada, gave a dynamic sermon on "Successful Living".

Following the morning service, a casserole and turkey dinner was served by the church women. During the noon intermission, members and guests viewed the newly-completed parsonage with pride and satisfaction.

There was no parsonage when the Ryley congregation was first organized in 1906; and for the first few years the pastor lived in a private house. Then a group of men bought a house which was rented to the pastor until about 1919, when the congregations then forming the parish purchased the property. This property was owned jointly by Ryley, Holden and Amisk Creek, and successive pastors serving this parish made it their home.

For a number of years it was felt that a new parsonage was needed, and when the property was sold in November 1966, plans were made for a new house to be built. Lots were purchased a half block east of the church; the basement was dug in April, and construction continued off and on throughout the spring, summer and fall to completion.

Dr. Holfeld performed the act of dedication at the afternoon service, and spoke on "Christian Living in the Home".

Greetings were brought from Dr. S. T. Jacobson, vice-president of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Canada; R. Mason, Parish Council president, L. Grosland, treasurer of the Parish Council; A. Hultholm, president of the Holden congregation; G. Knudstein, president of the Ryley Congregation; and treasurer of the Ryley rotary - treasurer of the Ryley Town Council.

Special music at the morning service was sung by the Sunday School children under the direction of Judy Burnstad, and solos were sung by Pastor S. J. Rude, father of Pastor Stanley Rude, and by Lloyd Wickstrom.

Coffee and pie was served following the afternoon service.

Two one-act plays to appear in Ryley

The Ryley Junior High School Drama Club will present two one-act plays during their "drama night" scheduled for the Ryley Community Hall on December 18.

The two plays, a drama entitled "The Storm" and a comedy with the name "Wilbur Is A Genius", will be presented along with singing acts and comedy routines.

In addition to the plays, singing and comedy routines, a shell-craft rug raffle draw will be made.

The entire evening is being sponsored by the Ryley Junior High School Students' Union.

Homecoming 'Queen'

Eighteen-year-old Lucy Disterlais, a grade XII student at Ryley High School was crowned Ryley 'Homecoming Queen' at a special Homecoming Dance recently by last year's queen, Miss Marilyn Hjelter. The new queen is a keen sports fan, likes dancing, and has a strong interest in commercial art. Becoming a queen is not new to Lucy, as in '65 she was 4-H queen and in '66 was named the Curling Club's carnival queen. Named as princesses this year were Bonnie Sadownyk and Valerie Dusek. —The Mercury Newsphoto.

Saturday's election

Division No. 7 in the County of Beaver goes to the polls on Saturday, to elect a member to sit on the County Council. The voters in this division should take the time to consider the candidates who have offered their names and then vote for the man they want. Voting in this country is our democratic right and we should always take advantage of it and not abuse this prvilege. Vote for whom you wish on Saturday, but vote!

Parliament attendance

People must wonder sometimes why they go to the trouble of electing a member to sit in the House of Parliament, especially in view of the attendance record of many of the members, or should we say lack of attendance.

The Liberals had proposed an increase in postal rates, with these rates expected to be in force before Christmas. But, on Tuesday afternoon, the Opposition called for a vote on the issue and defeated the government. Because of the defeat the government will not fall, and that is not th important thing. The noticeable thing about this particular vote was the total number of members that actually voted

The issue was defeated by a vote of 14 to 11. That's right, a total of only twenty-five members or approximately nine per cent of the House of Parliament's total enrolment. Where were the others?

Reports out of Ottawa indicate that many of the members still had not returned from lunch. Just what kind of lunch hour do they require? Other members were in their homes, a few were making public appearances . . . but where were the others?

It has often been felt by many that our elected representatives do not put in enough time on the job, especially when the amount of wages they are being paid is considered. Running this nation is a full time task, and it is high time that our members realized this, and got down to brass tacks and got the job done.

In no other field of endeavour does a man have so much freedom as in the political arena. It would be quite interesting to see what the result would be if all the members of the House had to reports to their constituents, their attendance record while the House is in session.

Special status

The subject of special status for Quebec has arisen at the Conference of Tomorrow being held in Ontario, and has been firmly rejected by many of the provinces, including Alberta, and rightly so. As one premier put it, changing the constitution would not strengthen one nation, but make it nine provinces and something else.

Quebec naturally has a majority of French-speaking citizens in that province and as a result are strongly urging that this become a two-language nation. In this they are being silly. The majority of people in this province for instance, have many languages, and a person speaking French would find only rare instances for the use of that language. If it was your mother tongue you might remember it, but if it was a language that you had been taught you would certainly forget how to use it after a period of [illegible].

In Alberta we have representatives from many countries, and just imagine what would happen if one of them started to become the majority. They could then insist that their language be taught in schools and become the second tongue of the province. French becoming a necessary tongue in Quebec is fine, but beyond that province's borders, let English remain as the tongue, so that we won't all have to hire interpreters

MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA.—There was an air of well-controlled drama in the House of Commons when Tory leader Stanfield rose in his place last week to hurl his first formal challenge to the Liberal Govern[illegible]

"Hurl" is perhaps the wrong word for Mr. Stanfield, whose debating style is about as different from John Diefenbaker's as it is possible to imagine.

But the new Conservative chief had been saying some hard things about the Government he is committed to overthrow at the first opportunity. And everybody was waiting to see whether he would make good on his first time at bat.

Mr. Stanfield disappointed nobody, except possibly the Liberals, in a carefully-prepared and documented indictment of the Government's sins over the past four years.

But when the time came for the Opposition to stand and vote in support of the Stanfield challenge, absenteeism won the day for the Government.

And incredibly, the Tory leader didn't even vote for his own motion of no-confidence.

The reason was that Prime Minister Pearson had left the country the night before on a week's visit to Britain to receive the freedom of the City of London—and Mr Stanfield obligingly concluded that it would be ungentlemanly to vote against him in his absence.

Even if he had, however, the Government would have been [illegible]

There was enough blank spaces in the New Democratic party's ranks alone to guarantee that.

Which means, of course, that the NDP would prefer to keep the devil it knows in government than to substitute a devil it doesn't.

The NDP, in fact, probably holds the key to whether Mr Stanfield can ever deliver the Government to the [illegible] it goes to the people at a time of its own choosing, perhaps as far off as 1970.

Consider the House of Commons breakdown: Liberals, 132; Tories, 95; NDP, 22 Creditistes, 8, Social Credit, 4; Independents, 3, and vacant, 1

Short of a substantial shift in party standings through by-elections, Mr Stanfield will have to sweet-talk three other party groups and the Independents as well into following his line before he can hope to outvote the Gov[illegible]

And that is not likely to happen, particularly since the splinter groups know they might have difficulty getting re-elected in any early test on the hustings

Until politics polarizes to a greater degree around new leaders, or possibly fragments to the benefit of the small parties, it is hard to see the House of Commons providing more than a series of bluffing matches—much sound and fury, signifying little

But Mr Stanfield's efforts will [illegible].

Governments, it has long been contended in Ottawa, are never elected on their own; they get back into office because the voters like the opposition less, or else they defeat themselves and let in the opposition by default

The job of the Tories over the next year or more, unless some- Party in the confusion over the succession to Prime Minister Pearson You can find Liberals on Parliament Hill, including Cabinet Ministers, who are willing to consider defeat at the polls, thing startling happens to upset the political balance, will be to help the Liberals destroy them[illegible]

The Government, in fact, has been doing a pretty good job of it without help in recent weeks. One Cabinet Minister after another has mishandled matters to the delight of the opposition and the dismay of Liberal backbenchers.

A lemming-like sense of suicidal despair has gripped the and even suggest it may be good for the Party to have another spell in opposition.

This attitude is curious when it is considered that the chances of Mr. Stanfield's troops storming the barricades remain remote.

What seems to be bothering the Liberals most, however, is a missing sense of direction

Everybody on the Government side knows that Prime Minister Pearson does not wish to fight another election. He has spoken so frequently of the joys of retirement that it would surprise few MPs if he were to announce his departure any day.

And yet the PM hangs on—apparently because he can't satisfy himself on which Minister (all the candidates for his job are in the Cabinet) should receive his blessing.

Nobody on the Liberal side wants to see Mr. Pearson go. And yet it is recognized that for the Party's sake, sooner or later, and preferably sooner, he must.

The very least he can, and should do, Liberals are saying, is to make his position clear so that the Party, and the government it controls, can do some forward planning.

Until he shows his hand—and until Mr. Stanfield can rally the support of the splinters in the House—Parliament seems destined to remain in a stalemate.

It may be good for the legislative program, but it makes dull politics

Dear Sir:

I would like to draw your attention to a slight error in the report of the F.U.A. harvest home supper in your November 16 issue.

The delightful supper was served by the ladies of the Schonseer Mennonite Church and not the Mennonite Brethren as printed.

Thank you.

COLUMBUS

Behind him lay the gray Azores,
Behind the Gates of Hercules'
Before him not the ghost of [illegible],
Before him only shoreless seas
The good mate said: "Now must we pray.
For lo! the very stars are gone.
Brave Adm'r'l, speak: what shall I say?"
"Why, say: 'Sail on! sail on! and on!'"

They sailed and sailed, as winds might blow
Until at last the blanched mate said
"Why, now not even God would know
Should I and all my men fall [illegible]
These very winds forget their way
For God from these dead seas is gone.
Now speak, brave Adm'r'l: speak and say."
He said: "Sail on! sail on! and on!"

Then pale and worn, he kept his deck
And peered through darkness Ah, that night
Of all dark nights! And then a speck —
A light! a light! a light! a light!
It grew, a starlet flag unfuled.
It grew to be Time's burst of [illegible]
He gained a world; he gave that world
Its grandest lesson: "On! sail on!"

School committee meet

Following are the minutes, in part, of the County of Beaver No. 9 School Committee meeting, held on Friday, Nov 10.

Business Arising From Minutes

Concerning the Sagmore child, the Secretary-Treasurer stated that he had written the Secretary-Treasurer of Lamont School Division No. 18 in this matter on October 30 but had had no reply. The Assistant Secretary reported that he had discussed the matter with Mr Worbets during the A.S.T.A. Convention.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

In regards to the School Design Workshop Crs. Roddick, Krepelnicki and the Superintendent, Mr Bruce, reported verbally on the Workshop. There had not been too many school representatives present, mostly engineers, architects and government officials. It was suggested that the A.S.T.A. should support this research on School Buildings as it was badly needed. The Workshop was considered quite valuable.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

In regards to the Canadian Centennial Medal, the Committee was advised that the Nomination Committee dealing with this matter had met on October 10 at 9:00 in the County Office and had, after thorough consideration, decided to nominate Earl Kindley, Vice-Principal at Viking School.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Correspondence

It was moved and carried that letter from the Village of Holden, advising that Nestor Semotiuk had been elected by acclamation to represent the Village on the County of Beaver No. 9 School Committee for a period of two years, be received and filed.

Moved and carried that letter from the Town of Tofield, advising that Harry Wilkie had been appointed School Committee Representative for the town of Tofield, be received and filed.

Notice of a Workshop on Employer-Employee relations to be held December 3rd to December 6th, 1967, at the Macdonald [illegible] in Edmonton was referred to the Committee. It was decided that this workshop would not be of particular interest to the School Committee, and it was moved and carried that the information be received and filed.

In regards to the addition to the Viking School, the Secretary-Treasurer stated that he had submitted a final account to the Department of Education in the amount of $176,344.37. A debenture of $113,000.00 had been received in 1965 and he had forwarded application for a debenture in the amount of $63,500.00. A debenture in the amount of $57,000.00 had been received but to date, he had no explanation as to the difference between the request and the amount received. He expected to have this information for the next meeting.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Office Building Addition

At this time, T. Groves of the Firm of Architects, Aberdeen, Groves, Hodgson, of Edmonton, attended the meeting in regards to the proposed office building addition. Suggested plans were presented to the Committee and examined very extensively.

The estimates of costs were as follows: New addition of 3,460 sq. ft., $62,000; renovating existing building with a floor area of 3,400 sq. ft., $31,000; professional fees, $6,000; parking lot and loading area, gravel base and asphalt topping, $24,000; professional fees on the paving work, $1,300. Total estimated cost of project complete, less furnishings, $126,700.

The cost per sq. ft. on the new addition was estimated at $18.50, which was a reasonable cost. It was decided to dispense with the parking lot, which [illegible] reduce the overall cost by $25,000. The work could be done under the Winter [illegible] Program, if it was considered as a municipal project, which would further reduce the cost by some $33,500, leaving a net estimated cost of $66,000.

This was considered acceptable, and it was moved and carried that the County Council be requested to proceed with the proposed office building renovation at an estimated cost of $67,000.

The Chairman suggested that the cost could possibly be paid for over a period of two years, which would save a large amount of interest cost, the funds being provided from general revenue.

The Superintendent's report indicated that Thomas W. Christensen of Tofield had won the 1967 Governor General's Medal. He is the son of Mr and Mrs. Hans Christensen. As in former years, an engraved watch had been ordered for presentation to Thomas W. Christensen along with the medal.

Mrs Beatrice Fredericks, Mrs. Treva Rimney and Miss Linda Budd requested permission in accordance with policy 3120 to live outside the districts in which they are teaching.

Moved and carried that the requested permission be given.

Notice of Alberta Seminar on Education Finance sponsored by the A.T.A., to be held November 19 to 23, 1967 at the Banff School of Fine Arts with a registration fee of $40 and accommodation fee of $30 to $80 per person was referred to the committee. The main speakers were listed in the report and the Committee was of the opinion that the Seminar would not be of too much value to the local committees or boards, and it was moved and carried that the County's Committee not be represented at this Seminar.

Zone 3 High School Drama Festival was referred to, with the fee for the 1968 Drama Festival having been set at $40. It was noted that if the County wished to remain a member of the organization the fee should be paid prior to the end of the [illegible]. Mr Bruce mentioned that there would not likely be [illegible] from the County this [illegible] he recommended that the membership should be kept up for future years.

Moved and carried that the $40 membership fee be paid to the Zone 3 High School Drama Festival.

Christmas Holidays

It was moved and carried that the Schools in the County of Beaver No. 9 close for Christmas Holidays on Friday, Dec. 22 1967, at 3:30 p.m., and reopen at 9.00 a.m. January 3, 1968.

The Superintendent in his report referred to the equipment for the schools and the fact that the Industrial Arts equipment had not been ordered because of uncertainty as to just what equipment was required. He requested permission to use the money appropriated for this purpose to purchase other items, that was actually planned for purchase for 1968, such as desks, other school furniture, science equipment, and music equipment. The School Committee agreed to this request.

In regards to the Youth Travel Program, the report advised that the group from the Magdalen Islands, that had visited the County last July, had forwarded a report of their activities and a picture of their group as a gesture of thanks for the County acting as their hosts. It was suggested that a letter of appreciation be forwarded to Father Landry for this nice gesture.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice VanBuskirk were Wednesday evening visitors at the Max Schacher home.

In spite of the rather chilly evening the UCW turkey supper was a huge success with about 200 people braving the weather to help the ladies carry on with their worthwhile efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Zaruba are enjoying a three-week holiday and are spending part of the time with their respective parents. They are leaving at the weekend for a trip to Vancouver where they will visit with Lorraine's sister Carol and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Niemetz and Doug visited with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice VanBuskirk on Saturday evening.

PIONEER WOMAN PASSES

Mrs. Andy Olsen passed away on Tuesday, November 21st at the age of 88 years. She came to this district with her husband in the early 1900's and they farmed here for about 40 years. Rummage sale, Turkey Shoot held next week

The two coming events that members of the Tofield Curling Club are looking forward to the rummage sale and the turkey shoot. The sale will be held in the Crown Lumber building on Wednesday, December 6th. On Saturday, December 9th, starting at 7:30 p.m., the annual turkey shoot, which was such a success last year will be held. Everyone is welcome to this gala event. Also during the evening the annual "grudge" battle between the town and county will take place. Last year the county rinks defeated the town rinks and thereby presented them with a goat. Inga Foshaug Ness passes in Camrose October 29th

Inga Foshaug Ness was born December 7 1881 in a northern province of Norway, in the Bardo community. Her parents were descendents of the inhabitants of a mountain valley of a central province who emigrated north seeking greater opportunities for themselves and their children.

In her youth and early womanhood Inga Foshaug was known for her beauty and lovely singing voice. At gatherings in the early days she shared unselfishly her musical talent.

She came to America in 1901 with two brothers and Mattis Bertelsen Ness, to whom she was married November 9 1901. They made the decision to join the trek of pioneers headed for the prairies of Alberta. Their railroad destination was Wetaskiwin, from which they went by wagon team, through Skandia to the Bardo settlement.

To their marriage were born 11 children, two of whom died in infancy. Mattis died in 1950. Inga died October 27, 1967, at the Bethany Home in Camrose where she had resided the last two years of her life. She was 85 years old, and was one of the last surviving pioneers of this community. She lived here continuously from the time of their first coming. She was a faithful member of the congregation and of the women's auxiliaries.

Mrs. Ness is survived by one son, Ingvald of Kingman, and eight daughters: Gudrun (Mrs. Herold Ronning) of Pasadena, Calif., Betty (Mrs. Walter Scott) of Edmonton, Margo (Mrs. H. K. Williams) of Calgary, Esther (Mrs. Ingolf Brekkan) of Bardo, Alice (Mrs. Ralph Dahl) of Camrose, Gladys (Mrs. Lester Severson) of Bardo, Muriel (Mrs. Howard Irvine) of Edmonton, and Sylvia (Mrs. Garth Evans) of Edmonton. She is also survived by 17 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Bardo Community Centre on Tuesday, October 31, at 2 p.m. with Rev. O. H. Haugen officiating. Interment took place in Bardo cemetery. Pallbearers were sons-in-law, Harold Ronning, Pat Williams, Howard Irving, Walter Scott, Garth Evans, Ralph Dahl, Lester Severson, and Ingolf Brekkan. Hoveland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

COUNTY OF BEAVER

— NO. 9 —

There appears to be some misunderstanding in regards to By-Laws nos. 247 & 248. These by-laws provide for installation of water and sewage system in the Hamlet of Bruce and will be voted on on Saturday, December 16, 1967.

Sufficient home owners in the Hamlet of Bruce have indicated that they wish to have water and sewer facilities supplied The monthly charges, that have been set up for these services, in an amount to take care of the yearly debenture payments. Only if the number of home owners, that have now indicated that they would like this service, should be reduced the general revenue of the County would have to pay the difference between the debenture payment and the amount collected from the Hamlet of Bruce

Under the present circumstances it appears that the system would be self liquidating. It is hoped that the above explains the matter. However, should anyone wish further information, the undersigned will endeavour to supply this.

Have you ever wondered...

...where medical aid would come from if your community should suffer a disaster?

Disasters can range from a nuclear attack to a multi-car highway accident, from a flood to an industrial explosion, but all have one thing in common: the immediate and vital need for medical supplies and equipment. To make sure that the required equipment and personnel are on hand when needed is the responsibility of the Emergency Health Services of the Alberta Department of Health. Twenty two-hundred bed emergency hospitals, packaged and ready to be transported and erected wherever needed, are being strategically stored in the province by this agency. These units are designed to replace bed and medical facilities which might be destroyed in a nuclear attack, and to supplement inadequate local facilities in the event of major civil disaster. Advanced Treatment Centres are also maintained by the Emergency Health Services to provide first life-saving techniques and patient-sorting following a nuclear attack. Each large city hospital has disaster teams which would assist local medical personnel if required during a large disaster outside Calgary and Edmonton. To further supplement emergency equipment available locally, twenty Casualty Collecting Units have been divided into thirds, providing 60 municipalities throughout the province with stretchers, blankets, first aid supplies, burn dressings and water bottles. The distribution and use of all this equipment, which is supplied by the federal government, is controlled by the Emergency Health Services, working with the Alberta Emergency Measures Organization.

There's no need to wonder about it; many specific answers are available through a Recreation Interests Inventory. The Recreation Branch of the Alberta Department of Youth, through the area consultants can provide guidance and assistance in this inventory. Any interested community can request that an inventory be carried out in their area and the Branch may assist in developing the questionnaires and in supplying the personnel to co-ordinate the project and to evaluate the answers, at the cost to the community of materials only. To further aid in setting up a comprehensive recreation service the Branch assists in surveying the physical facilities available, as schools, community centres, campgrounds, sport fields, play grounds as well as present programs. The final evaluation of the complete findings of the assessment is submitted to the local Recreation authority for their decision. The Recreation authority then may request further advice and, if necessary, financial assistance from the Recreation Branch.

...where an Alberta manufacturer can obtain the financial assistance required to buy the materials he needs at the most advantageous time and in the most economical quantity?

Qualified Alberta manufacturing firms, unable to obtain sufficient financial assistance from other sources, can apply to the Alberta Commercial Corporation for the funds they need to build up inventories of raw materials or standard component parts. The Corporation will purchase the material in quantity, arrange for storage and release it for cash payment as it is required. Funds are also made available to qualified manufacturers who require production equipment or land and buildings to enlarge their facilities. Firms applying for assistance from the Alberta Commercial Corporation also receive expert guidance and direction to these government agencies which can best advise them on such matters as markets and natural resources.

Partly because, today, the principles of engineering are being applied to the practice of agriculture. Alberta farmers have the assistance of trained agricultural engineers in producing the largest quantity of food with the least number of man hours. Working through the offices of District Agriculturists the Agricultural Engineering Branch of the Extension and Colleges Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture, offers help in such forms as plans for livestock buildings; advice on installation of private water systems and water treatment plants, sewage disposal and electrical installations, drainage of farm lands, gully filling and conservation. They aid in planning new farmsteads for maximum mechanization to reduce time and work in operations like feed handling, manure disposal and bulk storage of fertilizer. Tractor maintenance schools and field days held by the Branch also help teach those engineering ideas which have played a major role in making agriculture one of Alberta's most efficient industries.

Alberta's animal representatives at the "Royal" live in style and comfort from the moment they become part of the province's display until they return home again, with feed and bedding provided by the Alberta Department of Agriculture. In addition, the Department co-ordinates with the Breed Associations, the selection of animals to be entered, arranges with the railway for rolling stock, outfits the cars, correlates loading times and locations and pays freight costs, 75 per cent of which are reimbursed by the federal government. The province supplies assistance to exhibitors for this occasion because this is the only agricultural fair in Canada considered to be national in scope.

...why all Alberta movies are classified?

Classification of motion pictures shown in Alberta is a method of advising moviegoers throughout the province as to what kind of entertainment they can expect when they "go to the show". Advertising for any movie must bear the classification which has been assigned to it by the provincial Board of Censors so that everyone will be aware of the type of picture it is. There are three classifications: "Family" — movies to which even the youngest children are admitted unaccompanied. "Adult" — restricts admission to people over age 16 unless accompanied by a parent or bona fide guardian, usually due to frightening, violent or sexual themes. Such films may be seen by children but an adult must be available to provide explanations if they am required. "Restricted Adult" — allows admission only to theatre-goers over age 18. This classification allows films with controversial themes to be seen by adults and warns patrons with special sensitivities that the subject matter may offend them. "Restricted Adult" films are not permitted at drive-in theatres.

DARLENE KOPORES, Ponoka

Several years ago, when her mother passed away, Darlene began helping her father to look after the family. Darlene has four younger brothers and sisters. Then, when she was thirteen, her father went to hospital, and this enterprising girl took complete charge! She kept house and looked after the family even through difficult periods. Yet she has attained an excellent scholastic standing. Today, she attends Grade Ten at Ponoka High School. Now that her father is home again, the family is working together to build a happy, contented home.

We congratulate Darlene Kopores and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active participation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to Ken McLean, Editor of the Ponoka Herald and to Darlene's nominator, Mr. G. L. Landmark of Ponoka.

MALKEWICH. — In fondest memory of Kathleen Edith, our only daughter and sister, who passed away at Lamont, age 18 years, November 29, 1960:

Sweet to remember her who once was here,
And who, though absent, is just as dear.

Another Alberta Junior Citizen of the Centennial Year!

DARLENE KOPORES, Ponoka

Several years ago, when her mother passed away, Darlene began helping her father to look after the family. Darlene has four younger brothers and sisters. Then, when she was thirteen, her father went to hospital, and this enterprising girl took complete charge! She kept house and looked after the family even through difficult periods. Yet she has attained an excellent scholastic standing. Today, she attends Grade Ten at Ponoka High School. Now that her father is home again, the family is working together to build a happy, contented home.

We congratulate Darlene Kopores and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active participation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor owned electric utility companies.

What's in the window?

The Tofield Lions Club erected a Jubilee Museum in 1959 that arouses a great deal of interest in the area with its exhibits. Passing by late in the afternoon our photographer took the picture of the windows reflecting the scenery just outside the museum. — The Mercury Newsphoto.

Crown Lumber has 'birthday'

Crown Lumber opened its doors for business in Tofield twenty years ago this week. On Saturday, Dec. 9, 1967, Crown Lumber Company's Hardware Store and Lumber Warehouse officially opened for business.

The staff for the newly opened business consisted of J. Whyte, manager; Herb Chandler, H. McKennurey, Arlene Foss and Bill Fraser.

The original building has been erected by Ole Swarc, while subcontractors on the job were Watson's Sales & Services, Templeman Bros. of Wetaskiwin, and Jack Congdon of Edmonton.

Crown Lumber celebrated its opening with a special sale that ranged from refrigerators and kitchen ranges to watches, radios, tree decorations and toys. A free pressure cooker was given away to the holder of a lucky ticket.

Today, twenty years later, Crown Lumber is once again building and expanding in Tofield, with the new additions expected to be fully operational very soon in the new year.

Too many employees

Federal taxes have gone up again, and the average wage-earner is once again hit where it hurts, in his pocket-book, although it must be admitted that this time, it wasn't too hard a blow. The bright spot in the picture, if you want to term it as such, is that we have been told there will be no increase in provincial taxes.

All branches of government — federal, provincial and local — all say that the people want this and expect that, and we, the government must give it to them, and as a result, taxes must be raised in order to get the money to provide what the people demand. This is, to a great extent, quite true. But, governments keep telling us that there is no way to cut expenses. We can think of one solution that could mean a big saving for both the federal and provincial governments.

Cut down on the number of people working for the government. They are not all needed, and if everyone that wasn't needed was let go, the amount of money saved in wages would probably be a shocking figure. There is nothing more disgusting to the average citizen than to visit government offices and watch these employees do little if anything, with nothing but time on their hands.

It has often been said, and possibly rightly so, that a government job is the softest kind in the world. It is high time that all our governments started treating their employees in the same fashion as a businessman would. After all, government is big business, and no employer would keep on his payroll, employees for whom he had no work.

Water and sewer

The County of Bevver is attempting to pass two by-laws which would provide for the installation of water and sewer systems in the Hamlet of Bruce, and a vote will be held in the County on the 16th of this month, to see if the taxpayers in the County will agree to this.

The County has been assured of sufficient home-owners in Bruce wishing to install those systems, at rates that would retire the yearly debenture payments, and that only if some of those people backed out would the County have to pay any money towards these debenture payments.

The decision has been left to the ratepayers of the entire County as to whether or not they wish the people of Bruce to have water and sewer systems. It is a bit unthinkable that the people would not vote in favor of obtaining the installation of these systems, as it is rather hard to imagine people not having modern systems in their homes in this day and age.

Even if a few people did renege, it should not cost the County that much as to hurt the budget to any great extent. The people of Bruce are entitled to the same services and conveniences as anyone else, and there should be little doubt, but that later this month, the people of this County should step forward and be counted as favouring the two by-laws.

Slavery flourishing

Slavery is supposed to be a thing of the past that's best forgotten. But, not only is it not forgotten, but, sometimes it is a rather flourishing business. Nor is it confined to the Middle or Far East, but, even has certain success in our own country.

Slaves are still being auctioned off to the highest bidder, and residents of the Tofield area will find this out a week from Friday, when the principal, referees and members of the girls' basketball team of Tofield School go on sale and become the property of those who shout the highest, mentioning the most money.

This type of slavery is unobjectionable. The money raised at such 'slave sales' goes to good use, and the slaves become free citizens after one day of service.

So, bring on the slaves, and let the auction begin!

Editor, The Tofield Mercury.
Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you for sending me the back copies of The Mercury that I had missed. Again, my thanks for the nice little item in The Mercury of my 'Behind the Mike'.

I also noticed that you invite comments on Letters to the Editor's column; so I am sending on what we might call "Reminiscence of Yesteryears". Many will dispute me on some items, but in the main they are true.

First, in the Education field: We had many fir s the Old Red School, four of whom I might mention—My nephew, Dr. Ian Tofield Rogers (at present Professor of Chemistry and Physical Research at Michigan State College). Mrs. Rogers is a brilliant student. Then we have a home-town boy, Dr. W. "Bill" Smith (former Deputy Minister of Education for Alberta) still going in some high position in Edmonton. A. E. Hunnam, former school inspector at Tofield now head of Education in Edmonton Locally, our own Grace Phillips, who handled the biography and all other items during the 50th year of the birth of Tofield, and has almost completed the same for the centennial year. . . .

Our former Red Cross Sports Day, which is now handled by the Tofield Community League. During the War Years this was handled by special committees. When rations were short, the Day was handled by the following: President J. W "Bill" Chapman, A. B Clutterham as secretary-treasurer, the balance being Walter Belamy, D. W. "Mudge" Jacobs, A. E. Allan, J. Edwin Stinson and Dan McCarthy; on the Ladies' end were Mrs. A. E. Allen and Margaret "Peggy" Hammond As Peggy once said "I could give the prizes less for their money than anyone I ever heard of". But during the less years we turned over a lot of cash to the Red Cross.

In Sports Baseball—Frank Ball, "Happy" O land, Louie Scott and "Scotty" Lee, George Bissett and Bert Calvert Curling was my game Many will dispute me on this, but we had a team that stayed together for about 10 years. 1931 was our Big Year—we played 18 games and won 18 of them. The team: Geo. McLaughlin skip, Artie Baines 3rd, Bert Calvert 2nd, and myself as lead. Many was the hard-fought game between the "Long" John Lee and McLaughlin rinks. In Hockey—the old Silver 7 (the old Gas Line League), in which I played, along with George Black of Holden. I really do not know where I found the time, between Sports and Building Letters at the Post Office for 31 years. The only way I could win was the slogan over the wicket, and I had no disputes on that: "We run the Best Post Office in Tofield"—then, as now of course, it's the only one.

During my term of office as Mayor, I had the honor of giving the address of Welcome to the visitors when the Tofield Hospital was opened.

There are many of the items in my Scrap Books of years gone by. They will be left in my daughter Bea and my son Blake when I pop off. My handicap during all these years was the one I wore on my head.

Yours very truly,
A. B. (Abie) Clutterham.

Book-keeping is an exacting task that requires deep concentration, and that's exactly what those students taking business courses at Ryley School are doing. If effort means anything, they'll all pass the course and be successes in the world of business. -The Mercury Newspaper.

Their services will be available, not only to those who are likely to remain in the low income group but to young couples starting their married life with ambitious ideas and immigrants unfamiliar with the language and customs of their adopted land.

PROBLEM OF COMMUNICATING

They will be ready to look into cases referred to them by service organizations, churches, credit unions and other agencies likely to run into instances of imprudence or people who want advice.

The worst bug in the industry, of course, will probably arise from the fact that so many people don't want advice. It is one thing to dispense welfare benefits or to matched wage earners in ways that they can earn more. It is quite another thing to suggest to them that they don't know how to spend it. Yet it is less expensive less wasteful and often far more beneficial to help a family save a given amount through proper consumer behaviour than to help them achieve an equal increase in income which may, in the end, be dissipated through poor spending habits.

One political scientist has defined poverty as being "trapped in a situation without choices: an environment without options." This carries it beyond the realm of merely income. It may be lack of mobility, lack of accessible credit, lack of educational facilities. It also includes inability to exercise the choices so dear to Mr. Turner and Mr. Efforts to develop skills, create jobs and increase income will be negated if the increased income leads only to more extensive expenditures of the poor through ignorance deception and fraud.

Tofield girls unbeaten in three games to date

Tofield opened her basketball season with the annual alumni game. November 17, the alumni girls were defeated by the score 22 to 11; and the alumni boys showed their superiority by a margin of 64 to 27.

Tofield hosting Holden opened the league play November 24. The final scores were Tofield girls winning 21 to 13 and Holden boys winning 40 to 27.

December 1, Tofield played host to Ryley. The Tofield girls won their third game of the season, 26 to 13.

County Council meets Tues. Nov. 28

MINUTES OF THE REGULAR MEETING OF THE COUNCIL OF THE COUNTY OF BEAVER NO. 9, TUES., NOV. 21, 1967
Present: Crs. W. A. Dorin, A. L. Gibson, W. D. Johnston, G. Knudslien, W. Kropielnicki, J. H. Roddick and H. Weatherill.

In regards to the Amisk Flood Control and Erosion Project, Cr. Knudslien reported that the work was progressing quite well. He estimated an additional three to four days work. He stated that he had to obtain rock for rip rapping and had to pay $5.00 per load. He also advised that the grademan from Midwest Drainage Ltd. required a man to assist him during the night shift as he was operating 24 hours per day. Cr. Knudslien had made arrangements for this man. Moved and carried that the report be accepted and arrangements concurred in.

In regards to the proposed bridge at SSW 1-50-15-W4, Cr. Kropielnicki had discussed the proposed work with the Municipal Bridge Engineer and it appeared that it was now too late in the season to have the work done and Cr. Kropielnicki suggested that the work should be deferred until next year. It was moved that the report be accepted. Carried unanimously.

In the matter of correspondence from the Solonetzic Soil Sub-station at Vegreville, concerning proposed deep-plowing experiment, a letter from the Sub-station was referred to the Council. The letter indicated that Mr. Klein's tractor would not be heavy enough to use on the present equipment and it was suggested that the matter should be left in abeyance for this year. Moved and carried that the information be received and filed.

Regional meeting of Councillors, Secretary-Treasurers, of Towns, Villages, Counties and Municipal District, held in Vermilion on October 19th, and attended by Crs. Roddick and Gibson. Cr. Roddick reported that only some 20 persons were in attendance. Most of the day was taken up discussing resolutions to be placed before the Urban Municipal Convention. There had not been much of interest for the rural people. Some discussion had ensued on the proposed large Health Units. These meetings could be of value, if they were properly organized with items of interest for all. Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

In regards to the "Management Services for Farmers" Conference, Nov. 16-17 in Edmonton, the Secretary-Treasurer informed Council that he had notified the Dept. of Agriculture that the A.A.M.D. Convention would be held on the same dates. A reply from the Department indicated that their dates for the conference could not be changed, as arrangements had progressed too far. It was moved that the information be accepted. Carried.

Concerning the impounding of [illegible] by the Chrystian, the Sec.-Treas. informed Council that he had, as provided for in the Domestic Animals Act, advised Mr. Bratrud and Mr. Chrystian of the recommendation of the Committee. No appeal had been made. It was then moved and carried that the recommendation of the Committee be confirmed i.e. damages in the amount of $75 be awarded to Mr. Chrystian and that the cost of investigation, $10, be charged to Mr. Chrystian.

In regards to reports under the P.F.A. Act, motion 596/67, the Sec.-Treas. advised that not enough reports on yields of less than 8 bus. of wheat per acre in one block had been received to warrant reference to the P.F.A. office. Moved that the report be accepted. Carried.

Letter from Alberta Government Telephones concerning properties located in the County of Beaver and a request that the County undertakes to clear snow on the access roads as well as maintain and gravel the roads when required. Moved and carried that the County accedes to the request and that the Sec.-Treas. submit the requested information to A.G.T.

A letter from the Battle River Tourist Association containing the purposes and the objects of the Association was referred to Council. The letter was also an invitation to send a representative to the next meeting of the Board on Oct. 26, at Camrose. Cr. R[illegible] reported he had attended the meeting but had not found it too enlightening. In his opinion, the proposed program was more applicable to towns and villages. If the County accepted the program it would cost approximately $800 yearly. Only 12 persons had been in attendance. Moved and carried that the letter be received and filed and the report accepted.

J. H. Stewart, president of the Saskatoon Fire Engine Co. Ltd. and Dave Macdonald attended the meeting at this time in connection with Fire Protection Program. Mr. Macdonald had checked the fire engines at Tofield, Viking and Ryley and a written report on this was referred to Council. Mr. Stewart suggested that possibly someone from Council should take a look at the fire engines prior to offer to purchase the equipment from Tofield, Ryley and Viking and that he would be prepared to assist on the appraisal. This was agreed to and it was moved and carried that Crs. Roddick and Dorin be appointed a committee to work with Mr. Stewart on appraising the fire equipment at Tofield, Viking and Ryley and that this work be done on Dec. 5th, starting at Tofield, at 10:00 a.m.

Mr. Stewart mentioned that cost of the fire engine had increased from $16,000 to $17,261 in the last six months and that a further 10% increase was expected momentarily. He would be prepared to accept an order from the County at the present price of $17,261, thus protecting from further increases. Council [illegible] new units were required in 1968 and that these should be ordered now. Moved and carried that an order be placed with Saskatoon Fire Engine Co. Ltd. for two fire engines for Holden and Kinsella for delivery next year at a cost of $17,261 per unit.

The Secretary-Treasurer presented the following tax information as of Oct. 31, 1967, in comparison with the same period in 1966 (in brackets): Levy, $869,832.62 ($820,316.55); Current Taxes Collected, $231,720.83 26.6% ($215,996.03 26.3%); Arrears Collected, $307,782.13 ($358,013.98); Forfeited Land Taxes Collected, $1,272.44 ($1,441.81); Total Collection to Oct 31st, $540,775.40 ($575,451.83); Percent of Current Levy, 62.2% (70.2%); Arrears to Oct. 31st $121,686.00 ($145,931.20). Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Public Notice in regards to an application from Hutterian Brethren in Cayley Colony requesting leave to purchase certain lands in the County of Beaver No. 9 was referred to the Council. It was noted that a meeting in this matter was to be held in Holden on Nov. 23rd and that the Chairman of the Communal Property Control Board would be in attendance to explain the situation to the meeting. It was suggested that some members of the County Council should be present. It was felt that a Colony was not desirable in this County but that, on the other hand, it would be very difficult to have the application refused. Moved and carried that Council go on record as having no objections providing the Colony make use of the County School System and in all matters comply with the laws of the country.

Notice of Agricultural Service Board Northeastern Regional Conference to be held in the St. Paul Legion Hall on November 28, was referred to the Council.

Moved and carried that Crs. Dorin, Kropielnicki and Roddick, together with the fieldman, Rex Bayles, attend this conference.

A history of the County, as requested by the A.A.M.D. and compiled by Mrs. Ester Anderson of the County's Office Staff, was read to the Council at this time.

The Brief appeared to be very well compiled, and it was moved and carried that the brief be received and filed, and Mrs. Anderson complimented on her work.

The Cost-Sharing Agreement between the Department of Agriculture and the County, in regards to the Amisk Creek Control and Erosion Project, was referred to the Council. It was noted that the maximum contribution by the Government would be $16,000.

Moved and carried that the Agreement be signed by the County's Signing Officers and returned to the Department of Agriculture for completion.

Modern etiquette

Q. Is it good manners, when a guest at a buffet dinner in a friend's home, to visit the serving table for second and third helpings?

A. Perfectly good manners, and expected. The important rule to observe, however, is never to take any more food on your plate than you can eat. It would be very poor manners to heap your plate with food, and then leave most of it uneaten.

Q. While I was confined in the hospital recently, many good friends visited me and brought gifts. I thanked each of them personally. Should I also write them personal notes of thanks?

A. This isn't necessary.

Q. When one is in doubt as to whether or not an invitation can be accepted, how should the acknowledgement be worded?

A. You must NOT be in doubt when acknowledging an invitation. State definitely whether or not you can accept.

Q. When one is a guest in someone's home, and the hostess has small dishes of candy and nuts placed on tables about the room, is it proper for the guest to help himself without being asked?

A. Since obviously these dishes are for the guests, it is quite all right to help yourself.

New addition being constructed to County office

Work started Tuesday on additional space at the County of Beaver office located in Ryley, with a completion date of March 31st.

The new addition will add about 3,450 square feet of space to the existing office, including a Board Room and new offices. The existing office will be completely renovated, and the entire office set-up re-arranged for increased efficiency.

The estimated cost of the new addition is expected to be in the range of $67,000, and this takes into consideration the grants under the Winter Works Program.

County employees under the direction of Stan Kubin are doing the work.

Electronic boxcar system

Canadian railroads are going to implement an electronic system which will allow them to locate instantly any freight car on the continent.

It will be done through a series of scanning points at various points in the railway network which will read off coded metal tags on each freight car. The CNR has started to code its more than 100,000 cars for automatic identification, approved recently by the American Association of Railroads.

The CPR, although giving no definite indication it will be going to the new system, is expected to adopt it early next year.

The new system is expected to improve utilization of freight cars by 10 per cent. Along with other electronic equipment railways will be able to pinpoint capacity and condition of cars faster, and give more efficient service. CNR expects the system to be in operation by 1969.

Helped by Rex, the family dog, who led some of the children by the arm, Glenna finally got them all to safety.

We congratulate Glenna Horvath and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active participation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

Provincial museum opened yesterday

Designed to portray the natural and human history of Alberta from the early ages, the Provincial Museum and Archives of Alberta was officially opened the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 6, and will be open to the public the following day from 1:00 p.m.

The massive $8,500,000 structure is located on an historic site, the 13¼-acre grounds of Government House in Edmonton. This land was purchased in 1910, less than five years after Alberta became a province, as the setting for a home for the Lieutenant-Governor, and the manion which still stands there was opened in 1913.

The intent of the Museum and Archives is to provide a free public institution which will portray Alberta by its collecting, preserving and exhibiting significant natural and historical items and providing educational services to create a greater awareness of Alberta's heritage.

The Provincial [illegible] and Archives is a Confederation Memorial Project, one of the ten major projects constructed in the capital cities across Canada.

Exhibits being prepared for public viewing fall broadly into two main categories. The Natural History Cultural Division arranges displays in zoology, birds, mammals, reptiles, insects, fish; in earth history, rocks minerals and fossils; and in botany, plants. The Human History Curatorical Division collects, documents and restores artifacts, and produces historical displays such as agricultural or trade tools and equipment, clothing and domestic items, vehicles and firearms; ethnological material such as Indian utilitarian, ceremonial [illegible] decorative artifacts, and archeological specimens, projectile points, trade items and stone articrafts.

In the Provincial Archives in the west wing, collections stone articrafts of documentary materials are organized for reference and research. Included are public records, private and business papers, photographs, books, pamphlets, and microfilm-reading and tape recording playback equipment.

As a Confederation Memorial project, the building features stone facings from several provinces. The exterior wall is faced with Tyndall stone from Manitoba, and the slate paving for the walks and terraces is from British Columbia. On the interior, the lobby and orientation gallery inside the main door have floors of Canadian Black Granite from Alberta, and the walls are finished in glistening Tweed Pearl Marble from eastern Ontario.

Public facilities include, a cafeteria, book store, lecture rooms, a spacious carpeted lounge and 400 seat auditorium, with stage.

Modern etiquette

Q. I've just broken my engagement, and am in doubt regarding the disposition of the wedding gifts I have already received. Do I return them and explain the reasons for the breakup?
A. Return the gifts, but omit the explanations. Simply say the engagement has been ended by mutual consent.

Q. Must refreshments of some kind always be served after a weddnig rehearsal.
A. While not exactly a "must," this is customary — either at the bride's home, or the groom may invite the little party of attendants to some public eating place.

Q. When a man finds it necessary to introduce himself, does he prefix "Mr." to his name?
A. No. He can say," I am Douglas Gordon," or, "My name is Grodon," unless of course he has the title of Doctor, which he then properly includes with his name.

TO THE RATEPAYERS

COUNTY OF BEAVER

— NO. 9 —

There appears to be some misunderstanding in regards to By-Laws nos. 247 & 243. These by-laws provide for installation of water and sewage system in the Hamlet of Bruce and will be voted on on Saturday, December 16, 1967.

Sufficient home owners in the Hamlet of Bruce have indicated that they wish to have water and sewer facilities supplied. The monthly charges, that have been set up for these services, in an amount to take care of the yearly debenture payments. Only if the number of home owners, that have now indicated that they would like this service, should be reduced the general revenue of the County would have to pay the difference between the debenture payment and the amount collected from the Hamlet of Bruce.

Under the present circumstances it appears that the system would be self liquidating. It is hoped that the above explains the matter. However, should anyone wish further information, the undersigned will endeavour to supply this.

OLOF MONSSON,
Secretary-Treasurer.

TO THE RATEPAYERS

in the

COUNTY OF BEAVER

— NO. 9 —

There appears to be some misunderstanding in regards to By-Laws nos. 267 & 268. These by-laws provide for installation of water and sewage system in the Hamlet of Bruce and will be voted on on Saturday, December 16, 1967.

Sufficient home owners to the Hamlet of Bruce have indicated that they wish to have water and sewer facilities supplied. The monthly charges, that have been set up for these services, is an amount to take care of the yearly debenture payments. Only if the number of home owners, that have now indicated that they would like this service, should be reduced the general revenue of the County would have to pay the difference between the debenture payment and the amount collected from the Hamlet of Bruce.

Under the present circumstances it appears that the system would be self liquidating. It is hoped that the above explains the matter. However, should anyone wish further information, the undersigned will endeavour to supply this.

OLOF MONSSON,
Secretary-Treasurer.

PM resigns

In a surprise announcement about 11:00 a.m. Mountain Time this morning, Prime Minister Pearson announced his resignation.

Mr. Pearson declared that he would continue in office until a new leader could be elected by the party, presumably in the spring. It is felt by informed observers this would give the new leader a few months in office to gain experience, either before he chose to go to the polls in an election, or is forced by the opposition to do so.

Mr. Pearson, who is 70, stated he has for some time planned to resign before the end of 1967, to give his successor this opportunity. Both the president and past president of the Edmonton Liberal Association indicated the announcement came as no surprise.

More than a dozen senior Liberal members are considered to be in the running for the leadership, with possible outside contenders as well. No date has been mentioned for a convention, but Mr. Pearson has said he definitely will not declare his own support for any candidate.

The regular meeting of the Tofield 4-H Beef Club was held on December 9th at the Meeting Room. The meeting began with David Francis leading the members in the 4-H Pledge. Roll call was answered with "What I plan to do during the Christmas holidays." Members also gave feed reports and heartgirth of calf.

Plans were made to hold a judging competition on December 28th beginning at 1:30 at the farm of Andy Holberg.

As a social event, the club is planning to hold a whist drive on January 20th, everyone welcome. More details will be available at a later date.

The 4-H members are collecting bottles and will gladly pick up any you might wish to get rid of.

To conclude the meeting, Junior leaders Terry Moore and Marilyn Schacher organized the members into discussion groups, with assigned topics. After the group reports, a very lively discussion followed on the topics ranging from "Is Christmas becoming too commercialized" to "Are parents old-fashioned?"

Royal birthday

One of the privileges of royalty is that everyone must and should pay homage to those possessing titles, especially those who wear the crown with honor and dignity.

Thus, last week The Mercury failed to pay homage to a queen, who is royalty in every sense of the word. Queen Bess of Holden, who was honored by her fellow citizens by being selected to serve as Centennial Queen during Canada's Centennial Year, observed her 75th birthday on the first of this month and we failed to wish her a 'happy birthday'.

Queen Bess is a lady who has done much for her church and community down through the years, and because of her years of service, her kindness and generosity, her thoughtfulness and concern for others, has won her the hearts of her fellow citizens in Holden. Belatedly then, Queen Bess, may we extend to you the wish that you shall have many more birthdays in the future, and may your crown of success in all ventures continue to shine as an example for others to follow.

Dangerous drivers

It is that time of year again when our highways and byways become treacherous to travel on, and all drivers must take more than the usual amount of precautions to prevent needless and wasteful accidents.

The large number of accidents that occur under ordinary circumstances should make us even more aware of the fact that danger increases as visibility and road conditions deteriorate. Accidents that are sometimes preventable or averted under normal circumstances are often unavoidable in the winter months, so that extra care must be taken.

But, extra care by some will not stop accidents from happening. The new legislation calling for compulsory car checks in 1968 will eliminate a lot of poorly equipped cars from our highways but, unfortunately will not eliminate the 'poor' drivers, who are the continuous risk that lurks around every curve and bend along the road, and sometime soon, our government must and should take the necessary steps to see that this type of driver is eliminated for keeps.

Liquor plays a big part in a number of road accidents, and the penalties for drinking drivers is not stiff enough. A small fine and loss of a license for a short period of time is not a strong enough deterrent. Either the courts are too easy, or the punishments prescribed by law are too lenient.

The driver with defective vision or a serious heart condition, or other ailments that could impair his ability should also be eliminated. Lastly, but not least, the 'poor driver'. That is to say, the driver who just hasn't got the ability to operate a motor vehicle properly should also be kept off our highways. Compulsory driving tests every few years would weed these drivers out rather quickly.

Centennial almost gone

Only seventeen more days remain in Canada's Centennial Year and some people are making plans to close out 1967 with the same type of fanfare that brought the year into being. And this is an excellent idea.

It would be a bit of a shame to let [illegible] die an almost unnoticeable death. It has been a memorable year and should be brought to a fitting climax.

Nor, at the same time should we neglect thoughts of 1968. Should it be a repeat of 1867 starting Canada off on its second century with a flourish of trumpets heard around the world, or should we sneak quietly into the new year and wait another one hundred years before having another big cross-country party? Only you the people can answer.

Farmer's wife in mink?

The past week we've heard three speakers all dealing with the same subject and all most interesting, as they talked about various phases of agriculture. First was Western Stock Growers president Frank Gattey followed by Farmer's Union president Paul Babey with Canadian Minister of Agriculture Hon. J. J. Greene winding up the trio although all were on different occasions.

Mr. Gattey for instance quoted one economist [illegible] that on a cost accounting basis [illegible] the overall [illegible] machinery [illegible] and so on, a farmer would [illegible] $1,000 [illegible] the farm [illegible] Mr. Greene [illegible]

Mr. Greene pointed out whereas the Canadian consumer eight years ago spent 27% of his income on food he now spends only 20% on this item. Consumption hasn't gone down. Mr. Greene pointed out which means the farmer is getting less and less for his production. The only reason the farmer has been able to stay in business [illegible] is that farm [illegible] has increased ever since the war at an average rate twice that of industry [illegible]

And Mr. Babey [illegible] farmers [illegible] operation.

Touring Norway

Holden, Alberta,
December [illegible], 1967.

Dear Sir:

Many friends are asking me if I was abroad this summer also. So I feel I should take this means of describing several highlights of my [illegible] visit to Norway.

My nephew, Kjell Bjelland, met me at Fornebu Airport in Oslo. We drove in his car the [illegible] miles south of the old town of Tonsberg, where he resides. I spent some time in and around Tonsberg visiting relatives and friends. Then I crossed over to Moss, on the east side of the Oslo fjord, and spent some time with Abrahamsen, Christ Flesberg and others. Also made my usual visits to agricultural colleges and factories — the Osbjorn Huseby freezer and cooler factory at Ski.

One interesting event was meeting Sherman Forre from Nelson, a native of the Holden district, now an inspector for the Royal Bank there. He was in Norway on a vacation. We had breakfast together at the home of Mrs. Emma [illegible] in Oslo, a former Holden resident.

My niece, Hedvig Broen of Tonsberg, and I spent a week in Trondheim visiting friends. We spent several days with Ole Lund, a pioneer when in Canada.

I didn't have time to call on the King of Norway nor Mr. Borten, the Prime Minister, as formerly but will try to do so on my next visit.

Also this fall, the first part of October, I visited Expo with a group from Edmonton and district. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad [illegible] and Mr. and Mrs. Alf Lobred. We were there for Edmonton Day. It was a real adventure, and the pavilions were beautiful sights.

Royal birthday

One of the privileges of royalty is that everyone must and should pay homage to those possessing titles, especially those who wear the crown with honor and dignity.

Thus, last week The Mercury failed to pay homage to a queen, who is royalty in every sense of the word. Queen Bess of Holden, who was honored by her fellow citizens by being selected to serve as Centennial Queen during Canada's Centennial Year, observed her 75th birthday on the first of this month and we failed to wish her a 'happy birthday'.

Queen Bess is a lady who has done much for her church and community down through the years and because of her years of service, her kindness and generosity, her thoughtfulness and concern for others, has won her the hearts of her fellow citizens in Holden. Belatedly then, Queen Bess, may we extend to you the wish that you shall have many more birthdays in the future and may your crown of success in all ventures continue to shine as an example for others to follow.

Dangerous drivers

It is that time of year again when our highways and byways become treacherous to travel on, and all drivers must take more than the usual amount of precautions to prevent needless and wasteful accidents.

The large number of accidents that occur under ordinary circumstances should make us even more aware of the fact that danger increases as visibility and road conditions deteriorate. Accidents that are sometimes prevented or averted under normal circumstances are often unavoidable in the winter months so that extra care must be taken.

But, extra care by some will not stop accidents from happening. The new legislation calling for compulsory car checks in 1968 will eliminate a lot of poorly equipped cars from our highways but, unfortunately will not eliminate the 'poor' drivers, who are the continuous risk that lurks around every curve and bend along the road, and sometime soon, our government must and should take the necessary steps to see that this type of driver is eliminated for keeps.

Liquor plays a big part in a number of road accidents, and the penalties for drinking drivers is not stiff enough. A small fine and loss of a license for a short period of time is not a strong enough deterrent. Either the courts are too easy, or the punishments prescribed by law are too lenient.

The driver with defective vision or a serious heart condition, or other ailments that could impair his ability should also be eliminated. Lastly, but not least, the 'poor driver'. That is to say, the driver who just hasn't got the ability to operate a motor vehicle properly should also be kept off our highways. Compulsory driving tests every few years would weed these drivers out rather quickly.

Centennial almost gone

Only seventeen more days remain in Canada's Centennial Year, and some people are making plans to close out 1967 with the same type of fanfare that brought the year into being. And this is an excellent idea.

It would be a bit of a shame to let 1967 die an almost unnoticeable death. It has been a memorable year and should be brought to a fitting climax.

Nor, at the same time should we neglect thoughts of 1968. Should it be a repeat of 1967 starting Canada off on its second century with a flourish of trumpets heard around the world, or should we sneak quietly into the new year, and wait another one hundred years before having another big cross-country party? Only you the people can answer.

Farmer's wife in mink?

The past week we've heard three speakers all dealing with the same subject, and all most interesting, as they talked about various phases of agriculture. First was Western Stock Growers president Frank Gattey, followed by Farmer's Union president Paul Babey, with Canadian Minister of Agriculture Hon. J. J. Greene winding up the trio, although all were on different occasions.

Mr. Gattey for instance quoted one economist to say that on a cost accounting basis figuring in the investment in land, machinery, equipment, training and so on, a farmer should make $1,000 on every cow born on his farm. "If that day ever comes," chuckled Mr. Gattey, "farmers will be driving Cadillacs and their wives will be wearing mink."

Mr. Greene pointed out whereas the Canadian consumer eight years ago spent 27% of his income on food he now spends only 20% on this item. Consumption hasn't gone down, Mr. Greene pointed out, which means the farmer is getting less and less for his production. The only reason the farmer has been able to stay in business he declared is that farm productivity has increased ever since the war at an average rate twice that of industry generally.

And Mr. Babey tried to tie the two points of view together by suggesting farmers will only get something like the share of the economy they should get when they decide to take corporate action to establish equitable prices for farm products. Unified action of this nature suggested Mr. Babey would ensure a more reasonable return on the huge investment required of farmers yet still force them to be businesslike and efficient in their operation.

Tofield girls unbeaten winning three straight

The Tofield High School basketball teams travelled to Viking for league contests on Friday evening.

The girls, who were involved in a rough contest, were paced to a 23-16 victory on the excellent passing of Marjorie Moore and the strong rebounding of Cherie Astley.

Marjorie and Cherie also led the scoring parade with 12 and 11 points, respectively.

The boys opened an early lead but were hard-pressed towards the end of the game. The final score was 30-28.

Duane Stauffer worked the backboards well against the tall, tough Viking boys. Ron Foshaug used his speed and drive to constantly intercept passes and set up scoring plays.

Foshaug and [illegible] led the scoring with 12 points each.

This Friday, Viking will provide the competition for parent-appreciation night. Main attraction of the evening, though, will be the auctioning of the girls' team members, coach and referees. Mr. Irwin, [illegible] as the commercial instructor, will act as auctioneer.

Sales will take place at half time, between games, and at the end of the final contest.

TO THE RATEPAYERS in the COUNTY OF BEAVER — NO. 9 —

There appears to be some misunderstanding in regards to By-Laws nos. 247 & 248. These by-laws provide for installation of water and sewage system in the Hamlet of Bruce and will be voted on on Saturday, December 16, 1967.

Sufficient home owners in the Hamlet of Bruce have indicated that they wish to have water and sewer facilities supplied. The monthly charges that have been set up for these services, in an amount to take care of the yearly debenture payments. Only if the number of home owners that have now indicated that they would like this service should be reduced the general revenue of the County would have to pay the difference between the debenture payment and the amount collected from the Hamlet of Bruce.

Under the present circumstances it appears that the system would be self liquidating. It is hoped that the above explains the matter. However should anyone wish further information, the undersigned will endeavour to supply this.

OLOF MONSSON
Secretary-Treasurer.

Another Alberta Junior Citizen of the Centennial Year!

DEAN WOLFE, Beiseker

On June 5, quick-thinking Dean Wolfe, aged 10, saved his brother Gary's life. 5 year old Gary fell and was run over by the rear wheel of a tractor. His chest and stomach were crushed. When his mother moved him from under the tractor he appeared unconscious with no sign of breathing. Dean immediately gave Gary mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Soon Gary was breathing and crying. He was alive! His rescuer, Dean, has been a Cub Scout for three years.

We congratulate Dean Wolfe and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active participation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to George Wheeler, Editor of the Acme Sentinel and to Dean's nominator, E. M. Hagel of Beiseker.

Premier's message . . .

PREMIER E. C. MANNING

Premier's message on the occasion of the lighting of the Legislative Christmas tree and launching of the "Help A Child" campaign.

Centennial projects all across Canada have made Canadians familiar with the history, geography and resources of their country, and the industry achievements and culture of its people. These projects have served to [illegible]ince Canad[illegible] that they have much to be thankful for, and that Canada is indeed a most fortunate land in which to live.

The "Help A Child" campaign, the last major project of the Centennial year, will provide an opportunity for Canadians to express their gratitude and to show their compassion for those in need. The campaign is an appeal to the youth of Canada, as we approach the end of this year of our national celebrations, to help children anywhere in the world where famine, disease, poverty and war have made the maintenance of even the barest existence literally a life-or-death struggle.

I appeal especially to you, the young people of Alberta. Already your enthusiasm for the Centennial has made me, and all Albertans, very proud of you. Now I am asking you to support, with the same enthusiasm, this campaign to mark the conclusion of this great Centennial year.

As the lights go on, on our huge Christmas tree in front of the Legislative Building in Edmonton - as they are lighted by the Prime Minister in Ottawa tonight - and as they are turned on in your home and on your street - consider how very fortunate you are to be able to celebrate the Birth of Christ in the warmth and happiness of a comfortable home, surrounded by love and care. Consider those children who are orphans, homeless, sick and starving - many of them suffering the ravages of war. Even the smallest contribution will go a long way towards making their lives easier. Or, if you prefer, there are many children in Canada who require assistance also. It is your privilege to "Help A Child" in whatever manner, or wherever in the world you prefer.

Your schools have been provided with the details of how you can help - and I know that we can count on you. You will enjoy a happier Christmas, knowing that you have entered into the true spirit - giving to help others.

Herman and Ruby Atema together with their family spent the weekend of December 8 to 10 in Edmonton attending a convention of Jehovah's Witnesses held at the Sales Pavilion Annex.

According to Herman, the conference was well attended. A peak attendance was reached on Sunday afternoon at the public discourse when John F. MacPherson from Toronto spoke to an audience of 1,033 on the subject, "Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?"

Mr. MacPherson is a representative of the Watch Tower Society and serves as a district director in Western Canada.

The number of ordained ministers increased by two during the convention when these symbolized their dedication by water baptism on Saturday afternoon.

Joni Brewster was still in Grade One when she was struck with vaccination encephalitis. Instead of giving up, the courageous youngster relearned the normal skills she had lost — speaking, walking, writing. Today, 10-year-old Joni pushes her wheelchair at school, using it for support instead of sitting in it. Despite her handicap, her happy outlook on life sets a fine example to all those around her.

We congratulate Joni Brewster and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active participation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

FARMERS HAVE THE GOAT!

The curling club grudge game last Saturday between Town and Country was a real success. The Goat put up for competition last year and held by the Town rinks, is now in the hands of the Country curlers and Bob Wylie says it will be fed this season, and not starved as it was in Tofield! Curling for turkeys provided a lot of fun, and numerous people came away rewarded for the cause of, or lack of cause of direction when blindfolded.

Matters for attention were bar insurance, license, rules, and opening in general, also painting the bus with Lion colors. The club decided that groups would have the use of the bus under certain circumstances. Arrangements were made for area meetings, Ski-doo races, in either late January or early February. The skating rink is to be operated free of charge, with the CGIT offering to supervise the rink on Wednesday evening of each week, and the offer was accepted. All requirements for operating the bus have not yet been met.

Everyone is singing

Over 600 people gathered in the Tofield Community Center last week for the annual presentation of the "Festival of Christmas Carols". Here a portion of the huge crowd are shown as they join in singing one of the favorite carols. —The Mercury Newsphoto.

A Christmas message from the Lieut.-Gov.

As the rich experience of Centennial Year comes to a close, I extend the Season's richest greetings to all the people of Alberta as we expand. My thoughts turn to citizens in our villages, towns and cities and to those who make homes on farms and ranches; to those who are part of our vast Northland, to those who travel, to those who must work to maintain public services on the holidays and to those who may be confined to sick beds or are restricted in any way.

Canadians have great reason for gratitude and they have reason for confidence. Nature has been generous and citizens have the opportunity to enjoy the fruits of resources which surpass those of any other people. These resources have been entrusted to our care and it should be one of our highest purposes to see that they are managed wisely to serve our people through many generations.

And while it is a time for serious thought, it is also a time for good cheer. It is to be hoped that families can be together as they should be, and that family gatherings will be happy events with everybody enjoying good health and big appetites.

The people of Alberta have been particularly fortunate, but as they think beyond their own province they will, at this Season, hope for understanding and unity for the Nation, and peace and good will throughout the world.

GRANT MacEWAN,
Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta.

Used stamps aid missions

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

Mrs. Campbell received a post card last Thursday from the Leprosy Mission in Toronto thanking the ladies of the Pioneer and Friendship Groups for the parcel of used postage stamps they recently sent. In 1965 the sum of almost $2,000 was received from the sale of stamps, and at the end of the first nine months of 1967 the sum of $2,000 had been realized, with further parcels of stamps being received every day.

The Groups are still collecting used stamps for this worthwhile cause and they can be given to any of the ladies, Mrs. Campbell or left with Mrs. Taylor at the Village office.

Sea Fever

I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the seagulls crying.
I must down to the seas again to the vagrant gypsy life
To the gull's way and the whale's way where the wind's like a whetted knife
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow rover
And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.

Alberta's 10 major utilities generating $100 million plus

(The Financial Post)

Electric power is now a $100 million-plus business in Alberta, with the province's 10 major utilities—eight of them generating operations—reporting an average production and sales growth rate of nearly 12 per cent per year.

The utilities and their present status:

Calgary Power Ltd. (CPL). The company has a present generating capacity of 988,000 kw. It owns and operates 12 hydro plants having a combined capacity of 600,000 kw, and a steam electric plant of 388,000 kw. Eleven of the hydro plants, with a capacity of 325,000 kw, are located on the Bow River and its tributaries, and one, with a capacity of 265,000 kw, is located on the Brazeau River. This hydro system, made up of 34 generating units, is operated by remote control from a central centre near Banff.

The steam electric plant is located on the north side of Lake Wabamun, 40 miles west of Edmonton. It now has four units—two of 66,000 kw, one of 147,000 kw; and a fourth of 300,000 kw in the process of being commissioned. Upon the fourth unit being commissioned late this year, the company's total generating capacity will be 1,240,000 kw.

During the current year, according to FP projections, the company will have sales of about 3,600 million kwhr, vs 3,200 million kwh. in 1966. Company revenue from sale of power should amount to approximately $40 million, up more than 5 per cent from 1966's $38 million.

Another Alberta Junior Citizen of the Centennial Year!

WANDA KREBS, Didsbury

Wanda Krebs, aged 14, helped her father to manage their home and six younger brothers and sisters when her mother was hospitalized. Wanda cooked, washed, kept house and looked after the family while attending school. For much of this time, Mr. Krebs was at the hospital, so the load of work fell to Wanda. She looked after three milking machines and a bulk tank and sometimes milked the cows too. Wanda also continued to sew clothes for herself as a Home Economics project. She is a third place winner in the 4-H Beef Achievement Day.

We congratulate Wanda Krebs and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active participation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

Sea Fever

I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the seagulls crying.
I must down to the seas again to the vagrant gypsy life
To the gull's way and the whale's way where the wind's like a whetted knife;
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover
And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.

Height and high I.Q. said to go together

OSLO Norway (WMNS) In Norway, as in many other Western countries, youngsters seem to be growing taller. And in Norway, according to a recent report, the intelligence quotient tends to be higher in taller children.

In general, the Norwegian report, based on a long-term study of thousands of Army recruits shows height varies inversely with family size, with the tallest people coming from families with two children.

Height was also found to vary according to living conditions, social status, and residence. "The social and nutritional factors that tend to produce taller children also tend to produce children of higher intelligence," the report noted.

A recent World Health Organization study showed that nutritional deficiencies affect not only physical function, but actual intelligence.

Joyous Greetings

Our wish for you: that you and your loved ones may find the peace, hope and abiding love of that first Christmas filling your hearts and your home throughout the joyous holiday season.

Alberta's 10 major utilities generating $100 million plus

(The Financial Post)

Electric power is now a $100 million-plus business in Alberta, with the province's 10 major utilities—eight of them generating operations—reporting an average production and sales growth rate of nearly 12 per cent per year.

The utilities and their present status:

Calgary Power Ltd. (CPL). The company has a present generating capacity of 983,000 kw. It owns and operates 12 hydro plants having a combined capacity of 680,000 kw, and a steam electric plant of 203,000 kw. Eleven of the hydro plants, with a capacity of 325,000 kw, are located on the Bow River and its tributaries, and one, with a capacity of 355,000 kw, is located on the Brazeau River. This hydro system, made up of 34 generating units, is operated by remote control from a control centre near Banff.

The steam electric plant is located on the north side of Lake Wabamun, 40 miles west of Edmonton. It now has four units—two of 68,000 kw, one of 147,000 kw, and a fourth of 300,000 kw in the process of being commissioned. Upon the fourth unit being commissioned late this year, the company's total generating capacity will be 1,340,000 kw.

During the current year, according to FP projections, the company will have sales of about 3,600 million kwhr, vs 3,280 million kwhr in 1966. Company revenue from sale of power should amount to approximately $40 million, up more than 8 per cent from 1966's $38 million.

By the end of 1967, Calgary Power will have 135,000 customers (compared with 133,517 at the end of 1966) divided this way: domestic, 109,400 (107862 in 1966); general service, 18,100 (17,900); and industrial, 7,400 (7,537).

Q. When a bride's parents are divorced, how are they seated at the wedding in the church?

A. Her mother chooses members of her family to sit with her in the first pew, and other members of her family may be seated in the second pew. If the father is giving his daughter away, he escorts her down the aisle, stepping back into the third pew behind the one in which his former wife is sitting. He will have indicated those of his family he wishes to be seated with him.

Q. What should an usher at a church wedding do when several women guests arrive in a group, and the other ushers are already occupied?

A. If one of the women is obviously older than the others, he offers his arm to her, and the others follow them to appropriate seats. Otherwise, he offers his arm to the woman who happens to be nearest to him, and they proceed in the same manner.

Q. I'm a girl about to be married for the first time, but my fiance is a widower. I have heard that a second marriage must always be a simple, informal ceremony. Is this true?

A. No. The man's status has nothing to do with it. If the bride has not been previously married, she may plan her wedding on any scale she desires.

Q. How does one properly introduce one's stepfather?

A. Introduce him as "my stepfather," and be sure of course to mention his name (which is different from yours), as, "Mr. Brady."

May the good cheer of Christmas brighten every home, lighten every heart. Especially, may you and yours have a wonderful holiday.

Steamship travel is still 'in'

In spite of the tremendous growth of airline traffic to and from Europe, passengers still have the choice of a good number of first-class steamship liners, plying to the charming "Old Country".

Canadians may have to hurry, however, to benefit from somewhat lower fares which are in effect for sailings from Montreal (in comparison to New York). For example, Cunard Line until today number One on the Atlantic, has withdrawn its three ships from Canada for 1968: the "CARINTHIA, "CARONIA" and SYLVANIA" are all being sold next year, which means curtailment of the entire Montreal-Europe sailing schedule, of the Cunard Line.

You need not despair yet because Cunard still sails from New York to Cobh (Ireland), Le Havre and Southampton. Travelling via New York does involve some extra railfare for connecting passengers, but offers better services in ships of greater tonnage. And, of course, in a year or so you may sample a trip on the presently-built Q4, christened "QUEEN ELIZABETH II" just a few months ago.

From Montreal one has still the well-established Canadian Pacific Steamship Line to travel with, on her "EMPRESS OF CANADA" and "EMPRESS OF ENGLAND". Twenty-five sailings are operated like clockwork each way during 1968, to and from Greenock and Liverpool.

During 1968 the Holland-America Line again is back to its regular schedule of nine sailings each way, between Montreal and Southampton, Le Havre and Rotterdam. Especially interesting to prospective passengers here is the fact that tipping on the Holland-America Line will be abolished beginning next year. Tipping has long been somewhat of a sore spot with travellers and you may now look forward to a more pleasant ending of your sea voyage.

For passengers who are always looking for a change, or who desire a more exotic way of travel among "foreigners", there's the Russian vessel "ALEXANDER PUSHKIN" of the Baltic Steamship Company. The "Pushkin" sailings are between Montreal and London, Bremerhaven, Helsinki, and Leningrad.

Of special interest to Edmontonians is the fact that some sailings, although leaving during the morning hours, permit embarkation on the previous evening, thereby avoiding the need to arrange hotel accommodations in Montreal.

Just think, for a mere $10 a day more than the cost of a regular airline ticket you get a big comfortable stateroom (cabin), 24 hours service, four lavish meals, virtually unlimited baggage allowance, the latest movies, turkish bath, a gymnasium; you can dance nightly or take dancing lessons, rub shoulders with an interesting cosmopolitan crowd, swim in or outdoors, listen to concerts, etc. The steamship lines go all out in making you a satisfied traveller, one who recommends its service.

Representatives of all these steamship lines in Edmonton are Butte Travel Service at 8165 - 112 Avenue.

Modern etiquette

Q. Is it proper to speak an inquiring "Yes," instead of "Hello," when answering the telephone?

A. Although "Hello" is the more widely accepted manner of answering the phone, there is nothing wrong with saying "Yes?" The most important thing is a pleasant, friendly manner of voice.

Q. How does a dinner guest know the proper moment at which he opens his napkin and places it on his lap?

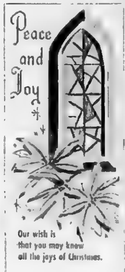
A. Properly, he waits until his hostess takes up her napkin.

Q. When sitting at the bar in a cocktail lounge, is one supposed to tip the bar man?

A. While not exactly necessary, it still seems to be expected in some places . . . especially when one's change is returned in a small tray.

Q. Should candy be offered to guests in its box, or in a special dish?

A. It's all right to offer candy in a box to guests in the living room . . . but at the dinner table it should be served in a dish.



Our wish is that you may know all the joys of Christmas.

The amazing prairie grain crop of 1967

As if to share in the Centennial celebrations of 1967, Mother Nature provided the Prairie farmer with an unexpectedly large crop despite the record drought of this year. The most frequently voiced comment by farmers and crop reporters from all three Prairie Provinces in describing this year's crop was: "It's amazing! The crop yields are unbelievable, considering the small amount of rainfall we've had all summer!"

There must be some very good reasons why this unexpectedly good crop was produced. What are they? What can we learn from our experiences in 1967 that will help more farmers to produce the kind of crops they are capable of growing?

Before we look at what the farmer has done we must acknowledge the importance of the above average soil moisture reserves from the previous fall precipitation. Along with this is the fact that the moisture which was received during the growing season fell at the most opportune time. It is not necessarily the amount of rainfall which is received during the growing season but the timeliness of the rain. Numerous reports have been received of farmers harvesting an average crop with less than 2 inches of moisture all summer, but the rain that fell came in amounts that did some good and came at the right time.

As for the farmer's contribution to the success of the 1967 crop, it is simply a matter of him using BETTER FARMING PRACTICES. Included in this are such things as:

1. Good seedbed preparation
2. Timeliness of seeding
3. Increased use of new, high yielding varieties.
4. Effective weed control
5. Fertilizers

If the above were listed in order of their importance, probably fertilizers would fall in first place. The preponderance of such new varieties as Manitou Wheat and Conquest Barley would also place very high on the list. Both of these would have been of no avail if weeds had not been controlled. We soon see the impossibility of separating these factors and crediting any one with being the most important single factor in producing a good crop.

New church at Bardo dedicated recently

The new Bardo Evangelical Lutheran Church in Tofield was formally dedicated with special ceremonies recently with an overflow crowd of people in attendance.

The ceremonies opened with a special service conducted by Pastor Gordon Hendrickson of Lomond, a former Tofield resident, which was followed by a cornerstone laying ceremony conducted by Dr. S. T. Jacobson, vice-president of the ELCC, from Saskatoon, assisted by Lester Severson, president of the Tofield congregation.

Placed in the cornerstone were a Norwegian Bible History from the cornerstone of the former church, a copy of the New Testament, a booklet of the 70th Anniversary held in 1965, a booklet containing the Dedication Services, a copy The Shepherd (the church paper), a list of the members of the congregation as of November 15, 1967, and the two latest copies of The Tofield Mercury.

The new church had become a necessity when the old structure had been struck by lightning and burned to the ground on August 25, 1965. Since then, services had been held in the Bardo Community Centre.

Then, in September 1966, the congregation decided that a new church was of prime importance and went to work making arrangements and plans for its erection. A ground-breaking ceremony was held on May 28 of this year, and actual construction began June 12.

The new church measures 70' by 34', and is of arch rib construction with a brick front and stucco on the sides. A large auditorium is contained in the basement, along with a kitchen, rest rooms and a classroom.

To one and all, we extend our greetings for a holiday filled with joy and merriment.

GARNET BURNSTAD, Sec.-Treas.

Solve-a-crime

By A. C. Gordon

You Are The Detective

In response to an anonymous telephone call, you and Sheriff Sam Starr have driven to the secluded little farmhouse where, sprawled face-down on the kitchen floor is the body of Jacob Cobb, a huge carving knife protruding from his back.

After ascertaining that the farmer is dead and has been for at least two hours, you gaze about the kitchen. Evidently the victim had been in the process of preparing his breakfast this morning, for you see several strips of bacon lying uncooked in the frying pan on the neat little stove, four unbroken eggs on the table next to five slices of bread. An uncapped jar of strawberry preserves on the table completes the picture of the uncompleted meal.

Hearing footsteps outside to the rear of the house, you and Sheriff Starr quickly walk out to confront a tall thin unshaven middle-aged man who is walking toward the barn. "Who are you?" you ask.

"Me? Jim Scroggins. I work here. Live a mile down the road. Just got here. Kinda late today. Who are you?" The man evidently believes in short sentences.

"Never mind who we are," Sheriff Starr replies. "Your employer, Jacob Cobb, is dead, murdered. Do you know anything about it?"

"Jake . . . dead? Who could've? Say, what do ya mean? I don't know nothing! Not me! I didn't stick him."

You and Sheriff Sam Starr conduct the man into the kitchen where he stops short at the sight of the victim's body.

Just [illegible] mutters [illegible] was a hard [illegible] to work for [illegible] with too [illegible] like him. But I didn't do it. You saw me coming."

"Oh yes," you agree. "W[illegible] you coming — but I think it was the second time you came. I suspect you were here earlier this morning and murdered your employer!"

Why do you suspect [illegible]

SOLUTION

Your suspicions spring from one of Jim Scroggins' terse statements — "I didn't stick him." How could he have known that Jacob Cobb's death was the result of a stabbing?

Tofield whips Viking in County league play

Tofield basketball teams chalked up two more victories on Friday.

Playing Viking, the girls had a very successful game. The score ended 45 - 16, with nine Tofield girls contributing in the scoring.

The boys also played a very good game. The final score was 48-34. Duane Stauffer, who played his last game in Tofield, was excellent on his rebounding.

The slave auction held Friday night was a great success. The girls' team coach Eastlick and referees Rucks and Ferguson brought in $122.50, which will be a great help towards buying the girls new uniforms.

Senior citizens eat six tons of meat in a lifetime

The average person who lives to be 70 will have eaten nearly 6 tons of meat, fish and poultry, according to a Meat Packers Council report in Food in Canada.

The fact was compiled by a university scientist who also stated that the same person will have consumed 7 tons of grain, 4 1-2 tons of potatoes, 4 tons of sugar, and an incredible 18.2 tons of vegetables, fruits, nuts, and berries. The food intake of the average 70-year-old person will also have included 4,500 lbs. of tea, coffee, or chocolate; 2,100 dozen eggs; and 17,500 quarts of milk. Different people take different lengths of time to eat their 70-year quota. If you eat it all in 55 years, you will be a roly poly butter ball; if it takes 65 years, you will be pleasantly plump, if it takes 75 years, you will be the slender type.

Holden wins twice in games with Ryley

Holden teams swept two games from Ryley on Friday, in Holden, to tighten up the race in the boys' division and move the girls into a second place tie with the Ryley team in the girls' division.

The Holden girls won their game 30-26, while the Holden boys came out on top by a score of 49-30. No statistics on the game had been forwarded to The Mercury.

Beauty in the lab

Chemistry is an interesting subject in its own right, but, it becomes even more interesting from a boy's point of view when three of your class-mates took it like this. If you need proof, ask the boys at Holden School. Unfortunately, the names got lost in the shuffle and the girls can't be identified. But they are from Holden and attend Holden School.

BE BRAVE

After 1967, what?

There seems to be a let-down after 1967, which, of course, is natural. After all, we only celebrate a Centennial year once in a hundred years. But, before the let-down takes over completely, some ideas and plans to get our second century started off on the right food should be made.

Most communities had Centennial projects, some merely for adornment, but others that would benefit their communities for many years to come. These ideas and plans should not be forgotten now that Centennial Year has passed. Start the second century off with constructive plans to improve your community so that the wheels of progress may never be stilled.

But, while progress should not be curtailed, neither should the lighter side of life be ignored. Today, with the life of strain and tension that exists in the modern world, laughter and fun should be made available to us all. Last year's big day of fun came on July 1st, and was such a huge success, that it should be repeated again this year. Mistakes were made last year, but they can be corrected and this year's July 1st could be a bigger and better celebration.

Some communities, notable in this area was Tofield and Holden, elected Centennial Queens, and in both cases ignored the usual procedure and did not elect younger ladies to the throne. We have met both Queens, and can honestly say it was both a pleasure and an honor.

These communities got a great deal of publicity and practical use from their royalty, and should give considerable attention to naming persons to nobility again this year. Call them second century queens, or what you will, but, they do serve a purpose, and should be named, and before the year gets too much older.

Sales tax?

One cannot help but wonder what the cost of living would be if all taxes were to be removed. There are so many different taxes that no matter how many you listed, you are bound to have missed at least one, probably more than one. And now, it looks as if we in Alberta are soon to have another bite taken out of our earnings.

A sales tax may become necessary to help the provincial government balance the budget. Of all taxes that could be levied, a sales tax has to be one of the most unpopular taxes levied in any province in Canada because it hits everyone and does not discriminate as to a person's income. The poor as well as the rich suffer when a sales tax comes into effect.

Such a tax in a province with the wealth and potential wealth of a province such as Alberta, if levied, should be a black mark in the books against the present administration. Certainly new citizens to the province, as well as the rest of Canada are astounded that Alberta is even considering such a move. But, before jumping on the government too hard, we'll wait and see if they impose such a burden on the people of this province.

Effective January 1, 1968, all mobile equipment coming within the definitions quoted below is again subject to licensing, if such equipment is operated anywhere within the Province except in Cities or National Parks.

Inspectors are constantly in the field checking all such mobile equipment. Practice of issuing warning tickets will be discontinued and any violation of the Act will be concluded in court proceedings. Provision is made for the imposition of a fine and possible impoundment of equipment where a violation of the Act occurs.

  - (a) seismographic recording equipment and all appurtenances thereto,
  - (b) conductor cables and cable reels, geophones, amplifiers and cameras,
  - (c) explosive and detonating equipment,
  - (d) drilling units and all the component parts and appurtenances thereof, and
  - (e) water tanks and pumping equipment, but
- (III) does not include
  - (a) vehicles licensed under The Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act, or The Public Service Vehicles Act, exclusive of mounted equipment on such vehicles, and
  - (b) equipment, other than vehicle mounted equipment, used to drill a gas or oil well;

(e) "municipality" means a town, village, municipal district, county, improvement district, special area, metis improvement district or forest reserve.

(f) "owner" includes a person renting mobile equipment or having the exclusive use thereof under a rental agreement or otherwise;

NOTE: Mobile Equipment having an original list price of less than $2,000 does not require a license under this Act.

A copy of The Mobile Equipment Licensing Act may be obtained upon payment of ten cents from the Office of the Queen's Printer, 10256 - 104 Street, Edmonton, Alberta.

Fire in Holden guts landmark

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

One of the old landmarks in Holden was almost totally destroyed when it was struck by fire about 1.45 Sunday morning. This was the homestead of old-time residents, now deceased, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lien. They had no immediate family and, on the estate being settled, Hans Huseby bought and farmed the land on the east boundary of the Village

The volunteer fire brigade fought the fire in very cold weather, under the direction of fire-chief Milton Malick, but considerable damage was done to the building with the roof and two walls caving in The side walls and a portion of the porch were left standing; the interior being completely gutted The property had been purchased from Mr. Huseby by Mrs. Bertha Chetney.

Cause of the fire is unknown, but it is thought to have possibly been from an over-heated chimney, as some fire had been left in a heater the previous evening.

Another blizzard hit the district on Thursday of last week, leaving roads blocked School buses were sent out at noon to take the children home, and by evening most of the roads were drifted in

Holden impresses in K of C bonspiel

A Holden High School curling team made a big impression in a K. of C. curling bonspiel held in Wainwright recently, as they won five out of six games

The boys lost out in their first match and were designated to the Third Event, where they won five straight games The final match was against a team from Ryley, and they won the trophies for that event

The team is coached by Joe Fronal, and consists of Terry Ogrodnick as lead, Orest Lozynsky 2nd, Bill Stambaugh 3rd, and the skip is Arden Appleby.

Unnecessary hirelings

When the Alberta legislature sits once again, one of the items that will come up for close scrutiny will be the expenses of operating the various departments of government in this province, and well it should.

Members of the government try to excuse some of their expenditures by saying that the people demand this, that and the other thing. This is really not a fair attitude. The people might like certain things, but not if it's going to be costing them more money by having a sales tax imposed and other taxes increased as well.

The government will, in defending itself, state that there is no way to cut down on what is being spent now, and also state that the line must be drawn in the future and that this line must be solid and not broken under any circumstances. While this futuristic policy is 'nice', the statement that present expenses cannot be cut has to be wrong. Present expenses can be cut, and right in government offices.

The provincial government's payroll must be terrific, and at least some of it is needless, because it includes people whose services are not needed and as a result not necessary. The provincial government should not feel too badly about making a mistake like that, because the Federal government has been making the same mistake for years. Both governments have countless persons on their payrolls who cost the taxpayers money and give little in return.

Both governments . . . and starting with the provincial body . . . should check all departments under their control and get rid of the deadwood and those personnel for whom there is simply no need. The savings effected would probably shock everyone. Granted, some might remain a burden on government, as they would collect unemployment insurance, but that's a much smaller figure than the salary they're probably collecting right now.

Inspection not compulsory

The inspection that many of us expected to be compulsory for all motor vehicles travelling on the highways of this province is not as compulsory as we all seemed to think, nor will it begin right away.

Only urban centers will have compulsory testing of vehicles, while the rural owners can test only if they wish to. And quite naturally, any owner who feels that his or her vehicle will not pass the test will not have the test.

While the present set-up may eliminate a large number of unfit vehicles from our highways, it cannot eliminate them all, and so, is not doing what it should be doing. It is only a partial step in making our highways a safe place to travel.

Mobile testing-units could be, and should be set up in different areas of the province for a definite period of time, and all vehicles in that area must be tested while the equipment is there, or be taken off the road. Half-steps are never a solution and unless the government, or any other body are prepared to take a full-step, they should not move at all.

Penalties too weak

The codes under which a person may be charged with any offense are always being discussed and changes are always being contemplated but, such changes are either slow in coming, not suitable when they do come, or just don't come at all. It is time to stop pussy-footing around and get down to brass tacks. Many of the penalties imposed for offenses are inadequate and are not a deterrent in any way, shape or form, and it is high time everyone realized this.

Just recently, a person convicted of his fifth offense for driving while impaired had his licence suspended anywhere in this country for two years and was fined five hundred dollars. Depending on his income and wealth, the fine might have been sufficient, but, there is absolutely nothing to prevent that man from becoming a dangerous menace on the road in two years' time, and that is wrong. A man convicted five times of such an offence should never be allowed to ever drive again. He has given proof conclusive that he is unwilling to change his habits, and someone should lose a lot of sleep if, when he is permitted behind the wheel again, he runs into and kills someone.

Beaver Council' notes

Following are the minutes, in part, of the regular meeting of the County of Beaver No. 9, held Thursday, Dec. 14, 1967.

Business Arising From Minutes

In regards to the Fire Protection on the County, Cr. Hoddick reported that he and Cr. Durin had together with D. A. Macdonald, sales representative for Saskatoon Fire Engine Company Limited, inspected and appraised the fire engines at Tofield, Ryley and Viking. The written report submitted by Mr. Macdonald stated that the Tofield Fire Engine had been purchased in 1962 for $10,309. Additional equipment purchased since 1962 amounted to $1,374. A total of $11,683.

Ryley Fire Engine -- purchased in 1966 for $14,225, with additional equipment bringing the price up to $17,000.

The Fire Engine at Viking was a 1958 model and, after discussion with the Fire Chief and Department of Viking, it had been suggested that $6,000 would be a fair price for this piece of equipment.

The members of the Tofield Rural Fire Protection Association had mentioned that a number of shareholders were living outside the boundaries of the County and they had wondered what could be done to continue to give these people protection if and when the County takes over.

It was suggested that, if these shareholders would retain their $50 shares, protection would be provided to them. If and when their own municipalities arranged for fire protection the share would be refunded.

It was also noted that a grant of $2,000 had been given to Tofield and Ryley and that it was proposed to give a similar grant to Viking, and it was observed that the price offered for the various pieces of equipment should be the appraised price less the $2,000 grant.

It was moved and carried that Crs. Hoddick, Kropielnicki and Durin be appointed a Committee with power to act in regards to the purchase of the fire fighting equipment at Tofield, Ryley and Viking.

The Secretary-Treasurer suggested that the initial offer could be made by letter, and it was moved and carried that the Secretary-Treasurer forward to the Tofield Rural Fire Protection Association, to the Village of Ryley and to the Town of Viking, the offers to purchase the equipment as agreed on.

In regards to the Amuh Creek Erosion and Flood Control, a letter from the Water Resources Division indicated that guard rails would be necessary along the road where there is danger of vehicles driving into the ditch. The estimated cost was in the amount of $1,320. It was also suggested that inasmuch as these rails could not be put in during the winter, warning signs should be placed where necessary.

Moved and carried that the correspondence be accepted and recommendations agreed to.

In regards to the proposed Hutterite Colony in the Holden area, Cr. Kropielnicki reported on the meeting that had been held in the Village of Holden on November 21. The opinion was that nothing could be done towards blocking the Colony from being established. If Mr. Roach Chairman of the Communal Property Control Board had attended the meeting and had referred to Premier Manning's White Paper and to the Dominion Human Rights Bill. The Hutterite were Canadian citizens and entitled to the same rights and privileges as the rest of the people in the Dominion.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

In regards to the proposed Hutterite Colony in the County of Minburn No. 27 and partly in the County of Beaver No. 9, Order in Council No. 217867 authorizing the Colony to purchase certain lands, was referred to the Council.

Moved and carried that the Order be received and filed.

Cr. Hoddick reported briefly on the Agricultural Service Board Northeastern Regional Conference held in St. Paul Legion Hall on November 22, 1967. The Conference had been fairly well attended well planned with good subjects for discussion. Particular attention had been given to the Crop Insurance Program and the role of the Advisory Committee in connection with the Agricultural Committee. It was expected that Friedman would have a written report for the next Agricultural Committee Meeting.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted.

Correspondence

A letter from the Resource Management Division, the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development, Ottawa, was referred to the Council. The letter indicated that the Department was introducing a program for the Conservation of Water Fowl Habitat on farms in the Prairie Provinces and it was hoped to solicit the co-operation of the people in the County of Beaver No. 9 early in 1968.

Moved and carried that the letter be received and filed.

Letters from the Department of Public Welfare indicating that the appointments of Olof Monsson and A. Robert Cross, as Municipal Welfare Officers, would expire on December 31, 1967, and requesting that this appointment be renewed prior to the expiry date, was referred to the Council.

Also from the Department of Public Welfare a letter advising that the Welfare Christmas Bonus would not be approved this year, was referred to the Council.

Moved that Olof Monsson and A. Robert Cross be appointed Welfare Officers for the County of Beaver No. 9 as from January 1, 1968, and that the correspondence be received and filed.

A letter from the Secretary-Treasurer of Flagstaff - Beaver Auxiliary Hospital and Nursing District No. 39 was referred to the Council. The letter advised that the term of office of J. H. Hoddick had expired on October, 31 1967. The letter advised that Mr. Hoddick could be reappointed for a further term of two years.

Moved and carried that Cr. J. H. Hoddick be reappointed to the Board of the Flagstaff - Beaver Auxiliary Hospital Nursing District No. 39 for a period of two years, as from October 31, 1967.

Editor, The Tofield Mercury.

Dear Sir,

On behalf of our Company, I would like to express our appreciation to the Council and to the members of the local Fire Department of Tofield for answering our call of distress on September 23 of last year.

We realize the inherent danger when local fire equipment is asked to respond to "out of town" calls, and the fact that your men and equipment were made available to us is another example of the spirit of co-operation that has always been shown to us by the people of your community.

Thank you once again, and may we also offer the "Compliments of the Season" to the Council and to the people of your community.

Yours very truly,

It was moved and carried that the report be accepted.

The Secretary-Treasurer referred to the action taken by the School Committee in the fall of 1966 in providing a grant of $200.00 for the privilege of free skating for the school children at Tofield, Holden, Kinsella, Bruce, Viking, Ryley. The grant in 1966 had been $100.00 but there had been some suggestion that in succeeding years a grant of $150.00 might be sufficient. It was moved and carried that the County Council be requested to pass the necessary By-Law for a grant of $150.00 to be given to the Elks Lodges at Holden and Kinsella; Bruce Skating Association; the Ryley and Tofield Lions Clubs and the Viking Canena in consideration of free skating privileges during school hours to the students at the schools.

The motion was moved and carried

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

It was moved that the resignation of Mrs Gladys Aneebo from her position of Grade 4 teacher at Ryley, effective November 24, 1967, be accepted

It was moved and carried that Mrs. Barbara Fandrick request for leave of absence from the staff of Kinsella School for the period January 1st to March 31, 1968, be approved.

It was moved and carried that the following temporary contracts be approved. Mrs. Lila C. Ash, Grade 1 and 2 teacher at Kinsella School for the period January 3rd, 1968 to March 29, 1968.

Mrs. Julie Carless, Grade 4 teacher at Ryley School for the period November 24, 1967 to June 30, 1968, be approved.

The motion was moved and carried.

It was moved and carried that the Superintendent's report on Mrs. Ann Lee and Mrs. Betty Beason be accepted.

It was moved and carried that Mrs. Ellen Byrne's request for permission to live outside Viking School District be approved.

It was moved and carried that Harold Ross and Thomas Kerr-achen of Ryley School, be authorized to use their cars in emergency use.

Census of pre-school age children had been conducted and the results were listed in the report. The tabulation seemed to indicate that by 1974 the number of pupils in grades 1 to 8 would be in the neighborhood of 800 compared with the present enrollment of 1313.

The report contained a proposal regarding purchase of supplies and equipment for schools, outlining in detail a plan whereby each school would determine its requirements under a school equipment foundation program. The objectives were to emulize opportunity between schools and to enable each school to establish Pa rorities. The School Committee would determine the maximum amount to be spent by each school. The plan met with the full approval of the School Committee.

SEMESTER PLAN

The matter of a Semester Plan in high school was referred to in the report and Mr. Bruce indicated that the Principal's Association would conduct a study of the advantages of a semester system and would be prepared to make a recommendation to the School Committee prior to the April meeting.

The report referred to possible text book rental plan for the high schools indicating that the Principal's Association plans to study the possibility of introducing a high school text book rental for September, 1968.

It was moved and carried that the School Committee goes on record as being in favor of the suggested study of text book rental plan in the high schools.

A letter from the Department of Youth, concerning Youth Travel Program, 1968, was referred to the Committee together with the Superintendent's reply The letter referred to the fact that apparently the students from Ryley had taken part in the 1967 Youth Travel Program and that now a certain amount of interest was shown from the Viking area.

Mr. Bruce in his reply had pointed out that the 1967 Youth Travel Program had involved all the students within the County and that Viking had shown no more interest in the program than any other area; he also pointed out that, in his position, the manner in which the program had been carried out in the County of Beaver was the best way in which this program could be made administered in a rural area He stated in his letter that the School Committee was in full accord with the principal of the Youth Travel Program but he was certain that consideration would not be given to any other means of operation than that, which is in effect in 1967.

It was moved and carried that the letter from the Department of Youth be received and that the Superintendent's reply concurred in.

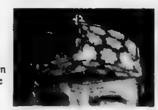
Who thinks up new wrinkles for getting rid of old ones, in slacks and sheets and fabrics of all kinds?

Nothing is perfect.
This fact has helped Dominion Textile become a leader in the Canadian textile industry.
Because it means there must be ways to improve almost every fabric.
Dominion Textile is constantly searching for these ways.



And finding quite a few of them. Slacks that keep the press in and the creases out. Sheets you never have to iron.

New and better techniques, new and better ways of doing things, new and better fabrics. From Tex-Made, the fabric people.

Queen Petra's review of 1967

QUEEN PETRA

One year ago, Mayor Dr. W. H. Freebury appointed Mrs. Petra Stauffer as Tofield's Centennial Queen. Now that her busy year, filled with duties pertaining to her royal office is over, Queen Petra has a message for the residents of Tofield and district.

She says:

"Our Centennial Year has come to a close and I want to take this opportunity to thank all my friends in Tofield and district for the support they have given me since I was appointed Centennial Queen.

Never did I think I would become a queen, but my early years were spent on a homestead in the Hardisty district where I was born of pioneer Norwegian parents in August 1936. Here I grew up, sharing in pioneer activities and amusements, working hard and playing hard. We endured severe hardships of that era, but marvelled at, and enjoyed the new inventions that came with the years — the telephone, the railroad, the automobile.

My life in my community and my church has been happy but no high point has been my year as Tofield's Centennial Queen. I never expected to be so honored. I will never forget the night when, before a packed audience, I was crowned Queen by our Mayor, Dr. Freebury, after he had escorted me to the throne of the Centennial Centre

The program, arranged by Marie Wortan in my honor, involving the entire community from kindergarten children to adults, overwhelmed me. Here I was called on for my first speech. I was very nervous. I felt like a mother or grandmother to all in the audience but in my beautiful gown made by Mabel Boyles, and my sparkling tiara presented by Dr. Freebury, I was as excited as a girl of "sweet sixteen" as I greeted loyal subjects.

Although I was thrilled and honored by my coronation, I also enjoyed the many other outstanding events of Tofield's Centennial Year at which I was privileged to be present. Early in the year, I was invited to attend the Explorers' Centennial Tea, the Grade 1 Centennial Birthday Party, the Junior High School Valentine Tea, the Town Pancake Breakfast, the U.C.W. Easter Tea, the CUIT Tea and Fashion Show, the Mother and Daughter banquets held by the Explorers and the CGIT.

I was an honored guest at the Passing Parade staged by Mrs Joan Dunham. I was also invited to the 4-H Talent Night, to the opening of Charlie's Place, and to the Bardo Community Center as a guest at their Young People's social.

The High School students invited me to their May Prom and program. I was also honored by an invitation from the Mennonite Wayfarers' Group. At the Folk Festival arranged by Ruth Kraus, I welcomed the Sons of Norway in my native Norwegian tongue.

On July 1, I was given a position of honor in the Centennial Parade and presided over Tofield's annual sports day. I participated in Round Hill's Centennial Day and, with Bill Hachechuat, Tofield's Citizen of the Year, was in Ryley's parade.

In August, I was pleased to be hostess to my friends at a coffee party at my home. I was a guest of honor at the F.C.A. banquet and at the Grade VIII Halloween function at the Tofield School. I was a guest at teas held by the Anglican and the Catholic ladies, as well as visiting in Kelsmond group of the U.C.W.

We enjoyed a wonderful evening

'67 reports underscore a busy year for League

A very successful pot-luck supper was held by the Community League on January 13 in the Community Centre. Arrangements for the supper were made by D. W. Jacobs and Reed Burchard, as for many years past. After the grace was said by Father Scriven, approximately 65 guests enjoyed the delicious repast.

In the unavoidable absence of J. C. Agricultural committee report

(By Ray Bowles)

BRUCELLOSIS VACCINATION AND BLOOD TESTING

The Fall vaccinating campaign was completed on December 22, 1967, with 4,136 calves being done on 335 farms. These figures indicate that cattlemen are supporting voluntary vaccination and are vaccinating herd replacements.

Organized was done by the Agricultural Committee at a cost of $630 12, which is somewhat less than last year Cost to the County was 13 cents per calf.

The Spring vaccinating program will be done the same as in the past. Be sure to get those applications in as soon as announced in the local papers.

Regarding the Federal Testing Program, I would like to quote from information received from Dr. W. M Norton, Veterinarian-in-charge. In January, 1968, work on herds requiring a test was commenced in order to have our County declared a Free Area for five years However, the uncovering of two infected herds near the end of the qualifying period has resulted in it only being Certified for three years, until August 1, 1970. For this phase of the program, 229 herds were exempt under B.R.T., 693 were exempt under M.C.T. and 276 herds with insufficient or no coverage were blood tested. In the three years from August 1, 1964, to July 30, 1967, 12 reactors were removed from nine infected premises under the various types of testing—Market Cow herds or Free Area tests".

The Provincial Department of Agriculture will continue to pay a grant of ten cents per calf and are encouraging us to carry on the Voluntary Vaccinating Program in order to protect all herd replacements. Further information regarding organizing will be forthcoming at a later date.

True Planting and Use of the County Tree Planter

In order to eliminate the high cost of delivering trees from the Oliver Tree Nursery we have decided in co-operation with the Nursery to have local trucks pick up all trees, and they will be distributed from Ryley and Tofield Churches with Rev. W. McDonnold officiating.

Funeral service will be held tomorrow from the United Church in Tofield, with Rev. W. H. McDonnold officiating. Interment will follow at the local cemetery.

Stop or continue

It has been suggested by some that the present Liberal government should either resign or call parliament to a halt until they decide just who their next leader will be. It is extremely doubtful if, under the present circumstances that the government would be willing to resign, but it does seem rather silly to carry on with the present administration when the members of the Cabinet are publicly voicing their opposite opinions about important pieces of legislation.

Pearson had managed to contain his members from sounding off, until he made the announcement he was resigning, and then the bubble burst. By resigning, Mr. Pearson lost all control over his cabinet ministers, and the climax came when a number of them clashed openly in Halifax over a number of issues, particularly that of medicare.

While a number of rather prominent people have declared their intentions of running for the Liberal leadership, it does not appear, at the moment, that any shall capture the interest and imagination of party representatives as did the combination of Stanfield and Roblin in the Progressive Conservative convention. Of course, there's still plenty of time for one or more of the candidates to build up a following and emerge as the hero in the race.

Right or wrong?

Many people have expressed various types of opinions and ideas regarding the recent heart transplant operations. Some have commented that it was a bold move on the part of the doctors, while others have come out strongly opposed to such operations on the grounds that it has never been successful in experiments on animals.

The doctors have been the central point of both praise and criticism in regards to these operations, and the patients' ideas and opinions rate little merit. This, we think, is wrong. If a man is dying anyway, it is only natural for him to grasp at straws, and each can hope that his will be the first such transplant to succeed.

To critcize such operations because they have never been successful on animals is not quite fair, as all doctors take an oath to try and save the lives of their patients. It may appear a trifle bold, but, if a man is dying, and nothing can be done for him, then we think any doctor willing to try a transplant is justified in attempting to save a life through performing such an operation.

The sporting world

The sports scene is starting to edge towards the playoffs, and one sport that attracts a lot of attention in this area is basketball, which will be starting its provincial playoffs about the middle of next month.

Boys' and girls' teams from Tofield, Holden, Ryley and Viking will be competing in three centers when the playoffs begin. Tofield and Holden boys and girls will be entered in 'B' playoffs in Camrose against such other centers as Camrose, Leduc, and Pigeon Lake. The Viking and Ryley girls, entered in 'C' group, will play off at Warburg, while the boys will have their tournament in Consort.

The Tofield boys are the defending zone champions, and along with Holden are expected to give a good account of themselves. The Tofield girls are already established as strong contenders for honors in the 'B' classification.

A victorious Queen

Our first contact with this gracious lady came when she visited Bethany Nursing Home and Hospital in Camrose shortly after she became Queen. Two things were really noticeable about that visit. First of all, was the excitement of the patients and staff of Bethany. The patients were especially thrilled that someone in their own age group could be a 'queen' and some came close to tears as she brought back memories of their younger days with her lovely Centennial costume.

The other item of note was her energy. We followed her on part of her tour to get some pictures, and trying to keep up to Queen Petra was like trying to tame a wild bronc. By the time we were ready to quit, we were beat, but she was still as fresh as a daisy. Queen Petra, we salute you.

ing when the Centennial Park, in Bear Is to be opened by Hud Safloum of the Provincial Centennial Committee and at the Ethnic Supper which followed.

In the fall, our Lieutenant-Governor, Grant MacEwan, spoke in the Community Centre under sponsorship of the Tofield Historical Society. Sharing the speaker's platform with Dr. MacEwan, the representative of Queen Elizabeth, was a never-to-be-forgotten thrill.

As well as enjoying all these events, I have tried to bring some of Canada's Centennial excitement to my senior citizens. Visits to Viking Lodge at Viking and Bethany Home in Camrose, as well as to our local hospital, entertaining the shut-ins and the ill.

My heart was overjoyed to see these shut-in people thrill to the beauty of my Centennial gown and regalia. The elderly women exclaimed over my gown and those of the ladies who accompanied me, recalling that they had once worn similar ones. One lady said she certainly preferred Centennial gowns to mini-skirts!

Toward the close of the Centennial Year, I spent several weeks in the Tofield Hospital. Here I realized how wonderful it is that doctors and nurses dedicate themselves to the welfare of the sick. I appreciated the efforts made by the entire staff to keep patients comfortable. Sometimes we take these services too much for granted. I tried to show my appreciation by giving a Christmas dinner for the entire hospital staff.

Thanks again, you kind people.

In my closing message to my loyal subjects of 1967, I would like to say: "Let us not forget the goodwill we had among us in 1967. I will be happy to do my bit to keep our Centennial spirit alive and growing.

If we co-operate in 1968 as we did in 1967, our town and district can progress in friendship and goodwill.

This is my wish for you: A Happy New Year to everyone— God bless you all!"

Your Centennial Queen,
PETRA STAUFFER

Shirley Stinson gets a $1,000 scholarship

Miss Shirley Stinson, R.N., M.N.A., B.Sc. in Nursing Administration, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stinson of Tofield, has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship by the New York Community Trust.

The scholarship is part of a $30,000 grant awarded by the Community Trust to Teachers' College, Columbia University in New York, where Miss Stinson is enrolled in the doctorate program in education.

In July of 1967, Miss Stinson received the Dr Katherine McLaggan Award, which was a $4,500 fellowship from the Canadian Nurses' Foundation.

Miss Stinson received her early education in Tofield, and then got her R.N. at University Hospital. She then worked for four years at the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto.

Following this, she enrolled at the University of Edmonton and graduated with her B.Sc. in 1953, and then received her degree in nursing administration in 1958 from the University of Minnesota.

Tofield gets split in games with CLC

Tofield and C.L.C. divided a pair of games played Tuesday night in Tofield.

In the first contest of the evening, the Tofield girls led all the way to win 35 to 20. Their scoring parade was led by Sears, who fired 12 points. Johnson led Camrose with 10 points.

The boys' game saw C.L.C. open a small lead early in the game and maintain it throughout the first three quarters. During the final quarter, C.L.C. capitalized on Tofield miscues and won going away 48 to 25.

New style calf feeder inspected by farmers

Well over a hundred farmers and visitors toured the Ken Nyback farm last Friday for the official opening of the new Canadian Nurs-ette Distributors Ltd. calf feeder plant. Before and after the opening ceremony, visitors toured through the bagging plant and some of the feeding barns, checking methods and results.

The Nurs-ette is a machine with a nipple resembling a cow's teat through which the calf sucks a balanced formula designed to make it grow as rapidly and economically as practical. One machine will feed from 15 to 18 calves, it is reported, though 12 is suggested as more practical. One major factor is that mother cow can go on normal dairy milk production the moment the calf is weaned, thus improving the economy of the dairy herd.

Introduction of the machine is claimed to make it profitable now to feed calves which were formerly slaughtered, thus opening up an entire new market.

Official speaker on the occasion was MLA Chester Sayers, representing the provincial minister of agriculture, who was unable to be present. Mr. Sayers commented on the increasing economic pressures facing farmers today, and forcing them into more and more mechanization. Such a tool as the calf feeder might prove of inestimable value, Mr. Sayers said, as one more machine helping them to realize higher profits through improved efficiency.

One of the first, and still the biggest user of Nurs-ette products, Wm. Hosford spoke fondly of what he refers to as the "tin cow", and told visitors that it helps to avoid a large number of diseases commonly assoc[illegible] with calf feeding, especially scours. From this one point alone, Mr. Hosford said, the tin cow has gone a long way to help solve one of the major farm problems.

There have been milk replacers and calf feed products on the market for years, continued Mr. Hosford, and his family operation had made good use of many of them. However, he said, the Nurs-ette products "are tremendous".

President of the organization, Ken Nyback related how the development came about from a personal need. Investigating the Nurs-ette product, he was con[illegible] there was a major need for such equipment, and went on to report how the organization has grown to the point where it now has ten men employed, and production has increased from 400 pounds a week to 11 tons a week. Such growth is highly gratifying, said Mr. Nyback, and indicates the enthusiastic response the product has received.

Vice president Bud Brunelle told the gathering a product has to be good to surpass its goals, but declared the new firm had met their quota for 12 months in only a five-month period. The product is good, he continued, and is fully backed. [illegible]e stand behind the product, [illegible] declared, and the manufacturer stands behind us. We're available 24 hours a day for service, he said, indicating the company accepts an obligation to keep calves fed when it sells a machine..

Dale Klaus of Rogers, Minnesota, president of the manufacturing firm, was also present and backed up Mr. Brunelle's comments. The factory has been amazed [illegible] at results, he reported, and w[illegible]ing for continuing progress in the Canadian market.

Following the opening ceremony on Friday, the staff representatives and a few customers gathered on Saturday for a service clinic, when break-down and servicing of the machinery was thoroughly explained.

Centennial committee holds a final meeting

(By Grace Phillips)

The Tofield Centennial Co-ordinating Committee held its final meeting on January 22, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Freebury.

Members of the committee present were: Dr Freebury (chairman), Andy Heiberg, Marie Worton, Bill Christensen, Father Scriven, Jim Francis, Petra Stauffer, Mabel Boyles, Thomas Jacobs and Grace Phillips.

As treasurer of the committee, Bill Christensen reported that the year's activities had netted $247.97. It was moved by Father Scriven and seconded by Thomas Jacobs that this money be donated to community organizations—$75 to the Tofield Library, $75 to the Tofield Community League, and remaining $97.97 to the Central Youth Sports' Committee, which sponsors junior baseball and hockey. The motion was passed unanimously.

Its task completed, the Centennial Committee disbanded after expressing the hope that the community spirit fostered by Centennial activities would continue to enrich Tofield in 1968.

Auctioneers donating work to aid Retarded

Auctioneers throughout the entire province are joining wholeheartedly behind a project of the Alberta Auctioneers' Association in conducting a series of charity auctions. Ten members of the group in this region will hold a community auction of donated articles on Wednesday, Feb. 7, in the Agricultural Building at the Fairgrounds in Camrose.

[illegible] auctioneers have frequently donated their services to help out 4-H clubs and several other groups as a community benefit. Recently, the members decided [illegible] association to hold a series of such auctions, organized by their own members, in aid of a charity selected by the provincial organization, and the Retarded Children's Association for the province will be the benefactor

Chairing local arrangements will be Otto Streberg, of Camrose Auction Market, but auctioneers all through the district will be helping in the program. Donations to the auction may be left at Camrose Auction Market, Daysland [illegible] [illegible] Auction Market, [illegible] Agricultural Building, or will Alvy Borgstrom at Edberg.

Co-operating auctioneers include Mr. Streberg, Art Niven Bob Semehor, Dave Hutchinson, Fred Brown, Russ Sheets, Norm Berg, Alvy Borgstrom, Elgin Brown, and Dennis Streberg.

Receipts from the auction will be turned over in their entirety to the work of the retarded children. No charge will be made for the work of the auctioneers, who are hoping the community will back them solidly with articles donated to the sale.

The local auctioneers' association is a voluntary organization which operates the Burgess School in Camrose, with students from Bashaw, Meeting Creek, Galahad, Forestburg, Tofield, Ponoka, Daysland, Donalda, Chauvin, Sedgewick and Camrose.

Remove the CYC

Premier Manning, as well as two other Western premiers, has advocated that members of the Company of Young Canadians be removed from this region. He was inferring that this body has done nothing useful, and has caused more harmful effects than good, and looking at it on a national level we are inclined to agree with him.

While it must be granted that at least some of the members of this body have good intentions and probably do some good work, the overall effectiveness has been hurt by lots of bad publicity, most of which we feel was justly deserved. In nearly every area this youthful body enters they have done little effective work, and are usually the focal point of controversy.

The CYC is no place for people with axes to grind or who wish to escape society, yet this is where many apparently go to hide. Young Americans coming to this country to evade the draft, and hippies seem to be, at times, the leading players in CYC dramas. They publicly have taken stands against this, that and the other thing, getting paid for biting the hand that is feeding them. We agree with all those people who advocate doing away with the Company of Young Canadians.

Race is boring

The recent Liberal Convention in Winnipeg almost died before it stood on its own two feet. It was quite apparent that many of the delegates in attendance felt there was little hope of making much in the way of gains in this part of the country.

As far as the leadership race was concerned, this was one of the duller parts of the convention. Not one of the candidates attending stood out, and most of them appeared to be rather dismal. One veteran reporter covering the leadership race expressed the opinion that the race might die of boredom before the National Convention is held. And he could be right. There is not one exciting face among the candidates, and they are particularly inept when they have to talk, either from a prepared text, or off the cuff. It is becoming more apparent all the time, that exciting politicians are a thing of the past as far as Canada is concerned.

On four letter words

For the past week or so we've been willing to argue with anyone that an Edmonton parent was probably on solid ground in his objection to inclusion in a high school English textbook of a story "Defender of the Faith" which included a number of four letter words which make the story obscene.

The week-end, however, provided an opportunity to read the book.

And we were appalled that anyone claiming normal intelligence would stir up the kind of controversy developed by Mr. Grovos, rather than quietly suggest to the proper authorities that the story should in future editions be edited.

This entire fuss has been stirred up over the use of only two "four-letter words" — once each. The general public would likely consider a reference to excrement as vulgar or crude, but hardly obscene, so that leaves a reference to intercourse, which likely all would consider obscene.

Unfortunately, neither of the words is particularly well used. Even though employed in a barracks situation, they add nothing to the story, neither expression, nor emphasis, nor character, probably, nor shock. Seasoned troops we know, and seasoned writers we suspect, could have employed several other non-offensive words with at least as much emphasis, and without in any way upsetting the story.

Apart entirely from the merits of the particular story above, the storm stirred up over this "literary license" is highly interesting. We find it interesting, for instance, that most of the women we have talked to feel it is nonsense to forever edit such words out of school books, while most of the men we hear feel there is no justification for their inclusion.

The women, all mothers, claim the kids are exposed to this sort of trash at every turn in life anyway, on television, in other books ("you can't pick up a book written these days without running across such language") in public washrooms, and so on. Why try to shield the kids from it? Ignoring it won't make it go away. When are you going to allow them to grow up and face it in the world? And so on.

Men, who presumably tend to employ profanity or obscenity more commonly (if not more skilfully) than do women, somehow feel it still is not something which should be automatically introduced into the home, nor automatically accepted there. If it's barracks-room talk, let's leave it to the barracks, seems to be their reasoning. And, they continue, just because the situation is so common doesn't make it right. There are many other situations in life which our children must know about, but we don't particularly care to continually flaunt them in front of the family, so they can't forget.

The arguments raised by both are germaine. At what level do we stop censoring their reading matter? We censor films, why not books? Would the proponents of unedited literature allow Shakespeare in the "complete and unabridged editions?" Are they even aware that Shakespeare has been severely edited for school for years? What about using some of today's strictly adult plays from Broadway? Some of them, a few at least, are brilliantly written, even if they are somewhat pornographic. Does it matter?

ECHOES FROM THE PAST HUNDRED YEARS IN CANADA

(First Installment)

—Isaiah 51:1.

It is indeed difficult to evaluate events and happenings while these are occurring, but when the excitement is all over, we can look back upon them and conclude a more sane evaluation. This is also the case in history. It is just natural-like, that of 100 years passed that there should be occasion for retrospect. This mile-stone has now been reached and passed. How interesting, then, to halt a moment and cast our eyes upon the road we have just travelled. As we see the high points, we are reminded of some of the events encountered on our travel. Then a much fairer evaluation can be reached.

Our Centennial has been a great year for various celebrations. Much optimism has been in evidence, and it may be unfair to bemoan the past. The past has been put into God's hands, and now we must boldly face the future. And it is not presumptuous to reflect on the [illegible]. We [illegible] that the Bible [illegible] also been written that we might learn from the experiences of those who have gone before, for they are written for our example and admonition. So, we stop a little and reflect on the past and the first question may [illegible] this: "What did Canadians believe in 100 years ago?"

It has indeed been a rich experience to visit some outstanding religious landmarks and take note of evidences there, like at the Memorial at Dun[illegible], the unique [illegible] chapel, [illegible] museum, park and beautiful bridge over the Mighty Peace. (This whole scene is on our study desk and is a constant inspiration.) Then on Vancouver Island [illegible] century-old Anglican churches up among those huge Douglas firs. The gospel was planted here long ago, and these churches stand there as a testimony of their blessing. Then down towards Whonnock on the shores of the voluminous Fraser, where we were privileged to serve some years ago. All those places and many more of them gave us a vivid insight as to what Canadians believed a hundred years ago.

During those pioneer years everything was wonderfully quiet. There were no telephones to jangle. In olden days Matsqui Lutheran Church on the Fraser River was quite a center for Christian activity. Many church conferences found it an ideal setting for larger gatherings. Even Dr. Lavik, former president of Camrose College appeared as one of the speakers. Many returning missionaries were guest speakers there in former years. (We had the privilege of serving this interesting town and fruit valley in 1961.) Their church was built in 19[illegible] and is a beautiful structure in spite of flood damage in 1948. We said that it was so tranquil those early years, for there were [illegible] no T.V. to care. Electric lights, cars, planes, etc were unknown and people, in the main, travelled much like Abraham of old, on beasts, in carts or even on foot, and steam power had just begun. One can see the marks of the first western Telegraph Station on the S. Grue farm east of Hay Lakes.

Now, what about the spiritual condition, for in these columns we do not want to overlook what concerns human hearts, and spiritual conditions in our fair land, which after all are most important, for here we deal with eternal things. What does history reveal of this a hundred years ago and earlier years here in Canada?

The old Bible principles were in vigorous operation and there were also vigorous attacks from the enemy. There was conflict between the powers of God and the Devil then too. But there was a call to arms. There was a spiritual thrust a century ago as we shall see. God had not quit nor had the devil retired. God was mightily at work, for it was the great era of missionary expansion, and the great missionary revival, as history reveals. This will be pointed out in our next "Apples of Gold".

New stamp marks 200 years of weather reading

A Canadian 5c Meteorological stamp to be issued March 13 com[illegible] 200th anniversary of Canada's first long-term fixed point weather observations.

The weather readings commemorated by this stamp were started at Fort Prince of Wales, Churchill, by William Wales and Joseph Dymond on the 1[illegible]th of September 1768, daily observations by thermometer and barometer continued until the 27th of August 1769. Earlier remarks on the weather had been recorded by soldiers, explorers, and others, but these are largely non-instrumental, and were made in transit rather than at a fixed point. Dymond and Wales were at Hudson Bay under instructions from the Royal Society to observe the transit of Venus. Wales, one of the foremost astronomers and mathematicians of his day, was later to accompany Capt. Cook on voyages around the world. Fort Prince of Wales, a post originally established as Fort Churchill, was destroyed by fire while under construction in 1689. It was rebuilt in 1717. The area on which the fort existed is now preserved by the Canadian Government as a national historic site.

The weather is acknowledged to have a stronger and more continuous impact on our lives than any other feature of the environment in which we live, and pioneer weather observers led to a vital modern service provided by the Meteorological Branch, Department of Transport. Untold loss of life and property is nowadays averted by special bulletins ranging from frost warnings for agriculturists to hurricane alerts. Aviation, industry, public utilities, shipping, agriculture, and forest interests depend on forecast services provided by the meteorologists.

District news items from Ryley

(Mrs. R. Davick)

MARKS 90TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs Caroline Davick (Grandma), pioneer of the Ryley district since 1908, now residing in the Senior Citizen's Home at Camrose was surprised on her 90th birthday when she walked into the sitting lounge at Bethany, where her family had gathered. She was ushered into the room by her eldest daughter and son, while the others welcomed her by singing "happy birthday." She wore a figured dress and fresh carnation corsage pinned on, gift from two of her grand-daughters. This party was planned by her grand-daughters, and was a lovely affair, thanks to the staff of the Bethany Home for the coffee and making this party possible.

Mrs. Davick received two fresh bouquets of flowers from her family, also gifts and cards, two cakes were decorated for the occasion with candles and many pictures were taken. At the close of the party, Grandma Davik thanked them all for the lovely day. She is kept busy with her knitting, which has been one of her main projects for many years. She would have to make a lot of mittens to supply 18 grand-children, and 43 great grand-children.

JUNE IN JANUARY When our number one photographer was given the assignment of "shooting" lovely June Wilkinson, he wasn't too sure whether he could persuade her to smile When he arrived for the picture she jumped upon the sofa and told him to "start shooting." Diary of a vagabond

by Dorothy Barker

She's a tall willowy red head and her professional name Kay Wise rhymes with the call letters of the radio station in Winnipeg CKY where she has earned a reputation for outstanding ability in the communications field

Though her husband is not entirely in sympathy with the modern trend of working wives, he did appreciate that Kay was becoming intensely bored with a household routine that contributed little to developing or perhaps [illegible] comment, continuing her [illegible].

When her son reached his teens, Tom [illegible] (Kay Wise) realized she'd been on the PTA extra curricular activity circuit long enough. She's explored and conquered a number of crafts including [illegible] and had also learned to [illegible] glide, pilot. She is the delightfully frank type that doesn't [illegible] about her [illegible] rather very graphically explains how terrified she was when she had to solo for the first time. Her husband took the glider course with her and while she [illegible] with enthusiasm for the sport went right up into the [illegible] in their own glider which they purchased with rash exhilaration

Much to the chagrin of son Tom aged 14 they sold the glider when both their lives became more involved. Tom is "an aviation nut" according to his mother. Perhaps this has come naturally to a youngster who was born in a military hospital in Churchill Manitoba while his father was stationed there serving with the Department of Transport. This was a memorable experience for Kay, whose method of using ice blocks melted as the sole water supply of the household, at times, almost overshadows her present successful activities

This posting was made bearable for Kay because she joined three book clubs and learned how to listen for the chug-chug of the great long freight trains as they snaked their way across the permafrost to dump their cargo of wheat into the huge government grain elevators. These are Churchill's skyscrapers and about the only thing that breaks the horizon for this northern port is many miles beyond the tree line and the buildings of the village itself are mostly one and two stories high

During that period of her early married life, one of her social activities was waiting for the Churchill tour which arrives annually in August Then the town seems to come alive with activity I am sure the tourists, many of them Americans, must have been delighted to find this vivacious young woman among the Eskimo Indian and service population

It was an ad seeking a person suited to a public relations position that started Kay toward her present activity Successful at obtaining the job she worked at making arrangements for conventions and running a contest for teenagers with the grand prize being a chance to see and hear the Beatles.

When I met her, it seemed to me she must be one of the happiest and most fulfilled women in Winnipeg As woman's editor of CKY, she airs two one hour shows five days a week Both are "fun" programs With "Party Line" she becomes a radio Ann Landers, offering advice to housewives and one day a week recipes for their menu planning

In the afternoon "Trado" comes on the air when Winnipegers may write or phone articles they wish to swap sell or buy The only items not acceptable are cars and real estate She also broadcasts on remote control programs and during the Pan Am Games last summer, did a witty ad lib broadcast from one of the windows of the Hudson Bay store and interesting interviews with many of the contestants

There is apparently no limit to her versatility Early in the spring she joined "Century West", a centennial calendar project acting as the voice over and was co-host with another western Canadian radio personality, Murray Parker, on the half hour broadcast each Thursday evening.

The fact that she loves to cook has presented an "eating problem" for Kay Wise, but I doubt if she will ever gain an extra ounce as long as her ambition and activity exceeded her appetite.

There are still wide open spaces in the Province of Alberta, where a population of a million and a half persons provides a density of fewer than six persons per square mile.

Natural gas reserves in the Province of Alberta are among the largest on the continent, and contain 80 per cent of Canada's total supply of this resource.

Lakeshore UCW meets at Joe Jones home

(Mrs. Ellen Eaton)

Ideal weather and good roads made a pleasant afternoon for the Lakeshore UCW meeting at the home of Mrs Joe Jones on January 17, when 12 members and two visitors were present. The meeting was opened with Psalm 19 read in unison From the study book Chap 9 based on Matthew 17 was [illegible]

COLUMBUS

Behind him lay the gray Azores
Behind the Gates of Hercules'
Before him not the ghost of shores
Before him only shoreless seas
The good mate said: "Now must we pray
For lo! the very stars are gone
Brave Adm'r'l speak: what shall I say?"
"Why say 'Sail on! sail on! and on!'"
They sailed and sailed, as winds might blow
Until at last the blanched mate said
"Why, now not even God would know
Should I and all my men fall dead
These very winds forget their way
For God from these dread seas is gone
Now speak brave Adm'r'l, speak and say."
He said: "Sail on! sail on! and on!"
Then pale and worn, he kept his deck
And peered through darkness
Ah that night
Of all dark nights! And then a speck
A light! a light! a light! a light!
It grew, a starlit flag unfurled
It grew to be Time's burst of dawn
He gained a world: he gave that world
Its grandest lesson: "On! sail on!"

Foshaug - Lauber wedding is first in new church

Tapered candlebra created the setting for the first wedding to be performed in the new Bardo Lutheran Church in Tofield when Marilyn Gail Lauber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lauber of Dodds, became the bride of Mr. Larry Wayne Foshaug, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Leif Foshaug of Tofield.

The pretty double-ring ceremony following a Christmas theme was performed by Pastor Holmes of Edmonton on December 22nd, 1967.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was lovely in a fitted gown of bridal taffeta. The separate train which flowed from the shoulders featured dainty lace edging. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a pearl tiarra and she carried a bouquet of red poinsettias on silver and green fern. Her jewellery, a single strand of pearls was a gift of the groom.

The bride's attendants were Miss Susan Stauffer, maid of honor, Mrs. Merlin Rude, matron of honor, and Miss Caroline Foshaug, bridesmaid. Little Lorrie Stauffer was flower girl. All wore identical floor-length gowns of red velvet with shoulder capes. Headpieces were of silver net and red velvet bows. Their bouquets were ivory poinsettias with silver and green fern.

The bride's mother chose a dress of royal blue jersey with sequin trim, and the groom's mother wore brown lace over gold, with brown accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Robert, the bride's brother Dale, and the groom's cousin Marvin Krogen. Ushers were Murray Lauber, Richard Foshaug and Ronald Foshaug.

During the ceremony, musical numbers were rendered by a quartet consisting of Miss Grace Kauffman, Mrs. Mervin Yoder, Ben Lauber and Brian Stauffer and by soloist, Mrs. Andy Herberg. Miss Eunice Siller was organist.

A reception for 300 guests was held at the Community Centre. Mrs. Elaine Gilchrist was in charge of the guest book. The tables were decorated with candles and poinsettias, and the bride's table was graced with a three tiered wedding cake beautifully decorated by Mrs. Paul Voegtlin.

Dale Lauber, the bride's twin brother, was master of ceremonies. He called on Pastor Holmes for the invocation and Joe [illegible] proposed the toast to the bride [illegible]

The happy couple will [illegible] the bride wore a [illegible] with black [illegible] and a smart black [illegible] Her corsage was of pink [illegible] roses.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Foshaug will reside in Tofield where [illegible] is librarian in the Tofield School and Larry is employed on his farm.

County of Beaver School Committee meets

Following are the minutes, in part, of the regular meeting of County of Beaver School Committee, held Tuesday, Jan. 9.

The meeting was called to order at 10 10 a.m. by the Secretary-Treasurer, who called for nominations for the position of Chairman for the School Committee for the ensuing year

Cr Roddick was nominated by Cr. Dorin.

It was moved and carried that nominations cease

Cr J H Roddick took the Chair and thanked the Committee for their confidence in him in re-electing him as Chairman

It was moved and carried that Cr. Kropielnicki be appointed Deputy Chairman for the ensuing year

Moved and carried that the Regular School Committee meetings be held on the Tuesday preceding the second Thursday of each month, meetings to start at 10 00 a m in the County Office in Ryley.

Moved and carried that the School Bus Shop Committee consist of Crs Dorin, Knudslien, Kropielnicki and Mr Wilkie

Moved and carried that Crs Knudslien, Kropielnicki and Roddick, and Mr Semotiuk be appointed as the Salary Negotiation Committee for 1968

Skating Rink Grants

In connection with Skating Rink Grants, a letter from the Town of Viking was referred to the School Committee The letter indicated that the Town had taken over the operation of the Viking Carena and that the Council of the Town of Viking was unable to accept a cheque for only $100 for the skating season. It was stated in the letter that the cost for lighting and caretaking, alone, amounted to $5 per hour. In view of this a motion had been passed by the Viking Town Council that the School could use the rink from noon until 3:30 p.m. each school day at the rate of $5 for each hour used.

Mr Bruce explained that the Principal of Viking School had prepared a schedule whereby the Carena would be used during the entire day, but there was no need for the school to use the Carena to that extent The School Committee was of the opinion that possibly the Council of the Town of Viking had not taken into consideration the fact that some 50% of the pupils in the Viking School were from the Town itself and also that organizations in the Town of Viking were using the School's facilities without charge. It was suggested that a Committee from the School Committee should interview the Town Council in this connection Mr Allen, who is also a Member of the Viking Town Council, stated that a meeting of the Council would be held on Wednesday, Jan. 10, and he agreed that an interview would be advisable.

Moved and carried that Crs. Roddick and Johnston together with the Supt. of Schools, Mr. Bruce, and the Principal of the Viking School, Mr. Symyrozum, attend the Council Meeting on Jan. 10.

Correspondence

A letter from the Department of Education again stressing the fact that only $50,000,000 of Debenture funds will be available in 1968 and urging the School Boards not to tender a project without the assurance of adequate financing, was read to the Committee

Moved and carried that the letter be received and filed

A letter from the Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation advising that, effective January 1, 1968, the interest rate on all debentures purchased by the AMFC would be 7% per annum, was read to the Committee. It was suggested that all new Bylaws should state interest rate not to exceed 8%

Moved and carried that the letter be received and filed

The School Committee was advised that a dividend in the amount of $4,336 59 had been received from the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties on purchases made during 1967 to the Association. The Secretary-Treasurer stated that he, as in former years, intended to divide this dividend with 50% to the School and 50% to the Municipal Section

Moved and carried that the report be accepted and the Secretary-Treasurer's action concurred in.

Fire Inspector's Report, concerning Viking School and Kinsella School and Bus Garage, were referred to the School Committee and contents noted and discussed

Moved and carried that the reports be accepted and the recommendations complied with

The Committee was advised that a rebate on the 1967 business with Don Wheaton Limited had been received, in the amount of $315.21.

Moved and carried that the report be accepted

The Chairman requested the School Bus Shop Committee to discuss the need of new school buses with the Bus Supervisor and bring in a report for the February meeting.

Letters of Appreciation from Earl Kindley for having been nominated for The Centennial Medal - 1967 and from the Tofield Staff for having received their December cheques well in advance of the Christmas Holidays, were referred to the Committee.

The report indicated that the Superintendent would be interviewing prospective teachers through the offices of the Canada Manpower Center and that he would also attempt to interview all the present bursary students. He would be interviewing in Edmonton, February 8 and 9; in Calgary, Feb. 16 or 23.

In regards to Driver Education, the report indicated that Joseph Lindberg, the teacher at Holden, would start using the car Saturday, Jan. 13, and arrangements had been made to store the car in the bus garage at Holden. The car would be returned to Black's Sales and Service for regular maintenance, i.e., greasing, oil change, etc It was also mentioned that, initially, plans had been made to supply the car with gasoline from the school bus pump; however, the Superintendent suggested that No. 1 gas should possibly be used and therefore the gas could better be purchased from Black's Sales and Service Inasmuch as Black's Sales and Service would do all the maintenance on the car, it was decided to purchase the gas from that outlet.

The 4-H'ers have once again decided to sponsor a talent night to be staged March 15th in the Community Hall. A committee consisting of president Lyle Heiberg, Mary Moore, Grant Cossey and Colleen Wyllie with the help of Mr Andy Heiberg, who has so capably helped to organize the talent night in previous years, is in charge of arrangements

CFCW INTERCLUB RADIO COMPETITION

As in previous years, CFCW radio is holding a 4-H radio competition, to which 4-H clubs in the listening area have been asked to submit a radio program. This year enough interest was shown in the Tofield club to have three groups prepare programs

These were judged at the meeting by Mrs Ethel Wood and Mr Chuck Greig, CFCW Farm Director. First program consisted of Marilyn Schacher, Mary Moore, Jim Dodds, Don Rutzcki, representing a "Supermaster Farm Family in the 21st Century"

Second group, also the winning one, with members being Barry Mosby, Lyle Heiberg, Terri Moore and Colleen Wyllie, dealt with the subject "4-H and How it Would Help Them in Their Future."

The third program had members Linda Rose, Brian Litwin, Miles Rose and Judy Moore representing "The Various Feeds and Their Role in Cattle Feeding."

Under the leadership of Grant Cossey, members participated in important talks, which were greatly enjoyed by all those listening.

Pee Wee members are selling tickets for a transistor radio; tickets are only 10 cents each or 3 for 25 cents. The draw will be made at the talent night.

J. E. Kauffman passes at 95

Joseph E. Kauffman, son of the late Elias and Lena (Lehman) Kauffman, was born March 7, 1871, near Parnell, Iowa. Passed on to his desired Haven on January 13, 1966, at the age of 95 years.

On December 23, 1900, he married Katie Yoder in Iowa, where they farmed until 1913, when they moved to Tofield where they farmed until the fall of 1941. They continued to live on the farm until the fall of 1956, when they moved to Holyrood Nursing Home in Edmonton.

To this union four sons and one daughter were born: Ralph and George of Phoenix, Arizona, Loyal and Joseph of Tofield, and Mary Ellen (Mrs. Dan Brenneman) of Kalispel, Montana.

Mr. Kauffman was a member of the Mennonite Church, and on Sept. 20, 1913, he was ordained to the office of deacon, which he filled serving this local congregation as well as the district conferences as a delegate member. In 1937 he asked for an assistant deacon and in a few years turned all responsibility over to the younger man.

He is survived by his wife, five children, 13 grandchildren and 21 great - grandchildren; also one brother and one sister, both living in Iowa. Seven sisters and two brothers predeceased him.

The family expresses great appreciation for all that has been done to encourage them, through the passing of their loved one.

The Journey's End

No way so long but finds its goal,
No path so steep for struggling feet,
But gains at last the mountain's crest,
And wide with vision bright and well earned rest.

And while life's race is nobly run,
Its battle fought, its vic ory won,
God will make up the count to me
Throughout a blest eternity.

ICE POWER. Today in the world there is talk of flower power, black power, etc., but we wonder how often man pauses to reflect upon the various powers nature has bestows upon us. Ice power is her great winter gift as it allows us to stand upon it as, think freely and act freely. There are no controversies surrounding ice power — and to us, this is a true and real power. — TNS Photo

Hutterites get okay for colony

E. F. Branch, chairman of the Alberta Communal Property Board announced yesterday that permission to establish a Hutterite colony near Holden has been granted.

The Hutterites had sought permission last fall to set up a colony on a site about one mile south and one mile west of Holden and had taken an option on land in expectation of getting government approval.

The new Hutterite colony will contain 4,800 acres of land, and was one of two colonies receiving approval from the Communal Property Board. The other new colony, slightly larger, will be located near Two Hills.

John Keith Appleby passes suddenly on January 16th

A native son of Tofield, John Keith Appleby passed away early in the morning of January 16, following a severe heart attack.

Born on May 1, 1920 to Tofield, Keith received his education at Landbrook and Tofield schools. At an early age he started mixing music with business and during his leisure mastered several other instruments. A lover of music nothing pleased him more than to play for a dance or for other people's enjoyment. For a time he was a member of the Tofield United Church Choir and many times he sang at community affairs and weddings.

In April 1955, he was married to Elsie Tomkin of Edmonton, and since that time they have lived on their farm west of Tofield.

He leaves to mourn his passing: his wife, Elsie; one daughter, Heather and three sons, Robert, Donald and Dale; his parents Mr and Mrs John Appleby, and a brother Clifford, all of Tofield.

A host of friends and relatives paid their respects at the funeral on Friday, January 19, at two o'clock in the Tofield United Church. Rev. W. H. McDannold officiated. Soloist was Mrs. John Wall who sang "When You Come to the End of the Way", a favourite hymn of Keith's, which he had sung many times. Mrs E. Stinson was at the organ.

The pallbearers were Vernon Walther, Ronald Goreleve, Allan Warner, and Bob Nahrebeski. Allan Pointer and Tom Moller of Edmonton.

Many beautiful floral tributes were received, also donations in memory of Keith, to Tofield United Church Heart Fund, Tofield Ambulance Fund, Tofield Hospital, Crippled Children's Fund, and Tofield Cemetery Fund.

Library Board holds session

A meeting of the Tofield Library Board was held on January 18, 1968. Present were Ed Watson, Joan Dunham, Rita Halverson, B. A. Everitt, Dr. W. H. Fyvie, and Mrs. Prestbury. Rev. W. H. McDannold, and Hazel Patterson.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted on a motion by Mr. Everitt.

Budget for 1968 of $9134.36 was submitted by Librarian Mrs. Prestbury and approved on a motion by Hazel Patterson.

Correspondence from Mr. E. T. Wilshire, Director of Public Libraries, stating that the annual provincial grant is to be based on the population figure of 852, was discussed. The secretary was instructed to inform Mr. Wilshire that the Municipal Assistance Grant was received on the basis of 1,055 population and therefore it is felt that the Library grant be based on the same figure.

The Secretary informed the Board that the Town was prepared to pay the same grant as in 1967, being $842.50 — 80¢ per capita on 1,055.

Additional shelves was discussed. It was moved by Hazel Patterson, and carried, that the shelves be built according to the specifications and need as requested by the Librarian, and that the Town be asked to pay for same at an estimated cost of $150.

Rural members using the Library was discussed. It was moved by Rev. W. H. McDannold that the County of Beaver No. 9 be approached requesting a grant of $300 for the Library. Carried.

1969 grant from the Town was discussed and it was moved by Rev. McDannold that a request be forwarded asking for the $1.00 per capita grant for 1968. Carried.

IN MEMORIAM

HOOPER—In loving memory of Joe Hooper, who passed away February 6, 1967.

His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall;

And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him.
Some day, we know not when;
To clasp his hand in the better land.
Never to part again.

We would also like to extend a special "thank you" to Dr. Freebury, Evelyn Moore and the rest of the Tofield Hospital Staff, for all the care, kindness, memorials and condoling sympathy cards and letters. Thank you to Rev McDiamond, the Pallbearers and the Tofield Church Choir, and to all the ladies who donated to and helped with the lunch following the service. Words cannot begin to express our appreciation to each and everyone of you.
—Sincerely, Elsie Appleby, Robert, Heather, Donald and Dale 21p-3083

The Tofield congregation of Jehovahs Witnesses begin this week a door to door campaign to make the public aware of the shocking atrocities being committed against members by sadistic mobs in Malawi, Central Africa.

Calling the acts a shame on Africa, Torsten Tollofson presiding minister for the Tofield congregation of Jehovahs Witnesses, said eyewitness reports showed many have been beaten, robbed, some killed and their homes burned. More than a thousand women Witnesses have been raped, often before their own husbands and children who were forced to watch. In the Mlanje area of the country, forty women who were thus abused were pregnant. Each one suffered a miscarriage.

"The atrocities have been committed to prisons inflamed by the spirit of nationalism, "Tollofson explained, "mostly by mobs made up of members of the Youth League of President H. Kamuzu Banda's Congress Party." He claimed the Youth League resemble China's Red Guards who have terrorized so many there. "The only (crime) of Jehovahs Witnesses in Malawi has been their refusal to join Banda's political party, buy a membership card and wear Banda's peiture on a badge" he said.

The Malawi News of November 24, 1967, quoted President Banad as saying: "If anyone of these people are in trouble they should not go to the police but should go to the church and pray." Hence, there has been little or no action on the part of the police to stem of vicious persecution, Tollofson added. "It is hoped that people who love justice and freedom will write to the government of Malawi to protest this cruel treatment of harmless Christians."

Visitors enjoy trip to B.C. convention

(Mrs. R. Davick)

RYLEY — Danny and Ollie Manderson enjoyed a flying trip to Victoria, B.C., where Danny attended the Canadian Federation of Agriculture convention on behalf of the United Farmers of Alberta Co-operative Stopping at Vancouver for six hours, they were able to visit Miss E. Gavin, a former District Health Nurse from Fawcett.

The B.C. Federation of Agriculture took the ladies on a bus tour of the city and a trip to the Marine Gardens, ten feet under the ocean. A deep-sea diver fed the fish and would bring different varieties to the windows where visitors got a closer look. The octopus and wolf-eel (which has four bands of teeth) were popular specimens, but everyone was happy to be safely behind glass.

An evening visit to Ollie's cousin, Mrs. Joe Despot proved most interesting and the next day she took Ollie on a tour of the city.

It was lovely seeing the ocean, boats, green grass, trees blooming and roses beginning to flower but most satisfying to be back on Alberta soil again.

Switch colors, raise prices on new licenses

Motor lienses in Alberta for 1968 will reverse present colors, and will have white letters and figures on a green field. Two letters and two sets of two numbers will continue to be used. Again reversing 1967, the numbers, letters and border will be reflectorized, rather than the field

Fees for cars and some trucks will be raised by $5.00, marking the first increase since 1951. Plates will go on sale March 1.

Manufactured in the license plate factory at Fort Saskatchewan jail, the initial order is for 819,000 pairs, with a supplementary order expected later. Alberta is not expected to pass the million plate mark until possibly 1970.

Four initial prefix letters, coupled with 14 secondary letters, will be used; the primary letters being J, K, L and N.

Car plates for the Camrose region, sold at the provincial Treasury branch, will run in the series from JX 20-01 to JX 54-00, while plates issued by the Camrose AMA office will run from JX 54-01 to JX 71-00.

Farm truck license plates at the Treasury Branch will be numbered 150-551 to 152-000, while AMA series will run from 152-001 to 152 550

X plates at the Treasury Branch will be numbered 3X-1301 to 3X-1650, while AMA series X plates will range from 3X-1701 to 3X-1800. Treasury Branch Commercial vehicle plates run from 2C-1401 to 2C-1600, E for exempted plates run from 8E-1201 to 8E-1300; U plates, for restricted urban, range from 8U-6401 to 8U-6430, and dealer plates go from 8D-2951 to 8D 2980. The AMA does not handle any of these type.

Treasury Branch trailer plates run from T-30301 to T-30750, with AMA picking up at T-30751 to T-31000. Motorcycle plates at the Treasury Branch start at 17-101 and range to 17-250, with the AMA grouping from 17-251 to 17-300.

S. B. Smith has meeting with Tofield Gun Club

On Monday night, January 29, S. B. Smith, Director of Fish & Wildlife for the Province of Alberta met with members of the Tofield Gun Club and other interested parties at the Community Center in Tofield.

The meeting was held in response to a complaint lodged by the Tofield Gun Club in regard to the non-resident moose hunting license issued for parts of Northern Alberta in the fall of 1967.

In his initial address, Mr. Smith admitted that mistakes had been made and that he regretted full responsibility for them. He told the gathering that the number of non-resident hunters had exceeded by about 500% the expected response to ads. In the U.S. newspapers, so that zone 1 had 9 927 non-resident hunters in 1967 instead of the anticipated 2,000, and that, because of this large number, many of the hunters hunted without guides, thus causing much of a problem.

Mr. Smith said that he is asking the Minister of Lands and Forests for the following changes for the 1968 season: That all non-residents must be accompanied by licensed guides, and that all tag to resident hunters, rather than a tag to be used for one or the other.

Following his address, Mr. Smith answered many questions regarding governmental policy on many subjects pertaining to wildlife.

A discussion from the Blackfoot Reserve Association was present and was assured support of the department in arriving at a fair solution to the problem of cattle entry into community pastures.

The discussion also touched on the sanctuary surrounding Beaverhill Lake, crop damage by wildlife, Sunday hunting for big game in remoter areas of the province, and the problem of sport fishermen vs. commercial fishermen and the demands of each.

Increased payments go to pensioners

Last month saw the first pension cheques on the government's new levels go to recipients of the Canada Pension Plan, or pensions and Guaranteed Income Supplements under the Old Age Security Act. The increase amounts to a rise of two per cent.

The new maximum benefit of both the Old Age Security and Guaranteed Income Supplement programs thus rises from $105 to $107.63 monthly. Increases in the retirement pensions of the Canada Pension Plan will be similarly affected.

Modern etiquette

Q When eating a soft-fried egg, is it all right to put a small piece of bread or toast on the end of my fork and use this to dip up the yolk?

A Quite all right and very practical, too.

Q Should an announcement of the adoption of a child be made in the newspaper?

A. No—simply because there is no reason to announce an adoption to anyone but your friends and relatives.

Q How do teen-agers introduce their parents to their own age group?

A. "Mother and Dad, I'd like you to meet Shirley Lane and Tom Dale".

Q. What form should a newlywed couple use when extending invitations to a reception in their new home after a return from their honeymoon?

A. Since this type of party is usually informal, they may phone their invitations

Q When you have entertained an out-of-town guest and have received a bread-and-butter letter from her, is it necessary to reply to this letter?

A. This would be far better than ignoring the letter. Your next will certainly appreciate learning that you, too, enjoyed her visit, and that you are looking forward to seeing her again.

Q When placing chairs at the dinner table, prior to the arrival of the guests, just how far under the table should they be pushed?

A. The front edge of the chair should be perpendicular with the edge of the table.

Q. Would is be proper for an elopement or "runaway" marriage to be announced later by means of the customary engraved cards?

A. Quite proper.

Q. Is it considered improper or old-fashioned to refer to a modern living room as the parlor?

A It does sound quaint . . . but still there's nothing wrong with it

Q When my husband and I have just one guest at dinner in our home, this guest being a man, should my husband serve him first when carving the meat or should he serve me first?

A In this case, when the host pro is the only woman present, she should be served first.

Q. Do you think it's proper for people to keep their television sets turned on while entertaining guests?

A Only if the guests are really interested Otherwise, to have a TV set in operation while conversation or a card game is in progress is not only distracting, but in very poor taste

Q What is the order of recession at the conclusion of a church wedding?

A Just the reverse of how the party entered the church aisle down the aisle In going back up the aisle, the bride and bridegroom lead, followed by the bridesmaids, and finally the ushers

Funeral service was held on Wednesday, February 7th from Tofield Mennonite Church with John Neufeld and A. Heidebrecht officiating. Interment was in Tofield Cemetery. Andrew McLaughlin Chapel Ltd. was in charge of arrangements.

S. B. Smith has meeting with Tofield Gun Club

On Monday night, January 29, S. B. Smith, Director of Fish & Wildlife for the Province of Alberta met with members of the Tofield Gun Club and other interested parties at the Community Center in Tofield.

The meeting was held in response to a complaint lodged by the Tofield Gun Club in regard to the non-resident moose hunting license issued for parts of Northern Alberta in the fall of 1967.

In his initial address, Mr. Smith admitted that mistakes had been made and that he accepted full responsibility for them. He told the gathering that the number of non-resident hunters had exceeded by about 500% the expected response to ads in the U.S. newspapers, so that zone 1 had 9 227 non-resident hunters in 1967 instead of the anticipated 2,000, and that, because of this large number of hunters limited without guides, thus causing much of the problem.

Mr. Smith said that he is asking the Minister of Lands and Forests for the following changes for the 1968 season: That all non-residents must be accompanied by licensed guides, and that the non-resident license fee be raised to $50, from $25. In addition, he will also ask for the issuance of both a moose tag and an elk tag to resident hunters, rather than a tag to be used for one or the other.

Following his address, Mr. Smith answered many questions regarding governmental policy on many subjects pertaining to wildlife.

A delegation from the Blackfoot Reserve Association was present and was assured support of the department in arriving at a fair solution to the problem of public entry into community pastures.

The discussion also touched on the sanctuary surrounding Beaverhill Lake, crop damage by wildlife, Sunday hunting for big game in remoter areas of the province, and the problem of sport fishermen vs. commercial fishermen and the demands of each.

IN MEMORIAM

GOUBAULT. — In memory of Mrs. Pauline Goubault, who passed away February 13, 1966.

Not a day goes by without some tender memory; no matter where our steps may lead or what our lips may say, the heart remembers. And sometimes in the busy hours, or in a crowded place, there rushes the fleeting vision of a dear remembered face. A passing word may strike a chord on memory's golden strings, and wake the aching music of the unforgot-ten things.

Increased payments go to pensioners

Last month saw the first person in Canada on the government's new levels go to recipients of the Canada Pension Plan, or Benefits and Guaranteed Income Supplements under the Old Age Security Act. The increase amounts to a rise of ten per cent.

The new maximum benefit of both the Old Age Security and Guaranteed Income Supplement programs thus rises from $105 to $107.40 monthly. Increases in the retirement pensions of the Canada Pension Plan will be similarly affected.

Modern etiquette

Q When eating a soft-fried egg, is it all right to put a small piece of bread or toast on the end of my fork and use this to dip up the yolk?

A. Quite all right . . . and very practical, too.

Q Should an announcement of the adoption of a child be made in the newspaper?

A. No—simply because there is no reason to announce an adoption to anyone but your friends and relatives.

Q How do teen-agers introduce their parents to their own age group?

A. "Mother and Dad, I'd like you to meet Shirley Lane and Tom Dale".

Q What form should a newly-wed couple use when entroling invitations to a reception in their new home after a return from their honeymoon?

A. Since this type of party is usually informal they may phone their invitations.

Q. When you have entertained an out-of-town guest and have received a bread-and-butter letter from her, is it necessary to reply to this letter?

A. This would be far better than ignoring the letter. Your guest will certainly appreciate learning that you, too, enjoyed her visit, and that you are looking forward to seeing her again.

Q. When placing chairs at the dinner table, prior to the arrival of the guests, just how far under the table should they be pushed?

A. The front edge of the chair should be perpendicular with the edge of the table.

Q. Would it be proper for an elopement or "runaway" marriage to be announced later by means of the customary engraved cards?

A. Quite proper

Q. Is it considered improper or old-fashioned to refer to a modern living room as the parlor?

A. It does sound quaint but still there's nothing wrong with it

Q. When my husband and I have just one guest at dinner in our home, this guest being a man, should my husband serve him first when carving the meat or should he serve me first?

A. In this case, when the host sex is the only woman present, she should be served first.

Q. Do you think it's proper for people to keep their television sets turned on while entertaining guests?

A. Only if the guests are real ly interested. Otherwise, to have a TV set in operation while conversation or a card game is in progress is not only distracting, but in very poor taste.

Q What is the order of recession at the conclusion of a church wedding?

A. Just the reverse of how the party entered the church an. went down the aisle. In going back up the aisle, the bride and bridegroom lead, followed by the bridesmaids, and finally the ush ers

Championships are won by Tofield and Holden

The Tofield Girls basketball team captured the county championship for the third consecutive year, at the tournament played in Viking on Saturday.

Holden was the victim in the morning contest which saw the green and whites lead all the way in a [illegible] win.

The championship contest pitted Ryley against Tofield. The first half saw each team feeling each other out with the half time score 11-3 for Tofield. During the second half both teams opened up but time ran out on Ryley. The game ended 27-21, for Tofield.

In the first game of the boys tourney, the Tofield boys were eliminated from further play when they went down to defeat at the hands of Ryley, with a final score of 41-37. Holden went on to win the tourney by defeating Ryley 64-61.

Gasline Cubs and Scouts will note national week

Cubs and Scouts in the Gasline District will observe Boy Scouts Week, Feb. 18-25, in connection with Founder's Day, February 19, the birthday of the movement's founder, Lord Baden-Powell.

In the fall of 1966 Cub Packs of the District, including Tofield, Holden and Viking, underwent a change in program implemented throughout Canada.

For an organization whose goals are wholesome activity and the strengthening of character to maintain its membership is quite an accomplishment. Yet it seems that the three Cub Packs in the district have succeeded in not merely maintaining, but actually increasing their memberships since the introduction of the New Program a year ago.

A glance at the badges on the torso of your Cub's shirt will reveal that he is in fact a cub, that he lives in Alberta, in the Gasline district, and that he belongs to the First Tofield, or Holden, or Viking Pack.

In seven months, with a target date of September 1, a new Boy Scouts Program, "Scouts 6?" will be launched. The implementation of the program will lead to changes in the structure of Scouting groups and in the types of adult leadership offered to the boys in Scouting.

Reknowned naturalist to speak in Tofield

Cy Hampton, noted Canadian naturalist who has done much of his work in the Beaverhill Lake area, will be speaking in Tofield on Wednesday, March 6.

This event of great local interest is to be sponsored by the Tofield sub local of the Alberta Teachers Association in observance of Education Week.

The public is cordially invited to be the guests of the Tofield teachers at Mr. Hampton's illustrated lecture in the Tofield School gymnasium.

As well as the lectures, the evening will feature displays of modern audio-visual equipment in use at the school. A display of art work is also being planned. Lunch will be served at the close of the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Carol Rurka is president of the Tofield sub-local and Mrs. Mollie Conn is chairman of the program committee.

Auction nets $2,000 for retarded children

Over $2,000 was realized last week when the Camrose Branch of the Alberta Auctioneers' Association held their annual auction in aid of retarded children.

The auction started early Wednesday afternoon and lasted until nearly 8:00 o'clock before all the donated articles were sold.

All the money received was forwarded to the Alberta Association for Retarded Children and more will be forwarded as cash donations are still coming in.

Auctioneers from this area taking part in the auction were Otto Streberg, Bob Somshor, Alvy Borgstrom, Norman Berg, Elgin Brown, Fred Brown, Dennis Streberg, Art Niven, Dave Hutchison and Russ Sheets.

The local auctioneers were joining auctioneers all across the province in conducting a series of charity auctions in aid of retarded children. In the past, the Auctioneers' Association have helped in other charity auctions, but this year decided they should conduct their own program, with the Alberta Retarded Children's Association as the benefactor.

Officials of the Camrose branch of the association expressed their appreciation to all those who donated articles for the auction, as well as to those people who turned out for the sale to make it such a huge success.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA — A clash between Justice Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau and Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec pointed up dramatically, at the Constitutional Conference the differences between Ottawa and the French-speaking Province.

All sessions of the Conference had one were open to the press. The all seeing eye of the television camera carried the discussions, the colour and the lengthy speeches, across the country. Canadians as well as members of the press were privileged to sit in—for the first time—at a Federal-Provincial Constitutional Conference.

They saw delegates after a long day, dropping off to sleep, or dozing fitfully, unaware that the camera was focussed on them.

Canadians were able to watch the bright humour of Premier Joey Smallwood enliven the proceedings. They saw and heard Premier W. A. C. Bennet, of British Columbia flashing his famous smile almost continually until it became tiresome. They learned why newspapermen have frequently reported that Mr. Bennett "clowned his way" through a conference. They saw it all at first hand.

Only once did Prime Minister Pearson decide to step in quickly and close the doors and shut off the cameras. That was when the vigorous exchange between his French Canadian Justice Minister Trudeau and Premier Johnson threatened to get out of hand and wreck negotiations.

As the threats and counter-threats between Trudeau and Johnson became more pointed and barbed the diplomatic Mr. Pearson stepped in and suggested it was time for a coffee break. He also proposed that the Conference go behind closed doors after the coffee break for a working session" until the noon lunch-hour. Thus the Prime Minister avoided what might have developed into a showdown and a very awkward situation.

Mr. Trudeau has been hailed among fellow Quebeckers as the logical man to run for the national leadership of the Liberal party, from French Canada. His chances in such a race could be considerably enhanced or weakened by his performance at the Constitutional Conference

He led the rebuttal of the Quebec Government's claim for special status for Quebec He warned that special powers for that Province could undermine the position of Quebec Members of Parliament at Ottawa The situation could lead to the final separation of Quebec from Canada

He suggested the answer to the constitutional crisis was not more power for Quebec but better Quebec representation in Parliament Premier Johnson rejected such arguments

At one point in the wrangle the Premier sought to blunt Trudeau's suggestion that Federal MP's represented the people of Quebec, by deliberately deriding the Justice Minister as "the member for Mount Royal" He left no doubt that he was implying that an MP from that wealthy area could hardly presume to speak for all Quebec

Mr. Trudeau retorted by addressing the Premier as the member for Bagotville for Bagot

As the exchange grew more heated it was apparent to those in the conference room that for a brief moment Mr. Trudeau had lost control. This was highly unusual for the Prime Minister and Mr. Johnson might indeed have considered himself victorious had not some supporters and they include numerous newspapers, that he (Trudeau) damaged his chances of future success.

But others, who are his admirers suggested that Mr. Trudeau had shown himself ready to fight when the occasion was buried in the floor by the Quebec Premier Trudeau did not back away, rather he plunged in where perhaps a more experienced and cautious politician in the Federal field would have backed away.

The Quebec Premier argued that bilingualism across the country was not enough for Quebec It wanted more powers.

Mr. Trudeau suggested that the Premier lay his cards on the table and state specifically how much more power. He said Premier E C Manning of Alberta had put a good question before the Conference when the Prairie Premier demanded early in the Conference that Canada be informed as to the limit of Quebec's demands — if there is any limit.

Newsmen questioning Mr. Trudeau as to the reasons for the bitterness between the Premier and himself said it was well known that the National Union Party was determined to destroy French Canadian politicians prominent in the Federal scene at Ottawa He said he had not been surprised by the sharpness of the exchange

Indeed some of his colleagues said Mr. Trudeau welcomed it. He enjoyed the verbal duel with his political enemy. The clash reflected the increasing exasperation of the Quebec wing of Mr. Pearson's cabinet by Premier Johnson's posture and policies

Manpower Minister Jean Marchand, the Quebec leader in the caucus in Ottawa, supported Mr. Trudeau in the tangle. He has let it be known that he is toying with the idea of leaving the Federal field to enter the provincial political arena and do battle directly with Premier Johnson

There is a mounting suspicion among French Canadians at Ottawa that Premier Johnson is not committed to the principle of Federalism in Canada. There is a growing belief that Premier Johnson worried over the increasing strength of Rene Levesque might suddenly jump on the separatism bandwagon Some French Canadian politicians in the Federal field feel that Premier Johnson is backing into separatism while Rene Levesque is pursuing it openly and avidly across the Province

Prime Minister Pearson and his advisors have tried the experiment of opening the doors and letting in the press.

Now they will assess the results. Was it a good move, or did it prevent more progress being made than might have been expected had the doors been closed. They will weigh the advantages and disadvantages.

The answer in the good old Canadian characteristic appears to lie in compromise: doors wide open and the press present for most of the sessions of such conferences But when the hard bargaining begins and delegates appear to be playing to the cameras and the press as an audience rather than getting down to resolving the difficult problems, then close the doors for brief executive sessions.

The Prime Minister who has had much experience in international negotiations is well aware that much can be accomplished when the doors are closed. Problems can be resolved in private that defy solution sometimes when the press is present. The United Nations is a prime example of too much talk and not enough action when action is required

Patrica Young says:

Words are fascinating things - not only for their sound and meaning - but for their application, but by dint of constant usage, often perverts their meaning Take the word discrimination Today, it is used almost exclusively as meaning something unwholesome. But what of the man or woman who has discriminating taste in music, art or literature Does not every woman discriminate between brands when shopping at a supermarket. Certainly everyone discriminates when it comes to choosing a marriage partner' Some women may even have certain prejudices concerning men with beards, red hair or even smoking habits

The word conservative has also become something of a victim in today's war of words, used as it is to imply that one is reactionary, old-fashioned and yes, Facist oriented! But the dictionary still defines the word as meaning moderate and adhearing to safe principles as conserving and preserving that which is good.

The word society has come to mean a vague, collective somebody else - a whipping boy upon whom one can unload all of his individual [illegible]ities toward the community and mankind. As for the common man, I've yet to have defined for me how one rates for inclusion into the Club If it be for reason of working for a living, that includes just about everyone, including the Company President By the smallness of one's wage That would certainly exclude most Trade Union leaders

Even the word peace has become suspect by reason of its abuse by various radicals and revolutionaries. All of which prohibits me to observe that society should be more discriminating regarding the meaning and application of words by the common man least Mr Webster himself rise up to defend the civil liberties of those who would be conservative in their use of the English language

Exciting Pages From Canada's Past

In 1884, Louis Riel was persuaded to return from exile in the U.S.—where he was teaching in Montana — to champion the cause of the pioneer white settlers, Metis and Indians once again, this time in Saskatchewan. At first he tried to uphold their interests by constitutional means against federal government encroachment, but to no avail. The building of the CPR across the prairies inevitably would break the transportation monopoly of the Metis Red River carts, and it brought land speculators and new settlers who threatened to wipe out the peaceful community farm system they had established along the river banks. The federal government failed to grasp the urgency of these worries, which were intensified by the fact that the buffalo, on which the Metis had depended for a nomadic living, had disappeared from the plains; the Metis farms had become their only way of surviving.

Riel set up a rebel provisional government at Batoche, on the South Saskatchewan. If Riel had given his brilliant general, Gabriel Dumont, who was a hero of the great buffalo hunts, a free hand to lead guerilla harassment of the militia on their long trek from the end of the railway toward Batoche, history might have taken a different course. But Dumont's forces were held in check.

A detachment of North West Mounted Police sent to nip the rebellion in the bud was defeated by Dumont's Metis at Duck Lake on March 26. A trial of strength became inevitable and was complicated by Indian uprisings against the N.W.M.P. Eventually Riel, Dumont and Cree Indians under Big Bear and Poundmaker fought a series of brave and brilliant battles against greatly superior federal arms. The outnumbered rebels finally met defeat at Batoche on May 12, and Edmonton on July 12.

Riel was captured, found guilty of high treason, and hanged in the police barracks at Regina in November, 1885. Eight Indian leaders were also hanged. Poundmaker and Big Bear were jailed for three years and died broken in spirit. Dumont fled to Montana, starred in wild west shows, and was eventually allowed to return to Batoche, where he married a Scottish half-breed, and lived out his life peacefully.

A. F. A. President comments

The following are a few of the pertinent comments made recently by Nelson Malm, AFA President.

". . . I fear the barriers facing agricultural exports have increased for the immediate future . . . export movement of high quality western wheat will be of prime importance for a considerable time . . ."

". . . There could be more research to develop high yielding quality feed grains . . . Alberta's farm cash receipts indicate [illegible] per cent from the sale of cattle and calves. I believe this can be further expanded . . ."

"We must gain greater control of our products in the marketing place. Much as we detest it, we may have to give up some of our individual bargaining to gain this objective . . ."

". . . There are some who advocate deserting the economic organizations they have helped build over the years . . . surely we have the wisdom to build on what we have. To do otherwise would be a serious retreat."

Ryley girls win zone C crown

(By Mrs. R. Davick)

Ryley High School Girls won the East Central Alberta Zone provincial "C" basketball championship, winning a playoff tournament in Warburg over the week-end.

The girls had finished in second place in the Beaver County League and, being the only "C" school team in the league, automatically had the right to represent the area in the zone playoffs. At Warburg, they racked up victories over Thorsby, Alliance and Forestburg.

The Ryley girls will now represent the zone in the provincial championship tournament which will be held at Sylvan Lake on Friday, and Saturday, March 1 and 2.

The championship is even more impressive when it is realized that the team is composed of only seven players. Members of the team are Ethel Kope, Sharon Mizera, Joann Kosawny, Valerie Dueck, Debbie Norton, Bonnie Sadowyk and Ellen Ostlund.

No one injured in truck mishap

A Holden man, David Pocke escaped injury when his truck went out of control and rolled on a country road about five miles north and twenty miles east of Camrose.

The accident occurred early Sunday morning when the truck skidded on ice and Mr. Pocke lost control. Damage to the vehicle was approximately $300.

The accident was investigated by the Camrose RCMP.

Royalty is crowned at the big 3's tea

The annual Valentine Tea, sponsored by the Big 3 of the Tofield Junior High School, was held in the Tofield School gym on Valentine's Day, with a large crowd in attendance.

To illustrate the theme, large figures of a lady in Centennial costume and a modern "Twiggy" adorned the walls. These figures had been created by a committee composed of Donna Schmidt, Anne Wall, Esther Poettcker, Margaret Koop, Gladys Wiens, Kacy Regehr and Faye Anderson.

A feature of the tea is the crowning of the Valentine Queen. This year, the contestants for this honor were Viola Taylor, Lois Koop, Rita Dickson, Janice Murray, Linda Rose and Bonnie Krebs. These girls were Valentine escorts and, after being introduced by Mr. Lampitt, were presented with chocolates and necklaces by Judy Moore, president of the Big 3.

The winner, Rita Dickson, was escorted to her throne by Gregg Seib and crowned by Faye Anderson, last year's queen. The queen thanked all who had voted for her, and fulfilled her first royal duty, which was to draw the name of the winner of the door prize from a fish bowl held by David Schroeder. The lucky winner was Betty Lindsay.

The tea was under the able direction of Ruth Dickson, social convener of the Big 3.

The officers and members of the Big 3 would like to thank all those who attended the Valentine Tea, and the guests, Ruth Dickson, extends her thanks to all who supported her by buying tickets.

Pioneer woman marks 91st birthday

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

One of Holden District old time pioneer ladies, Mrs. T. Thoreson celebrated her 91st birthday Monday, Feb. 12. The Holden Lutheran Church Women, of which group she was one of the original members, sent her a lovely bouquet of flowers in honour of the occasion, in remembrance of her association with the church and the kind wishes of all.

Mrs. Thoreson is presently residing in Wallis Lodge, Viking, where she has been for the past few years, and keeps in good health. Her daughter, Mrs. Al (Inga Dawe) of Edmonton, visited with her for the day, and her son, William Logan of Edmonton, former Holden district farmer, visited with her on the Sunday.

THE YEAR OF THE MONKEY

Few members voted

The absenteeism of our elected representatives to the House of Commons was never more noticeable than it was when the Liberal Government went down to defeat by two votes with only 166 members out of 265 voting on the money bill. That's only 63% of all members being in attendance, and that's far too few.

While it must be admitted that some members belong to various committees that require their presence elsewhere, and others were 'paired off', it still would seem to leave quite a few unaccounted for. These people are drawing huge salaries to run this country, and it becomes more obvious all the time, that many of them are not prepared to do this.

It is time that some members stopped regarding election to the House of Commons as a vacation period or a soft method of earning a living. The government should be run like any other business. Either you produce or you are replaced. Attendance records should be kept, and any member absent without leave would have his seat declared vacant.

Some members feel that being elected gives them the right to travel when and where they please. They think nothing of hopping a plane to appear at some function, and then hopping another plane back to Ottawa. Two free trips, at our expense, and usually neither were necessary. While local groups might wish to have their member present for different functions, it must be realized that he has business to attend to, and that we are paying the shot when he is missing from his post. Could all ninety-nine missing members of the 'fatal' vote account for their lack of attendance. Some can, but it must be doubted if they all can.

Go to the people

The future of the Liberal government in Canada should be decided today, when a vote is taken on a vote of confidence requested by the Liberals. Although it appears doubtful if people would appreciate an election this year, it would seem to be the only solution to the problems. The Liberals do not have the confidence of the House, no matter how the vote goes, but more important, they no longer have the confidence of the people. The Liberals have been rather high-handed in too many instances: flag, commuting death sentences despite the wishes of parliament, and integration of our armed forces, just to name a few. They have seemingly ignored the wishes of the people, and it is time for them to go to the people and find out what they really think. The only unfortunate thing that crops up in this regard is that, at the moment the Liberals are leaderless. And that is a situation that won't be properly corrected until April.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA — Prime Minister L. B. Pearson will be succeeded by the newly-elected leader of the Liberal party on April 6. Within a few weeks, perhaps even a few days after Mr. Pearson's departure the entire Liberal Cabinet may take on a new look.

The resignations of cabinet ministers [illegible] with the acceptance of the resignation of the Prime Minister. This means that Mr. Pearson's successor will be in a position to pick his own cabinet.

There will be several members of the present Cabinet who will not be re-appointed. This makeup of the new Cabinet of course will depend greatly on who wins the party leadership. Mitchell Sharp, Paul Hellyer or Robert Winters would of course pick a different type of cabinet than Allan MacEachen, Joe Greene or John Turner.

Among those who may no longer be in the Cabinet include:

Privy Council President Walter Gordon

Secretary of State Judy LaMarsh

Senate Government Leader J. J. Connolly

Fisheries Minister Hedard Robichaud

Industry Minister C. M. Drury

Labour Minister J. R. Nicholson

Trade Minister Robert Winters.

The present Prime Minister will of course be bowing out of the cabinet. Mr. Winters has announced he, too, will be quitting the Cabinet at the end of March or early in April. However, he may be drafted as a candidate for the leadership. If he won he would be the man choosing the new cabinet.

Mr. Gordon has indicated to friends on several occasions that after Mr. Pearson departs he is not interested in staying on in the administration. He may find his services are not wanted.

Miss LaMarsh has made no secret of her desire to quit political life. She has announced that she has no intention of running again for election. She has threatened several times to resign from Mr. Pearson's Cabinet and if his successor passes her over in selecting his new cabinet she will be probably just as happy to serve out the last few months of the present Liberal government as a private member again.

The leader of the government in the senate, Senator Connolly has carried on despite indifferent health. He will be ready to retire from that tough job.

Mr. Nicholson is scheduled to retire from the Cabinet an be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia. He will succeed in that post George Pearkes, a former member of the Diefenbaker Government who wants to retire from his vice regal duties.

Mr. Pearson's recent move in elevating to Cabinet rank an English-speaking Quebec member in the person of Bryce Mackasey caused raised eyebrows among Liberals in Ottawa. There were rumours immediately that John Munro, Liberal M.P. for Hamilton East and parliamentary secretary to Manpower Minister Jean Marchand had resigned his post in a fit of pique. Mr. Pearson in the Commons declined to confirm or deny the rumours. He said [illegible] when changes are made in the administration they are announced in the House.

Mr. Mackasey's appointment caused some consternation within the backbenchers of the Liberal party in Parliament. It gave Quebec an unprecedented tenth Cabinet post. It also gave a third Cabinet position to Quebec's English speaking minority.

It was a surprise that the Prime Minister would make such an appointment so close to his retirement. Mr. Mackasey has made some enemies within the Party because of his blunt and brutally frank criticism of government policy that he did not like. It has been no secret that he was ambitious to climb to Cabinet rank. The promotion was not popular in some Liberal circles.

Mr. Mackasey was appointed as Minister without portfolio. However, Mr. Pearson said he would act as Labour Minister while the present Minister of Labour Hon. J. R. Nicholson, is out of Canada attending a United Nations trade conference in New Delhi. Mr. Mackasey's appointment raises to 28 the total number of Cabinet Ministers.

The Prime Minister more than once has suggested that a cabinet with 27 members in it is unwieldy. He has suggested in talks with newspapermen that he likes the British cabinet system where the Prime Minister has a small "inner cabinet" that handles major decisions of policy.

His successor as Prime Minister may decide to go along with a reduced cabinet for the interim period until the next general election. It is expected that the Government will not be anxious to go to the polls until 1969 providing the successor with an opportunity to consolidate and prepare to face the electorate.

One thing is sure. The new Prime Minister will seek to dissuade Liberals from resigning from Parliament. He [illegible] no loss of strength in the Commons and no by-elections. All present Members of Parliament on the Government side will be urged to stay on in the House even though some may not like the convention's choice of a new Liberal leader.

Mr. Pearson is obviously looking forward to a period of rest and retirement. He may get neither. He did such a good job in the Federal-Provincial constitutional conference that there is talk in government circles of trying to persuade him to carry on as a sort of ex-officio minister handling Federal-Provincial relations or the man in charge of the secretariat that is to be set up in Ottawa to carry out a sweeping review of the British North America Act.

The three-day conference early in February in Ottawa ended with the decision to carry out such a review and Mr. Pearson left no doubt that he expects it will lead to a brand new constitution.

"Tinkering with the existing constitution will not be enough", was the way Mr. Pearson put it in a press conference. The three-day conference ended with a declaration of language equality for French and English and a decision that there be a continuing constitutional conference in Canada until the Federal Government and provinces have reached agreement on a new form of confederation.

30 BILLIONS BUY EARTHLINGS MUCH

Noting that it may cost about $30 billion to put a man on the moon, scientist Warren Weaver, in his new book 'Science and Imagination', speculated on what that sum might buy here on earth.

"We could give a 10 percent raise in salary, over a 10-year period to every teacher in the United States, in both public and private institutions (about $9.8 billion); give $10 billion each to 200 of the best small colleges ($2 billion), finance seven-year fellowships at $4,000 a person per year for 50,000 new scientists and engineers ($1.4 billion); contribute $200 million each toward the creation of 10 new medical schools ($2 billion), build and largely endow complete universities, with medical, engineering, and agricultural faculties for all 53 of the nations which have been added to the United Nations since its founding ($13 billion), create three more permanent Rockefeller Foundations ($1.5 billion), and still have $100 million left over to popularize science."

Make your own list. You might include $100 million a year for as long as needed to provide subsidized family planning help for all the 5,000,000 poor and near-poor women who want and need it, thus giving them hope for the future and making every child a wanted child.

'Search for Talent' in Holden on March 9

The Holden Elks Lodge are bringing "Search for Talent" to Holden on Saturday, March 9, for the third year in a row. Zane Blake, convener of the show for the Elks, advises that arrangements have been completed with the Associated Canadian Travellers of Edmonton to hold the show in the Elks Hall commencing at 7.30 p.m.

Mr. Blake advises that Zane's Purity Store is the headquarters for registering the contestants and for the advance sale of tickets being undertaken by the Lodge. He urges prospective competitors to register early as the maximum number of entries in all four categories is twenty.

Local artists will be competing in the Sunwapta Primary, the Country & Western, Modern and Pop, and the Junior competitions. First and second place winners in each competition will receive trophies donated by four prominent Edmonton business firms.

First place winners will represent Holden and district in the regional semi-finals in April, and the regional winners will appear on CFRN-TV on April 27. Three scholarships or bursaries offered by Sunwapta Broadcasting Ltd. will be awarded in the Primary competition at the finals. Valuable awards will be given winners in the other three divisions.

The Unbalanced Four, Edmonton's leading barber-shop quartette — Jackie Wallace, Donna Martinson and Irene Sheppard — will provide additional entertainment at the Holden show. Joe Morrall, popular CFRN-Radio announcer, will be master of ceremonies.

Proceeds from Search for Talent go to the A.C.T. Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund, with a portion of the proceeds accrued from the advance sale of "pull" tickets remaining with the Elks Lodge for their community services.

The week's news from Alberta's legislature

(By Tony Cox, CFRN)

It [illegible] that Premier Manning [illegible] the Legislature [illegible] dull and [illegible] with [illegible].

The [illegible] the Speech [illegible] Government [illegible] they are [illegible] on the [illegible] Lieutenant Governor [illegible] speech from the Throne [illegible] the Government [illegible] this year.

W[illegible] Opposition Leader [illegible] suggested a member [illegible] side of the House be [illegible] of the Legislature's public [illegible] committee Stated the [illegible] later "We want to [illegible] from the start this will be [illegible] different sort of Legislature.

Peter Lougheed refers to the [illegible] as a team, and this [illegible] Lieutenant Governor MacEwan Grant on the appointed time, 10.30 a.m., the opposition arrived en masse. [illegible] them were Liberal chief [illegible] tanned after [illegible] holiday in Hawaii, Calgary [illegible] and the one independent Clarence Copithorne.

On the other hand, the Clerk of the Assembly, Bill MacDonald had earlier been chasing around the building trying to corral government members.

While members of the Opposition described the speech from the throne as "vague, unimaginative and disappointing" it quietly told of the progress being made in Alberta and how the human and physical resources are being developed.

It expressed awareness of the problems of housing and how the Alberta Housing Act must be revised; how the Municipal Act must be up-dated. It stressed the importance of tourism and higher educational opportunities as part of the total concept of human resources development, hydro power under the Alberta water conservation plan, revision of the Fuel Oil Tax Act, a general redistribution of electoral constituencies because of a shift in population; extension of crop insurance and the integration of Indians with Reserve status into the elementary and secondary school system.

There are many areas which the throne speech didn't include, especially fiscal policies, but these will be presented when the Treasurer, Mr. Aalborg, brings down his budget.

Lee Leavitt (SC-Calgary-Queen's Park) who opened debate on the throne speech, took exception to the growing welfare state of Canada, saying the womb-to-tomb society is destroying man's initiative, opportunity and responsibility.

Lampooned Mr. Leavitt reading the Psalm of the Welfare State:

"The Government is my shepherd, I need not work.
It alloweth me to lie down on a good job; it leadeth me beside the still factories;
It destroyeth my initiative; it leadeth me in the paths of the parasite for politics' sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of laziness and deficit spending, I shall fear no evil, for its doles and its vote-getters they comfort me.
It prepareth an economic Utopia for me by appropriating the earnings of my grandchildren;
It filleth my head with bologna; my inefficiency runneth over.
Sure the government will care for me all the days of my life and I shall dwell in a fool's paradise forever".

It was a well-prepared speech, but part of its sting was removed by the preceding 40-minute barrage of rapid-fire questions from the Opposition side of the House.

The Conservatives asked 22 verbal questions Friday, filed 67 motions for return, 23 resolutions and 42 questions.

The Liberals will file 12 notices of motion, and this usually leads to debate in the House while a request for returns demands a written answer from the government.

[illegible] Mr. Lougheed [illegible] a [illegible] home owner grants will help persons with lower property tax assessments get higher tax discounts. He also wants the province to assume a greater share of the School Foundation program.

Other questions [illegible] answers by the government [illegible] proposals for a ten-year development of Northern Alberta, a Civil Legal Aid Plan, a demerit system for drivers violating the Highway Code, the take-over of Jasper, Banff and other townsites in national parks and construction of more grain handling facilities at terminals on the West Coast.

Warning signals of government spending cutbacks and austerity measures surfaced last week when Health Minister Ross confirmed a freeze on planned hospital and nursing home projects in Edmonton, Edson, Stettler and Wainwright.

Education Minister Reierson explained a suspension of a second university campus for Edmonton because of a complete study being made of post secondary education.

Premier Manning said [illegible] he may allow Alberta to participate in [illegible].

Probably [illegible] this week is an announcement [illegible] revision of Alberta's oil policy, and next week, of course, is the budget. [illegible] a dull [illegible] session have been quickly dispelled.

There could easily be some night sessions [illegible] to [illegible] those two weeks [illegible].

Wilkinson - Mielimaka wedding held Jan. 13

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

St. Gregory's Roman Catholic Church was the scene of a lovely afternoon wedding Saturday, Jan. 13, when Joyce Ann Mielimaka, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Mielimaka of Holden, became the bride of Robert Gordon Wilkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilkinson of Bruce. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr Adams, and Miss Judy Bilyk was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin A-line gown designed with lace bodice and long train, matching white satin bow and lily-point sleeves. A headpiece of white rosebuds held her nylon net veil. Her only jewelry was a cultured pearl pendant and earrings, gift from the groom, and she carried a bouquet of red roses with streamers of rosebuds.

Bridesmaids, Miss Mary Friend, cousin of the bride, Miss Leona Wilkinson, sister of the groom, Miss Joan Stacyk and Miss Janice Stokowski, wore identical formal dark blue velvet dresses and carried harmonizing bouquets.

The best men were Matt Load Gerald Huskenveld, Gerry Gares and Allan Bilyk. Ushers were Ronnie Ryan and Steven Sokowski.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Mielimaka chose a semi formal golden metallic sheath dress with matching coat, mink brown accessories and corsage of red roses. The mother of the groom wore a two-piece pink suit, winter white hat, and her corsage was also a red rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson are making their home in Edmonton.

Vikettes, Playboys win zone hoop championship

. . . Tofield loses thriller

A sprained ankle might deserve much of the credit for the Camrose Lutheran College Vikettes winning their second straight zone "B" basketball championship in the two-day tournament played in Camrose on Friday and Saturday.

Leanne Lyseng missed an exhibition game against Tofield two weeks ago due to a sprained ankle, and in the championship game against Tofield came up with ten points and was a constant thorn in the side of the Tofield girls. Coach Ken Eastlick kept the other two big guns of CLC pretty well bottled up although Yvonne Johnson did manage ten points, but it was essentially the Tofield girls' inability to stop Lyseng that cost them the championship game.

The tournament started Friday afternoon using the gyms at CLC and CCHS. Sixteen teams representing ten schools came to Camrose for the zone championships, with the winners getting the right to advance to the provincial finals.

Pigeon Lake Playboys continued their winning ways to take the championship in the boys' division, as they won all three of their contests.

Boys' Playoffs:

There were no upsets in the first round, as Daysland walloped Coronation 67 - 42, Pigeon Lake squeezed by Holden 44-37, Castor trounced Tofield 74-38 and CLC whipped Wainwright 68-34.

In the consolation semi-finals, Tofield laced Wainwright 71-39 while Holden edged by Coronation 50-44, and then shellacked Tofield in the consolation finals by a score of 62-32.

All games in the championship round were close, and in the semi finals Castor got by CLC by a score of 53-41 while Pigeon Lake edged Daysland 44-40. In the finals, the Playboys from Pigeon Lake had no trouble with Castor as they built up an early lead and then used their second-stringers, winning the game 42-33.

Girls' Playoffs:

The predicted pattern was followed all through the girls playoffs, as CLC edged Coronation 23-20, Castor walloped Viking 63-14, Wainwright squeaked by Warburg 22-1 and Tofield whipped Daysland 39-18 in the opening rounds.

In the consolation semi-finals, Warburg tripped Coronation 33-30 while Daysland bombed Viking 29-15. Then in the finals, Warburg had no trouble in beating Daysland 23-13.

In the championship semi-finals, Tofield edged Castor 22-17 while CLC beat Wainwright 21-24. Then in the finals, the best game of the entire tournament was played as the CLC Vikettes edged Tofield 28-26, scoring two foul shots with only three seconds left to win the game.

Tofield 26, Vikettes 28. For Tofield: Moore 4, Schroeder 2, Sears 5, Astley 10, G. Klassen 3. For Vikettes: Johnson 10, Lyseng 10, Monsour 3, Morck 5.

Cheer-Leaders:

For the first time in this zone cheer-leading competitions were held, with teams from CLC, CCHS, Viking and Wainwright competing. Judges Mrs. Judy Lundstrand, Mrs. Mona Sparling, Mrs. Fred Barber, James Watt and Ed Clinton selected CCHS as the runners-up with the championship going to CLC.

Following the completion of the championship games, the trophies were presented to the winners by Pastor Glen Johnson, president of Camrose Lutheran College. At noon on Saturday, the athletes, team officials and cheer-leaders were guests of the college at a banquet held at the college.

CLC Vikettes — E. Van Druten, M. Skretting, E. Mansour, E. Saugen, E. Shanderup, A. Morck, Y. Johnson, K. Olson, S. Olafson and L. Lyseng.

Pigeon Lake Playboys — D. Lamme, B. Hettler, R. Kasor, F. Reglin, B. Monaghan, D. Gamble, J. Lind, B. Meaver, R. Vangyn and L. Ganske.

IMPORTANT!

DO YOU HAVE PRE-1948 28mm. or 35mm. MOVIE FILM?

If so, it's almost certain that this film is printed on highly inflammable nitrate base film stock and, regardless of its age or condition, constitutes a very serious explosion and fire hazard. (Does not apply to 8mm. or 16mm home movie film).

THE WARNING SIGNS

Yellow discoloration, fading of the image and undue brittleness are the first signs of decomposition. Later, the emulsion becomes sticky and the layers of film may weld together in a frothing mass, discharging an unpleasant odor.

FINAL STAGE

WHAT TO DO

If you have old film in your possession, whether it shows signs of decomposition or not, act at once! Remove film very gently from any building and any source of heat. DO NOT PLACE IT IN THE GARBAGE OR ATTEMPT TO DESTROY IT PERSONALLY. WRITE OR TELEPHONE: K. D. Kremer, Chief Inspector of Theatres, Room 127, Natural Resources Building, Edmonton. Ask for an Inspector to come and identify the film, and if necessary, arrange for its safe destruction.

Little interest shown in ratepayers' meeting

The annual meeting of the ratepayers in the County of Beaver was held in Ryley School on Saturday afternoon, with little interest shown by the ratepayers, as only thirty-two of them (most of them arriving late) showed up for the session. The combined county and school operation had a deficit of $6,362.43, with the school committee showing a surplus of $3,183.74 while the County Council operated on a deficit of $9,546.17 for the year.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The total enrolment in county schools increased by only one student over the 1966 term, with a total attendance of 2,311, broken down as follows: Bruce 161, Holden 580, Kinsella 68, Ryley 362, Tofield 566 and Viking 645. Projected estimates indicate that enrolment in the County's school system will decrease steadily over the next six years due to a steady drop in the school-age population.

There was no school construction during 1967, and none is expected during the current year, mainly because of the "tight-money" policy prevailing in the country. The committee noted that although no construction was planned, it did not mean that none was necessary. Expansion is needed at Ryley for the industrial arts area, because of the increasing demand for this aspect of education.

COUNTY COUNCIL

The County Council reported that tax collections for the current term are very slow in coming in as compared to the 1966 levy. During 1966, 110% of the total levy had been collected, while in 1967 the amount collected fell to 97% of the assessed levy.

Road work improved in the county during 1967, broken down as follows: District roads—opened up, 2 miles; re-graded, 10 miles; re-gravelled, 74.5 miles. On local roads—opened up, 4 miles; re-graded, 26.5 miles; gravelled, 14 miles; re-gravelled, 81.5 miles.

Some discussion arose regarding the construction of the addition to the County office, which will cost a total of $101,500 when completed. The net cost to the County will be approximately $67,000 after government grants are subtracted. Some of the ratepayers present at the meeting felt that the matter should have gone to the people for a plebiscite, even though the amount of money involved did not require such a vote.

Other reports were read and adopted, with little interest being shown by those in attendance. There were very few questions asked, and the biggest difficulty of the meeting's chairman was getting someone to move and second the adoption of the various reports.

Bev Munro will host 4-H 'Talent Night'

This year again, as in the past few years, the Tofield 4-H Beef Club, in conjunction with the Alberta Wheat Pool, will sponsor a Talent Night in the Community Centre on Friday evening, March 15.

Bev Munro, popular disc jockey and news commentator of radio station CFCW, will be master of ceremonies for the program. Besides emceeing the program, Bev has also agreed to do some entertaining on his own.

Committee members in charge are Colleen Wyllie, Marjorie Moore, Grant Cossey and Lyle Heiberg, and they have set the maximum number of entries at 20 so that the program won't get too long.

Fourteen entries have already been filed, coming from Bawlf, Round Hill, Kingman, Ministik and Tofield.

Prospective contestants are reminded that they must have their entries in by Thursday, March 14, but in order to avoid disappointment of perhaps the limit of 20 entries being reached, they should enter as soon as possible with one of the committee.

There will be three age groups, and a first and second place trophy will be awarded in each [illegible].

These talent nights not only help support the 4-H in their programing, but also help various contestants to perform on the stage before an audience when otherwise their talents would not have a chance to develop.

Price of admission for the evening's entertainment has been set at $1.00 for adults and 50c for students, while children under 10 years of age will be admitted free.

FROM THE SCRAP BOOK

The only thing to do about mistakes made is—admit them, learn by them, and be careful of our attitudes to other people. The wise course is to profit from the mistakes of others.— [illegible]

Community League sits in cleaned-up quarters

The regular meeting of the Tofield Community League was held in the Community Centre on March 5, with President J. C. Lampitt in the chair.

Since the last meeting, the meeting-room had received considerable attention — walls had been washed, cracks in plaster filled, and a new coat of fresh green paint applied. This improvement had come about through the efforts of the League members involved in the Clean-Up bee.

It was reported that the teen-age dance, sponsored by the League on March 1, had been successful, as was the recent bingo. In reference to the bingo, the public is reminded that the jack-pot is now $80.

The $100-Club tickets are selling well, and the first draw will be made early this month.

The auditor's report was presented by the treasurer, Rita Halverson. Wm. Lopatniuk was the auditor.

The Leadership course previously explained by Mr. Meeks from the Provincial Government is not available till fall, according to a letter received from Mr. Meeks.

Stan Dunham suggested that the Community League sponsor a defensive driving course for drivers of the Tofield area. Possibilities as to the feasibility of sponsoring this course will be investigated.

As a pleasant surprise ending to the meeting, Petra Stautler and Annie Hunley served a delicious lunch.

Gibson named FUA president

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN —At a recent meeting of the Holden F.U.A. local No. 821, A. Gibson was elected president. James Tymchuk, who had served a three-year term, declined re-nomination to the office. Lyle Grosland expressed the thanks of all members to Mr. Tymchuk, who had been a most active member while in office.

Various topics discussed by members included taxation of farm dwellings and the use of purple gas as expressed by the Alberta Motor Transport Association. Submissions of protest were received from members to be sent in to the Head Office and M.L.A.

Concern was expressed regarding the big drop in membership, and members were requested to make a strenuous canvass to increase the membership.

Bruce oldtimer passes February 29

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN.—An oldtimer of the Bruce district, Henry Thovold Field passed away February 29 at the University Hospital, Edmonton, at the age of 80 years.

He is survived by seven sons, Harvey, Selmer and Henry of Bruce, Kenneth and Jens of Edmonton, Ernest of Fort St. John, and Francis of Vegreville; two step-daughters, Olga of Camrose and Ruth of Ryley; one step-son, Robert, also of Ryley; 18 grandchildren, and his sister, Mrs. Ida Flom, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, U.S.A.

Funeral service was held Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Holden Lutheran Church, with Pastor Stanley Rude officiating, and interment was in the Holden cemetery.

B. Budd is dealer for New Holland

Bruce Budd of Holden took over the New Holland dealership in Holden. This will be a new location for the dealership as it was formerly in Tofield. New Holland deals mainly in farm machinery, and under Mr. Budd expected to have a successful operation at their new location.

Lutheran Conference in Tofield, Saturday

The Edmonton-Camrose Conference of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Canada will meet in Convention on March 9 at Bardo Evangelical Lutheran Church, Tofield, according to the president of the congregation, Mr. Lester Severson.

The Rev. A. W. Holmes, Conference President, stated that the 100 or so delegates to the Convention would consist of pastors and laymen from parishes at Red Deer, Olds, Innisfail, Ponoka, Wetaskiwin, Edmonton, Camrose, Bawlf, Viking, Provost, Tofield, Edberg, Ryley, Armena, Castor, Stettler, Dickson, Donalda, Forestburg, Sedgewick and McLaughlin.

The Rev. Dr. K. Holfeld, President of the ELCC, the only autonomous Lutheran Church in Canada, which extends from coast to coast, will present the State of the Church message at the morning session.

Other speakers on the agenda include: Mr. Morris Leiren, school teacher at Bawlf; Mr. Don Storch, social worker, Family Service Assn., Edmonton; Mr. Alver Person, mortician, Camrose; Mr. Phillip Anderson, farmer, Tofield; Mr. Elmer Kure, farmer, Dickson; and Dr. Helmut Koch, chiropractor, Edmonton.

Interest is missing

The officials of the County of Beaver must have done nearly a perfect job of running the county during Canada's Centennial Year, because, at the annual ratepayers' meeting on Saturday only thirty-two people showed up.

Lack of attendance at meetings such as these usually indicate that the people are satisfied with what is going on, along with expressing a lack of interest. Actually, the attendance figure of thirty-two is slightly misleading, as there were only eight ratepayers present when the meeting began. The rest gradually sauntered in sometime during the next hour, and then some of those people didn't stay for very long

The only bit of controversy that arose, and it was pretty mild, was over whether or not a plebiscite should or should not have been called regarding the new addition to the County Office at Ryley. Other than that, a few questions were asked, but otherwise, everyone sat silent and listened.

In a way it is rather regrettable to see people so ready to leave everything in the hands of others. The members of the council must have been saddened to see such a sparse turnout. While it compliments their efforts, it should be expected that when you are working with a budget close to three million dollars, that people would be very keen on what is being done. After all, it is their money.

Accident compensation

Highways Minister Gordon Taylor has announced that the provincial government is interested in a government-operated scheme that would automatically compensate persons injured in automobile accidents. The government expects that this would eliminate many court cases arising from accidents and ensure that all injured persons would receive compensation regardless of whose fault the accident was.

If the idea is given lots of thought and planning, it could turn out to be very worthwhile. It is possible that such a scheme would lower automobile insurance rates in the province, which is something in its favor, especially since the rates in this province are so high; but there are other implications that must be given serious consideration.

First of all, will the compensation be enough? The Workmen's Compensation Board has a set rate to be paid in regards to loss, such as an arm, leg, eye, etc., and we've often considered it to be too low. If this new idea adopts this plan, after which is is expected to be modelled, then it will not begin to put a stop to the court cases that prevail at the moment. A set fee for the loss of an arm, for instance, does not necessarily help a man who supports a large family and whose occupation requires that he have the use of two arms.

Another aspect to consider is that although this could lower the insurance rates, it may end up costing the driver more than he is paying in premiums at the present time. It has been suggested that the money for this compensation would be raised by levies on insurance companies, car manufacturers, or directly from car owners when licence plates are purchased. This fund that is needed will have to be a large one, so that the levies will have to be considerable, and we still have to pay, even indirectly.

It's a good idea, but much study is needed before it proceeds. The cost of living is plenty high without doing anything to increase it. Compulsory car insurance might be a better answer in the long run

Friendly terms

More often than not, all laws and resolutions that are agreed to by our 'rulers' in both the provincial and federal governments are products of the party in power and passed only because they can mount a bigger vote than the opposition. It was, therefore, rather pleasant to note that on the provincial scene at least, that this does not always be the case. Just recently, the Conservatives proposed a resolution, the Liberals seconded it, and it was adopted by a house that consists mainly of Social Credit members

It is too bad that government can't always be so agreeable Opposition too often feel that they must oppose everything the government proposes, while the government feels that it must squelch everything proposed by the opposition. They are supposed to be on opposite sides, but, should they be when good legislation is proposed? We think not

MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA. — In the heat of the moment and the television lights, it was not surprising that many suggestions that accompanied the so-called crisis on Parliament Hill were neither practical nor logical One oft-repeated statement was that Mr. Pearson had no other course but to resign or bring about dissolution of Parliament

If that had been true the country would now be facing a political and economic crisis—if not chaos. It would have been heading into an election campaign, a good part of which would have been fought without anyone knowing who was fighting whom. There would have been as many possible government stands on important issues of the day as there are Liberal leadership candidates.

The economic and financial result, serious enough in any event, would have been far worse than the 1962 dollar crisis, when at least there was a government capable of making commitments. Resignation would have been nearly as chaotic with the probability that a Stanfield Government would not last as long as the famous Meighen shadow cabinet.

Another possibility might have been a dissolution accompanied by a postponement of the Pearson retirement until after the election, but the uncertainties here would have been nearly as great, and the impact on the Canadian dollar and Government securities possibly as serious.

By process of elimination Mr. Pearson chose the right course because it was the only responsible course If no precedent could be found, then it was a time to set precedent. The real crisis was over when the Prime Minister on his return refused to panic.

His constitutional justification for the conference motion was far from air tight. He quoted the British authority, Professor Ivor Jennings, to the effect that what the Government would treat as a matter of sufficient importance to resign or call an election was primarily a matter for the government to decide. But Mr Diefenbaker who said little in the House, but more in front of the microphones and cameras, was unkind enough to quote Jennings in a qualifying statement that did a good deal to weaken the Pearson case

It was Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield who really threw it out of court

"If any member of that front bench including the Prime Minister, had been asked before that vote was taken whether or not it was a vote of confidence", he challenged "every one of those honourable gentlement would have said, without hesitation 'Certainly it is'"

To that extent Mr Pearson's motion of confidence did as was charged ask the House of Commons to reverse itself But the wording of the motion was never pertinent Few victories in the House of Commons are won on semantics

If the Liberals were stunned by the defeat of Finance Minister Sharp's tax bill Opposition members were hardly less stunned though they covered it up nobly. After a night's reflection it is doubtful if more than a small proportion of the members wanted to precipitate an election and more than likely that if the Prime Minister asked for a vote of confidence he would get it

But having voted that confidence and paved the way for the Liberals to hold their Leadership Convention as Mr Stanfield put it in "peace and tranquility" the House of Commons would have every right to expect that the new Prime Minister, whoever he is to be, would seek a mandate from the electorate as soon as he can reasonably do so

Mr Pearson, after emphasizing that this is a matter that will be decided by his successor, suggests that it should not be until the Fall Some of the leadership candidates, however, relaxing in the aftermath of the crisis, appear to be even less in a hurry. They are talking about an election early in 1969.

This would mean that a new Prime Minister with a new government even if it included many of the present cabinet members, would rule the country for nine or ten months, and probably longer because no one likes a midwinter vote

The nearest parallel to the present situation was the succession of Mr St Laurent from the late Mackenzie King. Mr. St. Laurent was elected Liberal leader in August 1948. On Mr. King's retirement in November of that year he was called on by the Governor General to form a government which with a few exceptions was composed of members of the King cabinet though each had to visit Government House and be re-sworn. The newest member of the King cabinet was one Lester B. Pearson who had been appointed Secretary of State for External Affairs in September and had been elected to the House of Commons less than a month before.

The St. Laurent image was hardly better established than will be that of most of the leadership candidates and the successful one is likely to be called on to form a government very shortly after the convention. Mr. St. Laurent made one whirlwind pre-campaign tour across the country which earned him the title of "Uncle Louis" and called an election in June, just seven months later

But to hang on to office without a mandate for even this shorter period he needed the comfortable majority that he had inherited in the Commons. The Drew Opposition, encouraged by a series of by-election successes challenged the government [illegible] quently before the date [illegible]

Without the events of the last two weeks it would have been reasonable then to have expected a 1968 election. The defeat in the House and the tempers roused make it difficult to believe that the new government could be sustained for more than a few months Just as soon as the Conservatives have completed an organization which is probably well underway, the House will be restive

Even if the government could continue to win votes there would be obstruction of business and a general deterioration which would convey itself to the electorate. The present apparent reluctance to have an election would change to a demand

All this seems to map the weeks ahead as clearly as anything as uncharted as politics can be mapped Parliament will be prorogued or recessed within the next two or three weeks It will return with the new government in April or May The session in this case would probably last into July with dissolution at its end and an election in September or October

Check-off assured in Ontario and Alberta

Alberta and Ontario governments are on the road to enacting legislation to allow cattle producing associations to check off 10 cents a head on all cattle sold for slaughter to establish a promotion and research fund

Two speakers at the Western Stock Growers' Association's 72nd annual convention at Calgary, February 16th gave this information to delegates

Bert Hargrave of Walsh Alberta, chairman of the WSGA marketing committee, said the association has been assured by the Alberta attorney-general's department that enabling legislation will be passed at the current session of the Legislature to allow the check-off.

The check-off will apply to all cattle and calves sold for slaughter (including dairy cattle).

The non-refundable check-off will raise upwards of $250,000 annually, of which half will be turned over to the parent body

Nahajonich - Nahirniak wedding held Feb. 17

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

Holden Lutheran Church was the scene of a lovely afternoon wedding, Saturday, Feb. 17, when Vestin Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nahirniak of Holden, became the bride of Allan Nahajonich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nahajonich of the Daysland district. Pastor Stanley Rude officiated at the ceremony, and Mrs. Angus Keith was the organist, accompanying the church choir.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal A-line white gown with lace bodice and lily-point sleeves, and long lace train matching the gown. Her short nylon net veil was held in place with a crown of white flowers, and her only jewelry was drop ear-rings; and her bouquet was of white and red roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Roselle Trafanko, bridesmaids Linda Wedikand, Sharon Larson, Marilyn Nahajonich, and the flower girl, Debbie Trafenaka, wore identical formal red velvet gowns and carried bouquets of red and white roses.

Bestmen were Larry Mallick, John Sales, Glen Kasha and Rudy Nahajonich, and the ringbearer was Ricky Chapman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Nahirniak chose a semi-formal sheath dress and matching coat of tan lace with American Beauty accessories, gold colored shoes and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother chose a two-piece metallic green suit with darker green accessories, a yellow hat, and her corsage was also of pink roses.

A reception was held in the Holden Community Hall, where the bride's table was centred with a beautifully decorated wedding cake, with pink roses and green leaves and topped by a miniature bride and groom. The cake was flanked with bouquets of white and pink carnations and pink candles.

The Animal Industry Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture has recently initiated a performance testing program for commercial beef cattle herds. The purpose of the program, says J. S. Lore, provincial livestock specialist, is to help commercial cattle producers select superior animals for breeding purposes and to increase the overall productivity of their herds. Until now the performance testing program has been available to only purebred breeders.

Under the new program, the Department of Agriculture will supply commercial cattlemen with herd record books and the forms for submitting the necessary information on breeding dates, calf weights, etc. The Department will also process records. After the records have been processed, the Department will issue a report to each breeder containing the performance test results on each calf in his herd. Commercial cattlemen who would like to enrol their herds in the performance testing program can obtain an application form from their local District Agriculturists, or from the Animal Industry Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture in Edmonton.

The week's news from Alberta's legislature

(by Tony Cox)

The severest warning to Albertans for some time was issued in the Legislature Friday by Provincial Treasurer, A. O. Aalborg.

If present trends in both revenue and expenditure projections continue, serious consideration must be given to introducing substantial new forms of taxation to meet the growing appetites of education and health.

While the Government prefers the phrase 'fiscal restraint' rather than 'austerity', what Mr. Aalborg really was hinting "be prepared for a sales tax next year."

But for the moment, Alberta will drift along with a deficit of $70,458,110. This is well below the estimated $110 million deficit for the current fiscal year caused mainly by a $40 million drop in anticipated sales of oil and natural gas exploration permits.

For the first time, Alberta may have to borrow money as the remaining liquid reserves will evaporate to neutralize the deficit.

As for additional revenues, automobile licence fees have increased $5.00 and subject to some vamp loss, the fuel oil tax will jump in price three cents a gallon July 1st adding $21 million to provincial coffers. Purple gas will have a three cent tax but remains free of the present 12 cent gasoline tax.

From estimated expenditures of $893,174,485, up 7 per cent from this year, education takes 30.2 per cent and health 21.8 per cent, which represents about more than half of the Government spending.

Concern is being expressed about the reduction of U.S. capital investment in Alberta. So serious, in fact, Premier Manning says he has written to the Federal Government requesting them to submit Alberta's resolution to Washington urging re-allocation of Americans guidelines for investment.

The Government has abandoned its policy of restricting enrollment at the University of Alberta in Edmonton to 18,000 students. Because of pyramiding costs, it is more economical to expand the present campus than build a second university, said Premier Manning.

Education Minister, Ray Reierson, said if school boards want more money for capital construction this year, they will have to borrow it elsewhere. The $58-million available from the Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation has already been shelled out, he said. The Government has no immediate plans to build a junior college in Edmonton.

Welfare Minister A. J. Hooke admitted there are many people on welfare who refuse employment for fear of losing their assistance cheques. Welfare doled out $37-million last year for the needy and the greedy.

Casting shadows at morality, Mr. Hooke said 3,535 children were born out of wedlock in the province last year, equal to about 11 per cent of all Alberta births.

Adamantly opposed to expanding the day care centre program to provide 'baby sitting services on a grand scale' the House agreed to consider an expanded program as circumstances require and finances permit.

Albertans can expect to motor from Calgary to Banff on a four lane divided freeway by 1971.

Highways Minister Gordon Taylor says the Province has exchanged 13,180 acres, most of it in the Bow River Forestry Reserve for 340 acres of right of way through the Stoney Indian Reserve. The land swap saves the Government about $8-million in road construction costs enabling it to go across the Reserve rather than around it.

The final report of the Alberta Department of Youth, hockey study committee, tabled by Youth Minister, Robert Clark said it has sufficient evidence to indicate that amateur hockey and its players are being exploited by professional organizations.

Alberta's distressed potato industry may get its needs if the presentation of a 'value for duty' Federal Government heeds a Legislative request for the implementation in the Customs Act against U.S. potato dumping practices in Western Canada.

Across the floor, the fledgling Opposition is continuing to needle the Government and it shows no sign of running out of questions. As for the deficit budget, the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Lougheed accused the Government of 'not facing the realities of 1968' and Liberal Leader, Mr. Maccagno described it as 'timid.'

County of Beaver school committee meet

Tuesday, February 13, 1968

In regards to Skating Rink Grants, dealt with by motion 3/68, the Committee, appointed at the January meeting, had met with the Council of the Town of Viking and arrangements had been made for the Viking School to use the Viking Carena from 12:00 Noon each school day until 3:00 p.m. with teachers only supervising and with only two strings of lights being used; this at a cost of $300 for the season. This had been referred to the Council on Jan. 11th and, inasmuch as time was of essence, the Council had accepted the offer. Moved and carried that the report be accepted and action concurred in.

A letter from the County's solicitors, in regards to minors assisting the school caretakers, was referred to the School Committee. The question had arisen at one of the meetings of the caretakers where it was stated that some of them had their children helping with the work in the schools. The children were under age and were not being paid. The matter of whether or not this practice should be allowed had been discussed and it was decided to refer it to the County's solicitors for an opinion. The letter indicated that this practice should be discontinued inasmuch as the children would not be classified as employees under the Workmen's Compensation Act and in case of an accident there would be nothing to hinder the parents from suing the County. Notice to this effect had been mailed out to the caretaker at each school. Moved that the letter be accepted and the action concurred in. Carried unanimously.

Letters from the Viking High School Yearbook Committee and the Ryley High School Yearbook Committee, requesting a donation towards the publishing of the 1968 Yearbook, was referred to the committee. It was moved and carried that a donation of $10.00 be made to each school.

A letter from Alberta Advisory Committee on Educational Research, requesting a grant, was referred to the committee. Moved that a grant of $25.00 be approved. Carried.

A motion that Inspection Records from the Schools at Tofield, Ryley, Holden and Bruce, submitted by Northwestern Utilities Ltd., be accepted and referred to the Building Supervisor was carried unanimously.

It was moved and carried that the School Committee meet on Saturday, March 2nd, at 10:00 a.m., prior to the Annual Meeting to discuss the Financial Statement.

The Superintendent's Report was dealt with at this time. It was moved and carried unanimously that the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Wideman, from the Ryley School staff, effective in July, 1968, be accepted; that temporary teaching contract with Mrs. Bonnie Dunbar, from Feb. 1st 1968 to March 30, 1968 at the Viking School, be approved; that appointment of Miss Donna Lorraine Cookson to the staff of the County of Beaver, her duties to commence Sept. 3rd 1968, be accepted.

The report referred to teacher interviews at the Edmonton and Calgary Manpower Centres; referred to bursary students who would be returning to teach in the County during the 1968-1969 school year, referred to some that might return; referred to some who would be eligible to teach but wished to return to university.

The report indicated that a Junior High School Institute on Testing would be held Monday, March 18, from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., and on Tuesday, March 19, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Ryley Legion Hall. Teachers involved would be the teachers of grades 7, 8, and 9 in the various schools, a total of 35 teachers. The Resource persons would be: the Superintendent, the Supervisor of Instruction; teachers, Mr. Cribb and Mr. Ross, plus other teachers. The cost would be the hall rent $20 and lunch, an estimate of $70. The report recommended that Grades 7, 8, and 9 be released from attendance at school on Tuesday, March 19, that the School Committee pay portion of the cost of the institute. Moved and carried that the recommendations be concurred in.

The report referred to the A.T.A. convention on Feb. 29 and March 1 at Chateau Lacombe in Edmonton and the fact that it was the usual practice of the School Committee to appoint delegates. The chairman stated that he had received two tickets and invitation to the banquet on Feb 29th. Moved that the chairman, Cr Roddick and the vice-chairman, Cr Kropielnicki attend this function. Carried unanimously.

The County of Beaver Crest had been discussed at the Principals' Association meeting and had met with the approval of the Principals. A contest among art students in the schools was suggested but it was also suggested that the crest, designed by a pupil, be not necessarily the final product; that the services of an artist or designer to complete the design should be required. It was moved and carried that the chairman, Cr Roddick, act on the Crest Committee if and when it is established.

The matter of Centralization of the High Schools in the County was raised by the School Committee and was discussed to some considerable extent. It was realized that in matter of time further centralization would be necessary and that possibly some preliminary study should be done in this regard. It was finally moved that the Superintendent be requested to compile tentative terms of reference for an educational survey and that the Department of Education and/or the University of Alberta be, in time, requested to conduct a survey of the County for this purpose. Carried.

The Bus Supervisor attended at this time and the matter of new buses was discussed and it was moved that tenders be called for five 48-passenger buses and two 36-passenger buses and that the County Council be requested to apply for a five-year loan for the purchase of those buses. Carried.

Let's go fishing

This is a scene south-west of Tofield which is not unfamiliar at this time of year when the sun is warm and the snow melts. Many such 'small lakes' are formed as the thaw hits the countryside. — The Mercury Newsphoto.

Modern etiquette

Q. When a couple decides to have a party to announce their engagement, who is supposed to give this party?

A. Normally this is given by the bride's parents, just before the published announcement appears in the newspapers. Relatives and good friends of both families are invited, so that they are all "first to know".

Q. Is it permissible to sip water or coffee at the table while one has food in the mouth?

A. This is very poor manners, since it gives the impression that you are "washing down" your food. Sip your water or coffee only when your mouth is empty of food.

Q. When attaching a card to a wedding gift to be sent, is it necessary to write the bride's name on the envelope enclosing the little card?

A. Although this is neither necessary nor usually done, there is nothing improper about it.

Q. When a restaurant table demands that some of the persons in a group be seated against a wall and others on the aisle, how is the seating [illegible]

A. Women [illegible] always seated on the divan against the wall, with the men on the aisle facing them. In this way, the women are not subjected to the traffic in the aisle where they might be jostled by passersby.

Q. When someone to whom you have just been introduced says, "I'm so glad to have met you", isn't a smile of acknowledgement sufficient?

A. Just a wordless smile would seem, I think, to have a condescending air about it. Much better to accompany the smile with a pleasant "Thank you".

Q. Is it the duty of the bride to buy the dresses and accessories for her bridesmaids?

A. No. She selects the designs, materials and colors — but they must pay for [illegible] own outfits.

Q. I've been told that a bride always wears gloves. True?

A. Formerly, yes. Today, however, it's up to the individual.

Holden Women attend World Day of Prayer

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

The service for the World Day of Prayer was held on Friday, March 1 in the Holden Lutheran Church with a very good turn-out of ladies to participate in this world-wide event.

The service was opened by Mrs. N. L. Campbell who gave a resume of the lift of Mrs. Rathie Selvaratnam of Ceylon who is the chairman of the Asian Church Women's Conference and compiled the service for 1968, having the world theme, "Bear One Another's Burdens". Mrs. Campbell then outlined briefly the meaning of the theme as it effected all in the many phases of life.

Taking part in the service were Meadames Kathleen Hurum, Laura Hultholm, Margaret Olsen and Mrs. Schwanke of the Lutheran Church Women, and Mrs. Edith Carlson of the UCW. Mrs. Olive Good was organist for the service and also accompanied Mrs. Dorothy Bateman the soloist who sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds".

A most interesting film was then shown on present day conditions in Bolivia, where 70% of the people are illiterate. The Bolivian government, with the help of health nurses and missionary teachers is attempting to overcome these conditions by instructing young soldiers, Indian peasants and poorer classes to read and write, then sending them out to various parts to teach and instruct others. Bolivia is a country rich in natural resources but the apathy of the Indian population has to be overcome by teachers and assistance from the "have countries" to take advantage of this.

Tofield has surplus on 1967 operations

The annual meeting of ratepayers of the Town of Tofield was held Monday, Feb 19th in the meeting room of the Community Centre, with 43 ratepayers in attendance. Wm. Christensen was appointed chairman, and Rilla Halverson recording secretary.

The Municipal Inspector's report was read by Wm. Christensen, which listed a number of transactions authorized by resolutions in Council which should have been authorized by Bylaws.

GOOD FINANCIAL POSITION

Rita Halverson read the Secretary -Treasurer's report, stating that 1967 had been a good year for the Town of Tofield. The Town had operated at a surplus of over $12,000, and the cash position was improved Total tax credits amounted to 99.5% of total levy and expenses had been kept within the budget. Actual school costs for the Town were increased by 6 mills for 1967, but by cutting back on expenses, only a 3-mill increase was passed on to the taxpayer. Six town lots were sold resulting in the taxable assessment being increased by $12,300 for 1968. At present the Town is undertaking a General Assessment for taxation in 1968.

The Tofield Municipal Hospital report was read by George McFadzean, town representative on the Hospital Board, showing that 1,152 patients had received care at the Hospital during 1967. There were 58 births and 15 deaths. The hospital operated at 74% occupancy on a budget of $300,765.

LIBRARY REPORT

Ed Watson, chairman for the Tofield Library Board, reported on Library activities. The Library membership for 1967 was 162, with an average of 132 books borrowed per week. The board purchased 307 new volumes and 110 volumes were donated. The Library operated on a budget of $621.43, with the greater amount of revenue received from a Provincial grant and a matching town grant. For 1968, the Board plans to erect a new set of shelves and will add the Library in purchasing a set of encyclopaedias.

The Emergency Measures Organization report was read by Father Scriven, co-ordinator for the town of Tofield. He stated that the major item of interest for 1967 had been the visit of the Provincial information trailer on July 1, when 350 adults and 450 children visited the trailer.

SEVEN FIRES IN '67

The Fire Department activities report read by Fire Chief William Friesen, indicated the Department had attended seven fires in 1967. Losses had made good use of the respirator purchased last year. The volunteer firemen had had at least one practise per week besides practises with the rural firemen to the north of Town. Mr. Friesen asked that Council authorize the purchase of 200 feet of 2½" hose, and also asked Council to seriously consider a new fire engine.

Mrs. Mabel Boyle, welfare officer for the Town of Tofield, reported for the Welfare Department. Mrs. Boyle had made 28 calls involving applicants for welfare assistance — 11 families received assistance in 1967.

COUNTY SCHOOL REPORT

Harry Wilkie, County School representative for the Town, reported for the School Committee. He had attended three regular meetings and three special meetings since his appointment in November 1967. The County does not foresee any difficulty in hiring teachers for the coming school term because ten students are available on the bursary system. The teacher wage contract is due for renewal this year. There are 35 County-owned buses and 11 contract buses travelling a distance of 3,270 miles per day. The caretakers are paid according to number of rooms, years of experience and number of pupils in each school. The School Committee does not plan on any capital expenditures for 1968.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Finance Committee reported by Clr. Herndon stated that the Town's finances were being built up, but that control must be exercised to guard against overspending.

Police and Bylaws Committee report was read by Clr. Evavtl, stating that fines received under the Town Bylaws had decreased due to the new Provincial Traffic Act coming into effect July 1, 1967. The charges under the Criminal Code were cut in half, whereas the charges under the Vehicles and Highways Act had doubled, netting the Town $1,700 in revenue. Twenty-three accidents were investigated as compared to 18 in 1966. Convictions under the Liquor Control Act remained the same, but more revenue was realized by the Town. Fines collected in 1967 increased by over $1,000

Water and Light Committee report by Clr. Swift stated that no major changes had taken place in 1967. It was noted that the machinery at the Water Treatment Plant was 8 years old, and that thought will have to be given to a water tower soon. In case the plant should break down, the Town could possibly find itself without water.

Town Property Committee report was read by Clr. Klassen, requesting the co-operation of the ratepayers during a Clean - Up week, the date to be announced in the early spring. The Centennial Park had been completed at a cost of $645 — the balance of costs were received from the Senior Governments in the form of Centennial grants.

Public Works Committee report was read by Clr. Patterson,

Dolores Nord, Ryley, wins 4-H 'Bake-Oven' crown

(Mrs. R. Davick)

A month ago, six girls from various parts of Alberta, including Dolores Nord of Ryley, were chosen to represent the 16 Girls' Food Clubs in Alberta.

The girls were told they would be competing for the Alberta 4-H Baking Queen Crown. The event is a new one, offered in connection with the Seed Fair and Bull Sale. This was held at the Stampede Agricultural building at Calgary by the provincial department of youth as part of Achievement Week, on March 2nd and 3rd.

Other competitors were Gwen Adams, Priddis, Jane Quintin, Okotoks, Joan Glaiser, Midnapore, Barbara Taylor, Darwell and Lee Suggett of Bentley.

Upon arrival Friday night, the girls were given rooms at the Elbow Lodge Motor Hotel. Saturday morning, the six young homemaker students showed their cake-baking skills to the "veteran."

Brown were furrowed and hands whirled as the girls prepared their products for judging. Judy Murta, 4-H Club supervisor, was the judge, testing the cakes for quality, shape, baking, texture, lightness, moisture, and most of all flavor, and she declared Dolores Nord of Ryley the winner.

Dolores has completed six years in the Food Club, three years in the Cooking Club and this year is in grade 12 at Ryley.

The display was designed to attract those attending the seed fair and bull sales over the week-end and is a pilot project sponsored by the Federated Farmers Co-operative and the department of youth.

As well as competing for the Queen award the girls demonstrated their skill in preparing fancy salads, desserts and fancy sandwiches all day Saturday and Sunday.

After the demonstrations on Saturday, the girls went out for Chinese food at Linda Mae's, then to a show.

Are there no limits?

Monday's performance in the House of Commons when the Speaker was forced to turn back Finance Minister Sharp's new tax bill raises the question of just how inept the government can be. Surely, one would think, the Liberal government would examine every letter of the new bill to make certain it would face the minimum of hurdles, especially after their humiliating defeat of only a few days earlier.

The government members know the rules by which the game is played, just as well as the Speaker or the Opposition, so their fumbling and amateurishness leave them open to serious doubts either as to their intelligence or their intentions. With a leadership parley coming up in less than a month, and with the Opposition's solid blockade of the previous tax bill fresh in their minds, surely their intentions could not be to develop such an embarrassment as Monday's objection from the Speaker.

For Mr. Sharp, it would seem unfortunately to cut short his pretensions to the leadership. Much as we have admired Mr. Sharp's strength of character in past times, his frankness and his seeming grasp of the situations confronting the country, we cannot conceive of the delegates at the Liberal leadership conference placing their confidence in a man who twice within the single session has let the ball get away from him. They must surely be wondering how prone he would be to fumble if the top post of all, with its infinitely more serious problems, were dropped in his lap.

Cameras in the house?

One move that should be made in the near future is the admission of television cameras to both the provincial and federal legislatures, so that we, the people can get a first hand glimpse of what is going on, and not end up, as usual, with three or four versions as to what actually did transpire.

Politicians are the most evasive people in the world. While they might not tell little white lies, they avoid the truth if it will hurt, but so word their statements so as to say absolutely nothing. They are the most difficult people in the world to get straight answers to questions We can vividly recall one time, when, in answer to a question, one politician talked for nearly twenty minutes satisfying his questioner, until, some time later, the latter suddenly realized that his question hadn't been answered

When something happens in the House, all parties come out with different versions.and we all know there can be only correct one Statements are made and then denied, or are said to be misquoted What we see and hear for ourselves, we can judge

Any member worthy of his pay will not object to the admission of cameras to house sittings. It is only those who are inadequate and fear exposure, that battle to keep everything secret. Those who are loathe to attend sessions on a regular basis would also not be too fussy about cameras

In this province, it would be quite understandable if the back-benchers strongly protested the admission of cameras to their sessions. These men are hardly ever heard from, from the beginning of the house to its final closure What do they do? Should they fear television exposure? Do they have anything to hide? Our MLA's are seeking a pay increase It has been said by many that the only persons deserving of an increase are members of the cabinet, that the rest of the sitting members do nothing to justify a pay increase. Is this true? Are they, as suggested by some, strictly 'yes-men' for the party in power? Let's put in television cameras and find out for ourselves, who is who, and what is what

Editor, The Mercury
Dear Sir

Your editorial in the issue of March 7, regarding the County of Beaver annual ratepayers' meeting, seems to indicate a lack of perception of the present nature of these meetings and the background leading up to the present.

From years of experience and observation, I would like to offer the suggestion that the lack of attendance at these meetings does not indicate that "the officials . . . must have done a nearly perfect job", or that "the people are satisfied with what is going on"; but on the contrary it is an indication that the ratepayers are realizing the absolute futility and uselessness of attending these meetings in the manner in which they are now conducted.

Furthermore, this is exactly the situation desired by the government and intentionally brought about by their arbitrary centralization of authority and power, thus removing all local representation ever farther away from the reach of the ratepayers; and by arbitrarily reducing the number of elected local representatives, and so making them more easily amenable to government authority

Another peculiarity is: what happens to a man when he is elected to the county council? He seems to completely forget that he is still only "another farmer's neighbor", with the same problems and difficulties, but becomes a willing servitor of "the department" If you question this, just try appealing your land assessment and see what kind of treatment you get from the council. (In this I will gladly make exception for the possible different attitudes of the more recently elected members of the council).

We all know that the work of the council is quite completely circumscribed by the very nature of the county set-up, but, I have still to hear any voice of objection explanation or complaint in this regard from a councillor

Now let us go back to the period before the county was set up There were two local authorities the municipal council and the divisional school board There were two annual meetings—one for each group, and one half day allotted to each There was usually a good attendance, with unstifled discussion.

Contrast this with the present where we have one half day for the public works section of the council, the school committee, the agriculture service board, and one or possibly two others. All these must be pushed through and take precedence over full discussion, resulting in frustration of [illegible] attending.

Of course we may ask a few questions but to what avail? [illegible] annual statement remains the same, regardless. If there is question of waste or mismanagement, it too goes on regardless of complaint.

Council members are no longer amenable to public opinion, but simply servants of higher authority.

As an example of how well "the people are satisfied with what is going on"—after all these years of highly ballyhood progress and prosperity, I still have to negotiate a mud-hole in order to drive one-half mile to the gravelled road.

Consumers support milk substitute

Because of widespread consumer acceptance in the United States of blended and substitute milk products and the fact that [illegible] in Canada are [illegible] researching production and marketing techniques the Consumers' Association of Canada [illegible] these products should be made available to consumers in Canada.

Allergy, not fungus

For years, doctors have blamed fungus as the major cause of foot rash. "Athlete's foot" is a household term which has made money for many makers of patent medicines. All this may soon change. Doctors are having second thoughts about their fungus [illegible]. Surveys indicate most [illegible] of the feet is not of fungus origin at all. It is caused by allergy to leather or rubber in shoes. The researchers point out that leather manufacturers are using tanning [illegible] which prevent the [illegible] from subsequently be[illegible] out by sweat The British medical journal, The Lancet, noting the increasing incidence of foot rash caused by leather or rubber, has suggested regulations which would require manufacturers to give retailers information about the leather and rubber used in footwear. They should be told whether the leather is chrome-tanned or vegetable-tanned. And they should also be told whether any of the known allergies are present in the rubber used in their footwear.

stating that 32 blocks had received an application of oil, with Main Street receiving a second application. Four blocks of sidewalk and two cross-walks were completed in 1967, and approximately $4,000 worth of gravel had been distributed throughout the Town. Cr. Fetterson said that the purchase of a front-end loader was being investigated.

MAYOR'S REPORT

Mayor's report, by Dr. W. H. Prudeury, brought to the attention of the ratepayers the living conditions of persons on fixed incomes. He informed the members that a new Town and Village Act, namely Bill 20, would very likely go into effect this year, which would enforce administrative changes. Dr. Prudeury told of the meeting of Council with Associated Engineering Services, the Department of Highways representatives and the Planning Board, regarding the possibility of paving Main Street. The Mayor briefed the meeting on the financial and administrative aid that could be received for organized recreational programs. To receive financial aid of any significance, the County would have to take part in the program. He wished to thank all the volunteer workers for their many hours' work donated for the welfare of the Town.

George McFadzean expressed his desire to have the Town proceed with paving, noting that it appeared the Towns showing a progressive attitude were the Towns that were increasing in size, whereas Tofield was just holding its own.

Mayor Sellar wished to thank the Town for assisting the Tofield Golf Club with their financial aid. He stated that the membership fees had decreased from 1966, and he sincerely hoped more citizens would support the Golf Club this year. In 1967, all persons under the age of 16 years were permitted to golf free, thus creating an interest in the sport by the young people of the Town.

Mrs. L. Glover asked if the water meters could be read every three months instead of monthly. She was informed that this would defeat the purpose of metering and also that it had been proven that it is less difficult to collect three small bills than one large one. Ed Watson asked Council to consider a three-month summer water rate to encourage home-owners to keep their lawns green.

Rev. W. H. McDonald wished to draw attention to the room left behind by the contractors installing underground telephone lines. He urged the Town to press the matter until restoration was made. Calgary Power representative also requested the Town's help in getting the A.G.T. to remove cables from Calgary Power poles so that the poles could be removed.

Father Scrivon asked for the reasons in the delay in erecting the Street directional signs. He was informed that the desired material was found to be too expensive, but was promised the signs would be erected as soon as the frost was out of the ground.

Pupils hear talk about Australia

(Carolyn Chilkowich)

A talk on Australia was given to Grades 4-6 of Tofield School on March 8, by Miss Jan James of Australia. She first located Australia on the map, then showed some slides. Later on, Miss James showed a few stuffed animals, such as the kangaroo, koala and platypus, along with a boomerang and a woomera The woomera, she said, was to help throw a spear. Woomera means "throwing stick" in English.

While the children were asking questions, she passed around real kangaroo skins. The talk was very interesting and everyone enjoyed it.

Narwhal stamp to be issued April 10th

The Narwhal of Canada's arctic seas, or sea unicorn as it was known to early explorers, will be illustrated in its natural environment on a Canada Post Office four colour Wildlife 5¢ stamp to be released April 10.

The new issue marks the return of John A. Crosby, of Ottawa, as a designer of Canadian stamps. His polar bear design was selected for use on a Canadian Wildlife issue released in 1953. Since doing his first oil painting at the age of five, Mr. Crosby, a native of Toronto currently employed with the National Parks Service, has been chosen to illustrate many authoritative naturalist publications including the 1966 National Museum work "The Birds of Canada"

The new stamp will portray the partially submerged male narwhal, identifiable by the remarkably elongated tusk, swimming in the blue green waters of Canada's arctic seas against a background of ice floes

Customary First Day Cover Service will be provided by the Postmaster, Ottawa 2, Ontario.

The narwhal is a small whale rarely exceeding 16 feet in length. It owes its name, "corpse whale" in old Norse, to its curious coloration: slate blue in new born young, becoming flecked with intense white patches and splashes. In old age most of the lower half is pure white. The most remarkable characteristic is the tusk which develops in the upper left jaw of the male. This tusk may grow to a length of 7 feet and measure 3 to 4 inches in diameter at the base. In arctic Canada, narwhals are mainly confined to the north and east coasts of Baffin Island and the Repulse Bay area in northern Hudson Bay.

Draft dodgers

The war in Vietnam is raising more of a storm in the United States than any other item since the race question was first raised. The fact that this is election year in that country has just intensified the issue as to whether or not the Americans should continue to fight or should withdraw all their troops from South Vietnam.

One of the side issues of the war is the large number of draft dodgers who have left their homes, and have taken up residence in this country. They have been received with open arms, and probably many of them feel like heroes, and this is something that they shouldn't feel.

Whether or not the United States should be in Vietnam remains to be seen, but by leaving their country in a time of crisis these men have branded themselves as draft-dodgers, as well as deserters and cowards. The argument has been put forth that this was their only method of protesting the American decision to continue the conflict. Poppycock! If they ran like that on the battlefield, it would be called desertion and they would likely be shot. By coming to Canada, they escape not only the war and their possible involvement, but almost all possibility of being rightly punished. We say almost, because the chances of them ever being able to return home are very slim. Friends and relatives will never be seen again, unless of course they come up to Canada for a visit. Looking at this from the brighter side, it probably does help to increase our tourist trade. But, in all seriousness, Canada should adopt a strong attitude towards the admission of these deserters into our country. They have already proved to be 'poor' citizens of one country, so why should they be any different in this country? Furthermore, how would we feel about our own people running off to another country, if the situation were reversed.

House to adjourn

The House of Parliament will be adjourning soon to give the Liberal leadership hopefuls a chance to do some active campaigning before the big convention next month. It has been a rough time for these hopefuls since Pearson first announced his retirement, as he has, as much as possible, kept them quite busy in Ottawa, and then a few foolish blunders cost them valuable time and tarnished their images. Considering the candidates, and considering the other party leaders, the next election in this country could be the dullest we have ever witnessed. The only colour on the scene is being supplied by Trudeau, and we have our doubts as to whether he'll get the leadership of the Liberal Party; and by no stretch of the imagination could Robert Stanfield be called a colourful character . . . rather the opposite, to be more accurate.

The election of a new leader for the Liberals should be a close one. A year or more ago this wouldn't have been the case, but time changes everything. The top 'pros' in the race, such as Martin, Sharp and Hellyer, have either made mistakes or have been involved in raging controversies, and none of this will help them. It does, however, give some of the lesser lights a better chance as emerging as the new leader of the Liberal Party and as the next Prime Minister of this country.

Easter seals

With reports of the first robin and early rising gopher, comes another annual event . . . one deserving the support of every citizen. The provincial Easter Seal campaign kicked off March 12, and Easter Seals have been sent to every home. With a provincial objective of $189,400, this year's campaign will need YOUR support to go over the top. Upon the success of this campaign depends the continuation of many and varied Easter Seal Services which help thousands of crippled children to enjoy a healthier, happier life. MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA — PRAGUE—It is 20 years since Czechoslovakia slipped behind the Iron Curtain and shut herself off from her Western neighbours.

And it is 11 years since Hungary revolted against Moscow's dictates and sparked a bloody clash between lightly-armed civilians and massive Soviet firepower.

In both these countries today the yearning for freedom is still intense. Again the pressure is building up for a break with Soviet authority. And this time it looks as though Moscow may permit it to happen.

Prague today is a very different city than it was five years ago, a touring party of Canadian newspapermen discovered.

Five years ago the Communist freeze was complete. No one dared to speak of those in authority in critical terms. Any hint of discontent was given only in whispers.

LIBERALIZATION

Today a new generation of "liberal" Communists has taken over, and President Antonin Novotny, the old Stalinist who has ruled this country with an iron fist, is discredited and on the way out.

He was ousted from the key post of Communist party boss two months ago, and although he was permitted to keep his title as head of state, he no longer weilds any power. Now there are public demands for his complete resignation.

The same process of liberalization seems to be under way in Poland, where university students have engaged in mass protests at restrictive measures employed by the authorities there.

In both countries the revolt against harsh control has been sparked by writers and intellectuals who appear to occupy a more exalted [illegible] in Communist society than [illegible] do in the West. The new trend is to freedom of expression, both of the written and spoken word.

IRON CURTAIN HAS MOVED

Western publications are finding their way into these countries and barriers to trade and tourism are coming down. It is in fact much easier for a Canadian to get into Czechoslovakia these days than it for a Czech to enter Canada.

"You don't realize that the Iron Curtain no longer exists on this side of the Atlantic," a Czech foreign ministry official said earnestly.

"Today it is on your side."

He cited examples of delays of up to three weeks for Czech officials and diplomats seeking visas to enter Canada on official business.

At Ferihegy Airport in Budapest and at the [illegible] Austrian border visas are issued for tourist travel without delay.

BARGAIN COUNTERS

Czechoslovakia seeks to lure [illegible] with [illegible] exchange rate twice the official rate of exchange for travellers' cheques. This makes all Czech goods and services half-price to the visitor, and if bargains still seem few, [illegible] far better off than the Czechs themselves, who enjoy [illegible] favours.

Everywhere [illegible] the rusty [illegible] the Western visitor is made to feel welcome not only for his money but for his friendship as well.

There is intense interest in the West and its customs. Czechs, Hungarians, Poles and Russians [illegible] dance to Western tunes [illegible] Western fashions. The [illegible] Budapest [illegible] Mont[illegible] Toronto [illegible] the [illegible] are [illegible]. Differences between the East and West are still apparent, however, particularly in the degree of

Wage and salaries

Wages and salaries remain low under Communist rule. In Hungary, the average income ranges around $65 a month, but rents are also infinitesimal, and it is possible for a married man to get along comfortably [illegible] on as little as $50.

Privately-owned cars are few. The streetcar remains the [illegible] method of urban [illegible]. The six-day work week is still the rule although in Czechoslovakia most workers now get alternate Saturdays off.

TWO SIDES TO THE COIN

There are, however, compensations to the Communist way of life. Because musicians, doctors, dentists, lawyers and business executives all earn approximately similar salaries, some features of our high cost Western society are not luxuries at all.

The simplest restaurant can afford a five-piece band to entertain diners, and health and education services are free to all.

With no profit incentive — although this form of capitalistic endeavor is gradually making its appearance — books are cheap, and cultural events available to all at reasonable cost.

Television, too, is regarded as an educational tool as much as an entertainment medium — and consequently prices are kept low enough that all may enjoy it.

Life is still not too attractive in these countries by Western standards. But any fair comparison would establish that it is much better for the masses today — in a materialistic way at least — than when Communism took over.

Starvation, disease and illiteracy has been overcome, [illegible] is vastly improved and [illegible] and slowly, life is getting [illegible] for everyone. If free[illegible] an unknown word [illegible] Curtain at least the tren[d] is in that direction.

Allergy, not fungus

For years, doctors have blamed fungus as the major cause of foot rash. [illegible] foot" is a household term [illegible] has made money for many makers of patent [illegible]. All this may soon [illegible] tors are having second thoughts about their fungus [illegible]. Surveys indicate [illegible] tis of the feet is not [illegible] origin at all. It is [illegible] allergy to leather or rubber in shoes. The researchers point out that leather [illegible] are using tanning [illegible] which prevent the [illegible] from subsequently being [illegible]ed out by sweat. The British medical journal "The Lancet" noting the increase [illegible] of foot rash caused by leather or rubber has suggested regulations which would require manufacturers to give [illegible] information about the leather and rubber used in footwear. They should be told whether the leather is chrome[illegible] or vegetable-tanned. And they should also be told whether any of the known allergens are present in the rubber used in their footwear.

A. F. A. President comments

The following are a few of the pertinent comments made recently by Nelson Malm, AFA President.

". . . I fear the barriers facing agricultural exports have increased for the immediate future . . . export movement of high quality western wheat will be of prime importance for a considerable time . . .

". . . There could be more research to develop high yielding quality feed grains . . . Alberta's farm cash receipts indicate 50 per cent from the sale of cattle and calves. I believe this can be further expanded . . .

"We must gain greater control of our products in the marketing place. Much as we detest it, we may have to give up some of our individual bargaining to gain this objective . . .

". . . There are some who advocate deserting the economic organizations they have helped build over the years . . . surely we have the wisdom to build on what we have. To do otherwise would be a serious retreat . . ."

SIGN UP FOR "PEP" AND PAY THE SAME AMOUNT EACH MONTH FOR GAS SERVICE
PAYMENT EQUALIZATION PLAN
Our PAYMENT EQUALIZATION PLAN provides a convenient method of paying your regular monthly gas bill in equal installments during the year. Under this plan, your gas bill payments never vary. Your annual gas consumption is calculated, the total cost divided by 12 and you pay this amount each month — building up a reserve in summer for the higher bills of winter. Actual consumption is of course recorded monthly, and noted on your bill — and adjustment to actual consumption is made every 12 months. It is available to all customers on request. May is the month such regular payments normally are started — so we invite interested customers to contact us now.

World food supplies must be trebled by the turn of the century if the world population, which is expected to double and to exceed 6 0 0 0 million by then, is to have enough to eat.

Modern etiquette

Q. When should you introduce yourself to newcomers in your neighborhood?

A. Not [illegible] you're sure they are completely settled down. Don't walk in on people the day they move in when [illegible]re busy and tired, and possibly in the midst of what seems to them an inextricable mess. They'll enjoy meeting you much more when you give them an opportunity to be at their best.

Q. Whose privilege is it to select the music to be played at a church wedding?

A. The bride's. But, of course, she should consult her minister regarding this, since some types of music are banned in certain churches.

Q. Is the recipient of a birth announcement always expected to respond with a gift of some kind?

A. Definately not—although it IS a nice response. It's up to how you feel about it.

Q. We've just received an invitation from friends to an "open house" in their new home. Are we supposed to bring a gift of some kind?

A. No. An "open house" is [illegible] in [illegible] nature of a reception. An invitation to a "house-warming," however, usually requires some sort of gift.

Q. I've always been under the impression that the breaking of bread and crackers into one's soup is bad manners, but I see it done all the time. How about this?

A. Although once upon a time this was frowned upon, it is now accepted.

Q. For a second marriage, is it permissible for me to have a close relative as my matron of honor, and also for my groom to have an attendant?

A. Certainly you should each have an attendant, and each of these, incidentally, serves as a witness, too.

Q. I've [illegible] criticized for wearing perfume in the office where I am employed. Is this really wrong?

A. Are you sure you aren't wearing a too-heavy type of per[illegible]? Otherwise, there is nothing at all wrong with wearing perfume in an office—a dainty and delicate fragrance, not a heavy cloying one.

Q. What sort of gift does a bride give her groom?

A. Usually something permanent and handsome for his personal use—a watch, cuff links, or a smartly-fitted travelling case are all useful and important gifts.

Q. [illegible] waffle with butter and syrup be cut with the knife, [illegible] it be cut [illegible] fork?

A. Like pancakes, waffles are usually cut with knife and fork.

Q. When guests are ushered into the dining room in a home, should [illegible] guest seat himself immediately at the table?

A. No. Everyone should stand quietly at the place assigned to him by the hostess, and remain standing until the hostess seats [illegible].

'68 is warmer than was 1967

If you thought that Centennial Year had its warm moments, then brace yourself, because indications are that 1968 is going to be even warmer, if the first two months are any gauge.

The average temperature for the first two months of this year is ten degrees as compared to 8.1 degrees for the same period in 1967, or nearly two degrees warmer.

The average temperature during February was 17 degrees, as compared to a year ago when it was 12.4 degrees. The daily maximum temperature was 25.4 degrees as compared to 23.8 degrees one year ago, while the minimum temperature in February of this year averaged 8.6 degrees, much higher than the same period last year when it was a cool one degree above zero.

The coldest day in February of this year was on the third day of the month when the mercury dipped to 18 degrees below zero, while in the Centennial Year the coldest day in February saw a dip to 24 degrees below zero on the 18th.

The warmest days during the past month were the 28th and 29th, when the temperature reached 51 degrees above. Last year, in February, the hottest weather also came on the final two days of the month as the mercury climbed to 43 degrees above zero.

It could be a long hot summer, when it does arrive.

(By Tony Cox, CFRN)

Alberta has strongly protested a new federal policy which reduces responsibility for the medical care of all but indigent Indians.

Health Minister Doctor J D Ross told the legislature that the federal government expects Indians to pay for medical and mental treatment from band or personal revenues. The alternative was for Indians to be subsidized under the Alberta Health Plan.

The matter came to a head Thursday when 200 Indian women marched on the legislature and presented a brief wanting to know just who is providing health care for them. Acting with dispatch, Premier Manning telegramed the Prime Minister asking for his personal intervention to delay any move until both levels of government and the Indians themselves could settle the issue. In its proposal to implement the scheme April 1, the Premier said the federal government had acted without consultation and financial compensation.

The federal director of medical services for Indians for the Prairie Region, Dr. O. J. Rath said the move was part of a general governmental spending cutback.

The new Alberta Housing Act will enable the province to undertake public housing and accommodation projects, land assembly and land development schemes but these will be done chiefly at the request of local authorities. Municipal Affairs Minister, Edgar Gerhart, who introduced the bill, said he hopes Ottawa will eventually amend legislation so that a person leasing a home or paying rent can use this money as an option to convert the rent as capital for a down payment.

A section based on the Ontario HOME plan makes provision for land development projects and is aimed at families below the $6,000 a year income level

An amendment to the Landlord and Tenant Act forces landlords to return or account for damage deposits within ten days after a tenant moves out. Landlords not obeying this rule are liable to a maximum fine of $100 upon summary conviction.

Tenants may also begin proceedings under the Small Debts Act to recover their deposit.

The first ombudsman report tabled in Canada revealed 216 complaints. Alberta's ombudsman, George McClellan said 29 of these were fully investigated but only 11 were legitimate and justice obtained for the complainant.

Complaints against the workmen's compensation board were the most numerous, but are still being investigated since a 1963 court decision ruled it was not a government agency. Legislation introduced this month amending the Ombudsman Act will now cover workmen compensation cases. No complaints of police brutality were received.

The annual report of the correctional institutions superintendent F C Owen said the Fort Saskatchewan Jail's male section is incredibly overcrowded. It also stated the Bowden Institute's accommodation for male juveniles was unacceptable and should be vacated as soon as possible. In Alberta, the ratio of sentenced offenders in jail is one for every 1,112 persons.

During questioning in the legislative public accounts committee, Liquor Control Board vice-chairman, J F Falconer admitted a 100% mark-up in the price of Canadian and imported spirits. Dessert wines are marked up 80% and beer 30%. Revenue from beer, wine and liquor for the 1966-67 fiscal year totalled $34,300,000.

The Opposition suggested the provincial government should build grain elevators on the West Coast to help alleviate the burden of the quota system. It proposed the formation of a Crown corporation to finance a five million bushel terminal as a self-liquidating project.

Agriculture Minister, Mr Strom said no district agriculturist office will be established this year at Sedgewick or Coronation but confirmed new D.A. offices at Valleyview and Manning.

In brief, an urban renewal study will be conducted this year in the Crows Nest Pass region, hunting in blaze orange jackets may be legal this Fall, a cultural foundation fund has been suggested. Provincial Treasurer, Mr. Aalborg says the Resources Railway will save Peace River Farmers $375,000 a year on grain haulage and the reliability of do-it-yourself breathalyser kits are being "tested" by the department of highways.

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE

Upon your arrival at the handsome surburban home of the Fred Buchanan's, you are met at the door by the sobbing young Mrs. Buchanan who leads you into the living room. Here in the middle of the wall-to-wall carpeting you see the stocky figure of her husband sprawled lifeless, the light gray carpet under his head stained with blood from a bullet wound in his right temple. He is clad in a tan hunting jacket, and his dark brown woolen trousers are stained with mud, as are the huge, fur-lined boots on his feet. A hunting rifle lies on the floor nearby.

Helen Buchanan blurts out her story. "I was seated in my room at my dressing table, combing my hair . . . I didn't even know Fred was home. He left very early this morning to do a little hunting. Everything was quiet in the house, when suddenly I was startled by a sound of a shot. I rushed in here . . . and there was poor Fred lying on the floor . . . dead! I just can't understand why he did it!" She breaks into a paroxysm of sobs.

You have noted that, despite Helen Buchanan's grief-stricken face, she is an exceedingly attractive woman, and at least 20 years younger than her late husband.. Now you bend over the victim's body and, upon removing the fur-lined mittens from his hands, your eye is caught by angry-looking scratches on the back of his right hand. "Can you suggest any possible reason at all as to why your husband should have shot himself?" you query.

"No . . . it couldn't have been for any financial reasons. We're all right in that respect. Of course, he was a very jealous man . . . always suspicious of me, and very resentful of any attentions directed at me by other men at the social functions we attended. He was particularly angry yesterday when some flowers arrived here for me . . . from Tom Harding, the actor. I couldn't make him understand that there was nothing but friendship between Tom and me . . . I certainly never gave him any real reason to distrust me . . . or to do this . . "

"Have you touched or moved anything at all since coming in here and discovering this?"

"Oh no," she cries. "I was much too shocked to do anything. I saw right away that Fred was dead, and that there was nothing I could do for him. I rushed back to my room and phoned you . . . then I waited in there until you arrived."

"Well," you say, "I hope it won't shock you too much when I tell you this does not look like a suicide to me! You'll have to come to headquarters with me for some further questioning."

What has aroused your suspicions?

SOLUTION

Two things. In the first place, a rifle is not the ideal weapon for a person to use on himself for a bullet in the temple — too long and too difficult to push the trigger. In the second place, the victim's hands were encased in FINGERLESS mittens! Even if he had managed to get the rifle pointed at his temple, how could he have managed the trigger?

Consumers support milk substitute

Because of widespread consumer acceptance in the United States of blended and substitute milk products and the fact that processors-distributors in Canada are now researching production and marketing techniques, the Consumers' Association of Canada believes these products should be made available to consumers in Canada.

Both types of so-called milk replacements can retail at a lower price than fluid milk products but regulations now in force in Canada prohibit the blending of dairy and non-dairy foods.

Although the nutritive value of substitute milk products has not been fully established, blended milks do supply the nutritive values normally associated with fluid milk.

The Consumers' Association of Canada feels that in the interest of the consumer, regulations should be amended to allow a blended milk product to be sold in Canada.

CAC is convinced that this type of product must be marketed separately from dairy foods and must be clearly labelled to allow easy identification, and to prevent confusion with natural dairy products.

It is suggested that the word milk be avoided in reference to substitute or "filled" products and that these be labelled as a "drink" or beverage.

Modern etiquette

Q. Is it customary to give your nurses a gift when you leave the hospital?

A. Although not necessary, it's a thoughtful gesture. A private nurse may be given candy, cologne, a book, etc. And when being cared for by staff nurses, it's nice to leave a box of candy at their station.

Q. When a valet in a hotel brings freshly-pressed clothes back to me in my room, am I supposed to tip him?

A. Hotel valets, usually operating their own shops within a hotel, do not expect tips, except for rush jobs, or those done outside usual hours.

Q. My wife and I are the godparents of a friend's child. Now that we are expecting our own first baby soon, we are wondering if we are under obligation to ask these friends to serve in the same capacity for our child.

A. You are not at all obligated to do this.

ARDA

PACING PROGRESS...

No Canadian should remain indifferent to the fact that there is, in this country, a program whose objective is to promote progress in disadvantaged rural areas.

ARDA is a joint Federal-Provincial program and its goals are to increase income and employment opportunities of rural people and increase the efficient use of rural lands.

In order to achieve these objectives, ARDA is using various means:

- land use has been improved on two million acres in Western Canada through community pastures, grazing reserves, recreation and wildlife projects.
- rural people are being assisted to find alternative employment opportunities.
- new jobs are being created through resource development projects in rural areas.
- comprehensive regional development programs are underway in the Interlake District of Manitoba and in the Edson District of Alberta. The Interlake program under ARDA/FRED provides 85 million dollars of federal and provincial funds for human and physical resource development.
- over 40 million dollars have been committed to drainage, flood control, irrigation system renovation and land conservation projects throughout Western Canada.

In brief, social and economic development for rural people and optimum utilization of natural resources are the two concepts inspiring ARDA.

IN MEMORIAM

HJELTER —In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Harold, who passed away March 22, 1962

Only those who've lost someone
Can ever really know
The empty feeling in our hearts,
The cry, "Why did he go?"
We did not know that morning
What sorrow night would bring;
Your sparkling smile, your happy laugh
Could make the whole world sing.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in bitter silence flow;
For memory keeps you ever near us,
Though you died six years ago.

—Always remembered and sadly missed by Dad, Mom, Ray, Orval, Clara and Jean 28p-5050

Competition held by Tofield pupils

(Joan Price)

As usual, the Tofield grade five classes held a bird-house contest, with Mr. Ken Eastlick judging the entries.

For originality, Cheryl Larson won a prize Her bird-house was made out of a tin can that had ventilation, a perch, and the right size hole.

Collette Watson won for a bird-house and feeder, with carved green trees and a white fence around it.

The first prize went to Joan Clark for a pretty wren house made out of twigs. Second prize was won by Carolyn Chilkowich, whose house was quite tall and unpainted. The third prize went to Donald Oliver. His bird house was for a tree swallow, and was like a log cabin.

There were approximately 26 entries, most of which would make good bird-houses.

ARDA

PACING PROGRESS...

No Canadian should remain indifferent to the fact that there is, in this country, a program whose objective is to promote progress in disadvantaged rural areas.

ARDA is a joint Federal-Provincial program and its goals are to increase income and employment opportunities of rural people and increase the efficient use of rural lands.

In order to achieve these objectives, ARDA is using various means:

— land use has been improved on two million acres in Western Canada through community pastures, grazing reserves, recreation and wildlife projects.
— rural people are being assisted to find alternative employment opportunities.
— new jobs are being created through resource development projects in rural areas.
— comprehensive regional development programs are underway in the Interlake District of Manitoba and in the Edson District of Alberta. The Interlake program under ARDA/FRED provides 85 million dollars of federal and provincial funds for human and physical resource development.
— over 40 million dollars have been committed to drainage, flood control, irrigation system renovation and land conservation projects throughout Western Canada.

In brief, social and economic development for rural people and optimum utilization of natural resources are the two concepts inspiring ARDA.

(By William J. Martin)

Dear Sir: Three months ago I bought what looked like a pretty good used car. I signed up for payments of $64 a month for 36 months. Two weeks ago the car practically fell apart at the seams. I raised cain with the dealer and told him I just wouldn't make any more payments. Now I find that I owe the money to a finance company and not the auto dealer What happened and what can I do about it? — B F M

Unless the dealer agreed in writing to guarantee your car would operate satisfactorily for a certain period of time, I'm afraid there is not much you can do about it now. You made a purchase that didn't work out well at all, but it was a purchase and you are obligated to pay for it.

You were surprised to find that the dealer had sold your financing contract to a finance company, and yet that is very normal procedure. Most dealers need the full sale price of the car in order to keep operating — pay salaries, buy more cars, etc. So they sell the "loan" contract and get their money right away. From then on, re-payment of the money "borrowed" to buy the car is a matter between the customer and the finance company

Needless to say, you should have looked more closely at what you were signing when you bought the car. If you had, you would have known you were agreeing to two separate things

One, you agreed to purchase a certain car at a certain price The dealer agreed to certain things, too, and this is the document in which his responsibility with regard to service and guarantee should have been spelled out.

Two, you arranged to borrow the money to pay for the car and agreed to re-pay your loan in monthly installments.

Unfortunately, you have reason now to think that you didn't get a very good bargain. Maybe it's your fault for not being a more careful buyer; maybe the live up to your agreement, too. dealer put one over on you. Either way, you made a deal and you have to stick with it.

Next time have the dealer spell out the extent of his obligation in case the car doesn't operate properly or breaks down within a certain specified period. And make sure you have it in writing. Then you make sure he does what he agreed to do—and you have a satisfactory deal.

A man's opinion

In Spring a young man's thoughts turn to love This is the time of year when the thoughts of many turn to romance, and thus we have many June weddings June weddings are supposed to be symbolic, of what I'm not sure, unless it means that another gal has nabbed her man.

But the gal trying to get a guy's attention at this time of year must compete not only with each other, but with other attractions as well, such as golf, baseball, softball, tennis, fishing and other outdoor activities To be a success, a gal must have more appeal than anything else Apparently they are reasonably successful at this because of the number of weddings each year, but many fail in the home stretch.

This is the time of year that many girls have been dreading. Now is the time to put away those bulky winter's clothing, and dress in lighter and briefer type of garb, and those gals who have let themselves go all winter, with the idea of doing something about it before spring, suddenly find that it is NOW Spring, and almost too late. For you, we have two tips

First of all, It's not too late to join the "keep-fit" classes at the Drop-In Centre, where they can at least show you how to remove some of those excess pounds, and secondly, diet. Enough said.

A week from tonight, at C.L.C., the Kinettes will be putting on a fashion show. It might be a very good idea to drop in and see what the styles are and what you should be wearing. Show starts at 8:00 o'clock.

Cooper's tools featured at Calgary museum

The tools used by coopers, or barrel-makers, are featured in a new exhibition at the Glenbow Foundation—Alberta Government Museum, 130 - 7th Avenue S W Calgary. These tools, ranging from special drills to planes that shave in curves, display a craft which is rapidly becoming extinct.

Developed during Roman times, barrel-making is an ancient craft which reached a high degree of specialty. There were "wet coopers who made casks for holding liquids, "dry" coopers who made barrels for dry goods, and "white" coopers who made pails, churns and washtubs A skilled cooper could make staves so accurately that they formed watertight barrels when bound together with metal hoops.

Included in the exhibit are a splitting froe, hatchet and hand adze to shape the rough staves; draw shaves and and planes for the finishing work. a sun plane to level off the staves, reamers and augers to make the bung holes, and other tools such as pincers, chisels and mallets All objects were used in Calgary by pioneer barrel - maker John T. Caddick

The exhibition is located in the Pioneer section on the second floor of the museum.

Heating bills? ... some Canadians really have to shell out!

Heating bills? You know what the average Albertan pays?

Well, by comparison, peanuts!

How come?

Gas makes the big difference.

Albertans enjoy the lowest gas rates on the North American Continent — a big bonus in fuel savings. For economy, cleanliness and dependability . . . nothing can beat natural gas heat!

Bogus 'parties' quick way to lose friends

(Mrs.) Linda MacPhee, District Home Economist, High Prairie

There seems to be a big run on "parties" these days.

I have heard ladies tell of being invited to two and three a week.

Some of these are real parties, but others don't fall under the same definition in my books.

Webster defines a party as a social gathering and the entertainment provided for it.

Some parties that you have been invited to no doubt fit this description. Others, however, fall far short.

They are social gatherings all right, but the entertainment is spending money. What fun!

You have by now gathered the type of "party" I'm referring to—the type that is put on to sponsor [illegible] type of product, be it house-[illegible], handicrafts or personal wares.

Women have complained about being "put on the spot" by a "friend" who invited them to her party.

They don't want to hurt the friend by refusing, but not wanting or needing any of the particular product, they hate to go to the "party" and be socially pressured into buying something.

Of course the more they buy, the better their "friend" the hostess makes out. What a predicament!

Why not invite your friends to a real party?

They would be much happier to have an afternoon of fun with no strings attached.

Now, don't get me wrong. I'm not criticizing the products. Merely their method of promotion.

This view is not only mine; but is shared by a number of ladies I've talked to.

They say they don't mind going if they really want and need a specific article.

They are assured that they needn't buy anything, just come; but you know what happens inside when everyone else is dishing out money hand over fist.

The temptation is pretty strong.

I'd suggest that you make very sure the friend wants to come to your party and wants to buy something before she's invited. That way, she will still be your friend.

The Superintendent's report indicated that the following teachers had submitted their resignations effective in July, 1968: R. M. Christie, Viking school; C. Sproul, Ryley school. Mrs. Treva Ramsay Holden school le was noted that Mrs Ramsay being on bursary had repaid one year's bursary as she had not completed the full term of teaching with the County under the bursary regulations. Moved and carried that the resignations be accepted.

The follow-up appointments to the Teaching Staff of the County of Beaver No 9 with duties to commence September 3rd, 1968 were noted. Mr Peter W. A. Gruber; Mr Ned Ivor Hughes. Mrs Hallie Jean Hughes. Moved and carried that the appointments be confirmed.

Mr K. E. Easdale, Principal of the Tofield School, requested permission under Policy 8100 to close the Tofield School on Monday, April 8, 1968, for the purpose of holding the second parent-teacher interview during the school year. Moved and carried that the request be granted.

In this connection it was mentioned that in some of the County's schools only one parent-teacher day was scheduled for the year. A number of parents had indicated they were very interested in having two parent-teacher days, with one of them early in the school year. The Superintendent stated that he would discuss this matter with the Principals.

Mr Doris Stashko had requested on behalf of the Sports Committee that the School Committee donate two trophies, each for unusual competition in the Girls' and Boys' County Basketball Tournament. The cost of each trophy was not expected to exceed $25. Moved and carried that the trophies be purchased and that they be called The County of Beaver No. 9 Trophy(s).

In the matter of the Girls' Leadership Course, this being an annual event, the report indicated that two girls were being requested to attend this course; however, the Superintendent recommended that the County sponsor one girl. It was moved that one girl of the proper qualities and qualifications be sponsored to the Girls' Leadership Workshop to be held at the University of Alberta on May 9, 10, 11 and 12, 1968 and that the candidate fee, $20, plus transportation cost be paid by the County. Carried unanimously.

Mr Lloyd Symyrozum attended the meeting at this time in regards to the Extra-Curricular Sports Program. It was noted that at the present time the extra-curricular sports program was handled by the Local ATA with a grant of $125 from the School Committee. The proposed budget as presented by Mr Symyrozum was in the amount of $540. This would mean that the Local ATA would have to contribute approximately $420. The Local ATA was of the opinion that this money could better be used for in-service programs and Mr Symyrozum on behalf of the Local ATA requested that the County School Committee accept the extra-curricular sports program as part of the School Committee's operation. It was that if this was done the Local ATA would be prepared to match dollar for dollar the School Committee's contribution to an in-service program. In this connection it was proposed Policy 4190 and Regulation 8190 as set out in the Superintendent's Report was referred to the Committee. It was moved and carried that the County School accept the responsibility for the Extra-Curricular Sports program including payment of the budget in full.

It was also moved that the School Committee accept the Local ATA offer to match dollar for dollar any expenditure in regards to in-service programs that may be undertaken. Carried unanimously.

IN MEMORIAM

BURKA—Treasured memories of a husband and father, Bill J. Burka, who passed away March 26, 1967:

We watched you suffer, we heard you sigh,
But all we could do was just stand by;
For when the time came, we suffered, too,
For you never deserved what you went through;
God took you by the hand and we had to part—
He eased your pain, but broke our hearts.

—Loved and remembered by wife, Annie, and daughters, Ann, Susan and Marilyn. 29c-4040

Editor, Tofield Mercury,
Dear Sir

Today, much of our sport is syndicated, from hockey to wrestling. And it is so enthusiastically watched by we adults that much of our individual, social, religious and economic life is affected by it. And we, in many of our communities, have become so engrossed in it that we have almost neglected our responsibility to an important part in the development of our society — the youth part.

My attention was called, the other day, to the interest in an adult activity, and I saw great numbers of cars of those taking part in the "roaring game" while across the road, the hockey rink, for the youth, was but a patch of weeds and grass In an open rink, hockey is not available if wind is strong snowing, raining too hot, mercury too high or too low, and of course in the spring the cycle is completed of "back to grass", and this spring it was the first of March

Then there is this statement, "Now in my time we made our own facilities", and the question, "Why don't today's youth do something about it" The idea that youth of today have no initiative can, in Tofield, be challenged, I am including a photograph of a number of Tofield youth making ice on the skating rink, that they and others might skate.

And that leaves another question, "What are we adults doing about it?"

Geo. G. Abernethy

Kallal gets bonanza with Hereford bull

Three Alberta cattle breeders joined the select list of $1,000 Breeders' Bonanza award winners last week at the Canadian Western Stock Show and Rodeo staged in Edmonton.

One award went to Paul Kallal of Tofield for his Grand Champion Hereford bull. Also her award went to Berwyn and Lela Winn of Irricana, with the third going to Roger Sandy of Alliance. In addition to his cash prize, Mr. Kallal picked up another $1,525 when his bull was purchased by Peter Dushinsky of Willingdon.

In the Hereford sale, the Grand Champion, a horned entry by Ronald Link of Parenting, was sold for $1,100 to Belmor Ranches of Redwater.

An Aberdeen Angus bull contributed by C. K. Armistead of Oneway was purchased by Evergreen Stock Farm of Daysland for the sum of $1,350

The Reserve Grand Champion Angus bull was also the junior champion, and was an entry from the well known Woodlawn Farms of Wetaskawin

Fire guts building at Holden

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

Shortly after 4 00 p.m. Wednesday afternoon, March 27, fire started in an old machine shed in Holden, owned by United Management of Calgary and situated between the Western Alberta Produce egg grading station and the house belonging to Mrs Ethel Brekkind, occupied by Mrs. Kota Maloney

The building had been empty for the past several years and was in a very dilapidated condition. It was fortunate for Holden that there was very little wind that day and that it occurred in the daytime, as it could other wise have been disasterous for the village.

There were large billows of black smoke before the fire engine arrived and it was impossible to save the building, which was a total loss. The fire engine from Ryley assisted in controlling the fire, in dampening the Brekkind house, and hoses were played on the roof of the village garage and the a reas on the south end of Main street

It is not definitely known how the fire started, but it is believed it am eldered a fire under the old forming for some time before breaking out.

'Search for Talent' winners at Holden

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

In the Search for Talent show sponsored by the Holden Lodge I.O.O.F. Elks, held the early part of March in the Holden Community Hall, the following were winners of the various events.

Honorable Mention — Gordon Kowalchuk for impersonations

Country and Western Division —1st, Country Cousins of Tofield (instrumental band); 2nd, Western Trio of Ryley (instrumental band and whistling act).

Modern and Popular Division— 1st, Arnold Gudebhaus, Vegreville (clarinet solo); 2nd, Dave Wichura, B ues (accordion solo).

Mrs. Fred Farynn won a case of Quaker State oil on a prop-ert sheet draw; Mrs. Marie Mrlick a large stuffed toy animal in the draw, and other tickets were drawn for at the end of the season on a free trip for two to Hawaii, which is being offered by the sponsors, Travellers Association, for crippled children.

Breeders vote strong for hog market board

Fewer than one fifth of all Alberta hog breeders turned in acceptable ballots in a mail-in vote on proposed changes to hog marketing in Alberta last week, although the majority of those who did return ballots favor a marketing board. Figures on the ballot were released Thursday by D. H. McCallum, chairman of the provincial Agricultural Products Marketing Council. The ballot return was considerably higher than expected in many quarters, according to reports given The Canadian

Some 38,544 ballots were distributed to hog producers listed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics 5,485 or 13.1 per cent were postmarked prior to the March 22 cut-off, and considered acceptable 327 could not be used because the intention of the voter was not clear, or the ballot was unsigned Several ballots were postmarked after March 23, and could not be used

Initially, it had been intended that all ballots should be received by March 23, but as more and more mailings were held throughout the province to discuss the program, the province agreed to accept ballots mailed by that date.

A decisive 59.3 per cent of the ballo's favored a hog marke ing board, with a single selling agency, which was favored by the F.U.A. 19.6 per cent favored the hog me chandising and development authority, which is a board using a number of selling agencies such as the livestock commission firms, while 14.4 per cent of the voters wanted the present hog ma keting system in continue. 8.9 per cent favored a commission which would allow producers to opt out and sell directly to the packers.

The ballo s also showed that the 19 per cent of producers who returned ballots delivered 37.3 per cent of all hogs marketed last year, indicating that the smaller producers tended to take much less interest in the poll than did larger operators.

While the marketing board was favored by 59 per cent of the voters, they nonetheless marketed only 45 per cent of the hogs, while breeders who favor the merchandising and development authority represent 30 per cent of hogs marketed, although they account for only 19 per cent of the voters

Before Agriculture Minister H. E. Strom can bring any of the boards into action, there will have to be a plebiscite to confirm the producers' support. It is expected a meeting of the provincial Marketing Council will be called

Holden oldtimer passes at 91 years

One of the old-time pioneer residents of Holden, Mrs. Helen Kjosness, aged 91, passed away in an Edmonton Nursing Home on Monday, March 25. Mrs. Kjosness had been resident there for the past several years and had been in very poor health for the last year.

She is survived by two sons, Palmer and Silas, both of Edmonton, four daughters, Mrs Sena Fjellstrom of Holden, Mrs. H. V Humble (Ida) of Sydney, B.C., Mrs E. Newtson (Hazel) of Pendelton, Oregon, and Mrs. G. E. (Mildred) Zeuske of Salem, Oregon, twenty-four grandchildren; twenty-four great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Netta Satre of Bromhead, Sask.

Service was held Saturday, March 30, at 1:00 p.m., in the Holden Lutheran Church, with Rev Stanley Rude officiating, and interment was in the Holden cemetery.

Special service held at district church

Sunday, March 24th was a very special day for the congregation at South Cooking Lake United Church, as it was Holy Communion Sunday, with the minister, Robert Smith exchanging pulpits with former student minister in 1963-'64, Rev. David Beckwith.

His message was timely as Good Friday and Easter Day draw near, the searching story of the crucifixion and the two contrasting attitudes of the criminals crucified with Jesus (Luke 23, 39-43 read this passage).

Rev Beckwith did not close his illuminating and soul-searching message with any direct question to each and everyone, but this reporter seemed to hear three—which of the two criminals in the passage speak for you? If neither, are you the silent one, the coldly indifferent one, to whom is said elsewhere —"Is it nothing to you, all ye who pass by, is it nothing to you?" And the third unspoken yet clearly audible question — "What are you going to do about it?" What are you going to do about it this Easter?

Hans Huseby observes his 90th birthday

(Mrs. G. M. Taylor)

One of the old-time pioneers of the south Holden district, Hans Huseby celebrated his 90th birthday on Tuesday, March 12. Open House was held in his honor Sunday, March 10, in the Zion Lutheran Church, when it was filled to capacity with relatives and many friends from all the surrounding district—Edmonton, Round Hill, Camrose, Daysland, Ryley and other points.

Mr Huseby has lived in the Palmer district since emigrating from South Dakota, U.S.A., in the fall of 1904. He has been very active in all community affairs, helping to establish the Zion Country Chapel, serving on the old-time Palmer school board in earlier years, also being one of the original trustees of the Holden Drainage District No. 1 board, of which he is presently finishing his term of office, and until this past year or two had been one of the most active members of the Palmer Red Cross branch. Mr. Huseby remains active and in good health, making his home on the old homestead with his grandson, Dwayne and family, although he retired from active farming a few years [illegible].

During the afternoon a short program was presented, with Alvin Bratrud being master of ceremonies — the Sunday School singing two choruses, readings by Mrs. Lewis Ferre, Mrs. George Mosby, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knudson and Mrs Alvin Bratrud, and a solo by Mrs Earl Helleckson. A former district resident, Ludvig Hoveland of Camrose read a psalm and offered a prayer, and several brief speeches and good wishes from all were expressed.

Mr Huseby's daughter, Mrs. Irene Francoeur of Camrose, read "A Tribute to Dad" He was presented with a transistor radio from his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Mr. Huseby thanked those present for the enjoyable program and good wishes and kindness of all, making it a very memorable day for him.

A delicious lunch was served by the ladies of Zion L.C.W. The head table was centred with a birthday cake in the form of an open Bible, flanked by bouquets of bronze and white 'mums, yellow candles and Norwegian flags on either side, all gifts from his three children.

Mr. Huseby is hoping to make a trip to his homeland, Norway, the end of May with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Lefsrud of Edmonton, which will mark the ninth time he has made the trip, the first being with his family by boat in 1914. This time he will be travelling by plane.

The marketing board, which owns the hogs, has only been in existence a couple of months and is still in its infancy stage. It would have taken a couple of years for the hogs to become ill enough to be slaughtered because of a contagious disease. The producers would have contributed to the fund, which is supposed to be built up to $100,000 before any payments would be made. The payments would be contributed from the fund.

The purpose of operating the marketing board would be met by a levy (until per hog deliveries from hog owners in addition to pools, for the operation of the marketing board, the revenue would also provide money for research and promotion.

Rosthern Chorale to present sacred concert on April 13

The Rosthern Junior College Chorale will visit the Tofield Mennonite Church on April 13 to present a program beginning at 8:00 p.m. Rosthern Junior College has cultivated a strong music program during most of its 56-year history, with a special emphasis on the many forms of sacred music. The select choir coming to Tofield has received recognition from leading musicians in the Prairie provinces.

At the March Saskatchewan Valley Music Festival the adjudicator gave the choir a mark of 99 and called for a standing ovation after the performance. The choir has been featured on the CBC network and gives between thirty to forty concerts each year.

The Chorale has a repertoire of some 40 numbers ranging from the 15th century to the contemporary pieces of the 20th century. The numbers include pre-Reformation hymns of the Christian Church, spiritual hymns of the early American people, the contemporary folk hymns of the 20th century and selections from the German "Geistliche Chormusick". For the Easter season the Chorale has added a selection of Passion and Easter hymns. The Chorale is directed by Mr. Ted Janzen.

Rosthern Junior College is a church high school sponsored by Mennonite Churches of Saskatchewan and Alberta, in addition to the academic program the school offers religious instruction, as well as a strong program in music, drama, athletics, and group living. Harold Koop of Tofield as a member of the Executive.

Following graduation from the University of Alberta in 1958, he served as agricultural fieldman with the M.D. of St. Paul until 1958 when he accepted the appointment of district agriculturist at Lac La Biche. He was serving the Ryley and Morinville districts in this capacity at the time of his present appointment.

County of Beaver has 4-H speaking finals

(Mrs. R. Davies)

On Friday night, April 5, Ryley hosted the County of Beaver District 4-H Public Speaking finals.

A fairly large crowd was on hand to hear contestants from eight clubs compete for the first prize, a trophy donated by Sherrill Gordon Mines, Edmonton, which was presented to the winner by Jack Latham of Sherrill Gordon. Judges were Lou Krueger of Vegreville, Keith Robson of Ryley and Paddy Moran of Vermilion, who did a very fine job of selecting the top speaker for the evening.

Winner of the County of Beaver District 4-H Public Speaking final was Miss Judy Burstead, representing the Ryley 4-H Food Club. Topic of Judy's talk was "Hippocrates", which proved to be both interesting and informative.

Runner-up winner was Miss Terry Moore from Tofield 4-H Beef Club who spoke on "The Canadian Indian". Alternate winner for the evening was Gordie Brooks from the Viking 4-H Dairy Club, and his topic was "An Animal to do Without".

Judy and Terry, as first and second place winners, will advance to the Divisional 4-H Public Speaking finals, to be held in the Viking School on April 27, at 8:00 p.m.

An executive meeting was held in the Town Hall on April 3. Mr. Sailer reported a financially successful 1967 season. A good spirit of interest has been created, and members of the executive hope this spirit will be fostered and developed during the 1968 season.

Further announcements next week regarding time and place of an annual general meeting will be made in this paper.

Chamber of Commerce has supper meeting

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN — The Holden and district Chamber of Commerce held their regular monthly supper meeting on April 2nd in the Holden Community Hall with an attendance of twelve members.

Choir to present Easter 'Cantata'

Members of the Bardo Lutheran Church Choir, who have been practicing faithfully for the past couple of months under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Severson and with Mrs. Thelma Erikson on the piano, will present their Cantata tomorrow (Good Friday) evening at 8:00 o'clock.

The Cantata, entitled "The Golden Dawn", is published by Haldor Lillenas. The Cantata tells the story of Easter and the singing in the Cantata is intermingled with several readings by members of the choir, which makes it a very impressive story of Christ's suffering, crucifixion and victory over death.

This will be the Choir's first program since the church was built in Tofield last fall. The choir and members from other churches are invited to come and worship with the Choir as they present this Cantata.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

How to win the bread basket

OTTAWA — Western wheat farmers got $313,[illegible] in cheques from the Wheat Board last month. This represented an all-time record final payment for wheat.

It is a big shot in the arm for the Prairie provinces. And as every politician and economist knows, what is good for the farmer is good for the Canadian economy as a whole.

The average final payment for wheat other than Durum was 40.750 cents per bushel. The average final payment for Durum is 63.[illegible] cents per bushel.

The total amount of cash in the final payment received by the Western farmers on the Prairies is an unprecedented $314,[illegible] including $14,943,987 to be distributed to producers who delivered Durum wheat. The previous record payment of $272,000,000 was made on the 1963-64 pool account. This year's record is an increase of 13.8% — $42,000,000 over the previous records.

Liberal leadership candidate, Trade and Commerce Minister Robert Winters was in the happy position of being able to announce the final payment just before the House of Commons rose for the Liberal national leadership convention and its Easter recess. His announcement of this record final payment certainly would do him no harm with the Western delegates.

The Minister was quick on the

The Minister was quick on the comeback. His reply, "In this game, one has to make his own breaks". But the Saskatchewan Premier played his cards close to the vest. He did not declare for any candidate, rather waiting until the actual convention to make his position known.

But Mr. Thatcher made it clear to all candidates for the leadership, visiting Saskatchewan, that the Prairie delegates wanted to know clearly where candidates stood on policies affecting Western Canada. Where did they stand on wheat prices, for example.

The blunt approach of the Saskatchewan Premier took some of the candidates aback. To find yourself suddenly asked to expound on the advantages or disadvantages of a two-price system for wheat comes as a surprise for candidates from Ontario, Quebec or the Maritimes.

Mr. Winters was in the advantageous position that as minister reporting to Parliament for the Wheat Board, he knew about wheat and the problems of the Western farmer. Farmers are being squeezed by rising costs. Farmers argue today that the costs of production bear no relationship to the price of grain. The farmers want higher grain prices and the two-price system (one domestic and one foreign) is winning more and more supporters across the West.

Recently, J. E. McWilliams, the President of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, warned that Canada must take steps to meet increased competition on the world wheat markets. He suggested these steps should include new research programs to develop specific wheat varieties for specific markets and more aggressive salesmanship. As underdeveloped countries improved their ability to increase grain production there will be a decrease in the demand for wheat from Canada. However, there will be an increased need for feed grain.

As a nation becomes more affluent there is a corresponding increase in the meat consumption and meat production depends on feed grain production. There should be a shift by Canadian farmers, therefore, Mr. McWilliams suggested from growing wheat to more coarse grain production.

An independent assessment of the situation made by a firm of economic consultants in Winnipeg recently appeared to bear out Mr. McWilliams' call for changes in wheat policies. The economic consultants warned there should be a measure of economic protection for the prairie grain producers in the interests of the economy as a whole.

World bread grain production in 1967 was close to the record level of 1966. Wheat exports from the four traditional major exporters were well above average at the half-way mark of the current Canadian crop year.

The four major exporting countries are Canada, Australia, the United States and Argentina.

Shipments of wheat, including flour in terms of wheat, amounted to 605.4 million bushels, 12 per cent above the ten year average of 600.7 million bushels. The ten year period is 1955 to 1966. Exports from Australia were at a higher level this year than last while those from the United States, Canada and the Argentine were lower.

Supplies of wheat held by the four nations at February 1, for export and carry-over at the end of their respective crop years, amounted to 2,059.6 million bushels, an increase of nine per cent over the 1,887.8 million at the same time a year ago. Supplies were larger in the U.S., Canada and Argentina while supplies in Australia decreased.

The Western farmer has felt for some time that he has been getting a rough deal from Parliament. One of his problems has been that when the Liberal minority government was elected there was only one Liberal M.P. from the Prairies, Hon. Roger Teillet. The Manitoba member was taken into Mr. Pearson's cabinet and made Minister of Veterans Affairs. It is understood [illegible] Mr. Pearson toyed with [illegible] of making Mr. Teillet [illegible] of Agriculture but Mr. [illegible] himself wanted no part of that portfolio as he was not a farmer and preferred not to take on that tough assignment.

Mr. Pearson turned instead to J. J. (Joe) Greene, a small town lawyer from Arnprior in the Ottawa Valley. He has adjusted to the job as rapidly as possible, but is the first to admit that not being a Western farmer he is not personally acquainted with their gripes and grievances. It is likely that when the new Prime Minister takes office he will put someone else in that key post. But just who it will be is anybody's guess.

Whites are guilty

The death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., at the hands of an assassin in the United States, emphasizes the fact that although that country preaches freedom and equal rights, it is still quite a large step into the future before these aims are realized. Dr. King was shot because he was seeking equality and justice for the members of his race, and many Americans, because the colour of their skin is white should feel a touch of guilt at his violent death.

The United States sends troops all over the world in defense of democracy and have neglected to tend to these chores in their own country. Negroes have struggled for equality since they were first freed from the ties of slavery, and the battle is far from over. It will be many long years before American black people will be treated as equals by the whites of that country. Yet, U.S. politicians will continue to proclaim that their country is an excellent example of democracy with equality and justice for all.

Dr. King's actual murderer may be caught. He may even be executed for his heinous crime. But the course of true justice will not have been served until the rights of negroes are equal to those whose skins are white. It can only be hoped that those Americans who continually fight to downgrade the Negro were watching the funeral of Dr. King. If there is a spark of humanity in them, they will have been touched, and will perhaps change their concepts in the future.

Gas tax to lift?

The provincial government has said that it is possible the gasoline tax will be lifted from the shoulders of our farmers next year. In the meantime, they, along with everyone else will help to fill the coffers of government. In this regard, the farmers are being hard hit. Nearly everything done on a farm is accomplished using a mechanized system, which uses gasoline. Thus, no matter what our farmers do, this year, at least, will cost him more.

It remains to be seen whether or not the government will actually lift the tax next year. Even if they do, they have just about promised that they will be imposing a sales tax. This, in a province that should be one of the better-off ones in Canada.

It may sound like a radical idea, but, what would happen if government satisfied themselves with lawmaking, and passing legislation, and hired top businessmen to handle the financial aspect of government. These men could be counted on not to spend more than they had, and this is where present governments fail.

The government does not take the blame for not being able to balance the budget, but rather, passes the buck along to the citizens. They continually state that they must give the people what they demand, and these demands cost money. Let's be realistic. If the money is not available, then neither are the services. People should and would realize this. In any event it would be interesting to let a few businessmen have the reins of power for a month or so, to see how they would go about cutting expenses.

Ryley pioneer couple mark 50th anniversary

(Mrs. R. Davick)

RYLEY — On Sunday afternoon, March 24th, the Legion Hall was the scene for a happy occasion, when the hall was filled to overflowing with family, relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Neraasen, whose children had arranged the party in honor of their parents' 50th anniversary. All but one grand daughter were present.

The hall was nicely decorated with streamers of gold and white and the bride's table was beautifully arranged, centered by a three-tiered wedding cake made by their daughter, Marvel, and with baskets of bronze and white chrysanthemums, which were from the children, the grandchildren, one of whom brought greetings from the Penner family, now residing at Chilliwack B.C. The bride and groom of 50 years were met at the door by their daughter-in-law, Florence, and their son-in-law Douglas, who pinned on them the traditional flowers, then they were escorted to their seats by their daughter Marvel and their son Harold, to the strains of the wedding march played by Bernice Heiberg. Mrs. Neraasen's dress was of green and gold metallic brocade, and her corsage was of gold and white 'mums.

A program had been arranged and Edwin Magneson acted as master of ceremonies and gave a short history of the lives of the honored couple, telling how they were both born in Norway and came to Canada in 1910 and 1912 respectively, and had lived in the Ryley district ever since. They were married at Dodds in a home ceremony performed by Pastor Loversten.

Harold, their only son, introduced each member of the family and relatives who came from many points, namely Marysville, Wash., White Rock, B.C., Kelowna, B.C., Kitamat, B.C., Grande Prairie, Buffalo Lake, Lethbridge, Edmonton, Bowden, and Athabasca. A scripture reading and devotion was given by Pastor Rude of Ryley and greetings were brought from friends at Athabasca by Pastor Hedegard at Athabasca.

Mr and Mrs. Ed Magneson and their daughter Bernice Heiberg, sang "God Hath Not Promised" with Grace Heiberg at the piano. Marvel and Doug's four little girls, Connie, Lori, Wendy and Cindy sang together sweetly for their grand-parents the old hymn "How Great Thou Art." Harold spoke to his parents for himself and Florence and for Marvel and Douglas, and Terry Neraasen spoke for the grand-children.

Doug Down read congratulatory messages received and the greetings from Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, Premier E. C. Manning, Lt.-Gov. J. W. Grant MacEwan, Mrs. Olive Calstad, Skien, Norway; Mrs. Clara Nelson, Dawson, Minn., Mrs. Petra Quernemoen, Madison, Minn., Hans' three sisters and nieces from Montedledo, Dawson and Boyd, Minn., from Albert Hoflin Signey's nephew of Pleasant Hill, California, and many more from distant friends who could not attend.

Ole Hagen gave the greetings from the community and presented them with a brass plaque and a purse of money. Kenny Neraasen in his wheel chair had charge of the guest book and relatives and friends came from Lethbridge, Calgary, Edmonton, Athabasca, Fort Saskatchewan, Drayton Valley, Viking and Camrose.

A buffet lunch was served amidst much hand shaking and reminiscing of times past, as many of the guests had not met for a considerable number of years.

Marvel, in her own inimitable way, thanked everyone on behalf of the family who had in any way helped them to make this day a happy one to remember.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Neraasen, with their whole family around them and joined by a few friends stayed at the hall during the evening, had supper together to end the perfect anniversary celebration.

Tofield Lions meet Tuesday

Tofield Lions Club held their first meeting for April on Tuesday, with Lion President Gabe Pitiet in the chair. Three members from Dewberry Club were visitors.

Lion Paege reported on the Cribbage Tournament which, while not very profitable, was enjoyed for its social value, and another one may be held later.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knudson mark silver anniversary

Over 200 relatives and friends gathered at Skudesness Church in the Palmer-Earling district on Sunday afternoon, March 24 to observe the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs Joe Knudson. Arranged by the Skudesness LCW, and brothers and sisters of the honored couple, the celebration was a delightful affair. Mrs. Dennis Petersen was in charge of the guest book and guests were present from Edmonton, Calgary, Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Armena, Holden, Round Hill, Ferintosh, Ryley, Daysland, Bawlf and Ryley South.

Mrs. Eddie Knudson was the pianist, and to the strains of the wedding march, Joe and Emma Knudson accompanied by their original attendants, Mr and Mrs. Harry Johnson Mrs Carl Sorensen and Eddie Knudson, entered and were seated by the master of ceremonies Sam Olsen. Others at the bridal table were the groom's sister Magdalene Knudson of Camrose, who replaced his mother Mrs. R. Knudson, who could not be present, and the "bride's" only sister Mrs. Mabel Mondahl, replacing her mother; also Pastor and Mrs. P Olson.

Centering the table was a three-tiered anniversary cake made by Mrs. M. Mondahl and beautifully decorated by the "bride's" sisters Mrs. Alma Carlson and Mrs. Judith Throndson. It was flanked on either side by white lighted tapers and a bouquet of flowers, a gift of the LCW. Serving the table were Denise Sorensen and Myrna Carlson, nieces of the couple.

The fine program, chaired by Mrs. S. Olsen featured suitable readings by Denise Sorensen, Mrs. George Mosby, Colleen Stensrud, Mrs. Richard Mrs. Valerie Vassberg and Mrs. John Bruce, a solo by Valerie Johnson and two musical selections, one on the flute by Cheryl Knudson of Camrose, and a violin and mandolin selection by Finvold Aspenes and Evan Kvale. Greetings were given by Pastor Palmer Olson of Bawlf and brief speeches by Arnold Hoveland of Camrose, Hans Huseby and Eddie Knudson.

PRESENTATIONS

On behalf of the "bride's" sister and brothers, Mrs. Dennis Petersen presented a gift of triple candle holders. From the couple's neices and nephews, Raymond Hovland presented a lovely tray and on behalf of the Knudson families Ralph Knudson of Daysland presented a gift of money; on behalf of the community, Sam Olsen presented a purse of money, and for the Skudesness LCW, the vice-president Mrs. Lewis Forre presented a lovely bouquet of flowers. Joe and Emma expressed their thanks for the program, gifts and the honor accorded them.

There was also a gift from Oslo, Norway, a needlepoint embroidered sofa pillow from their old-time friend Mrs. Emma Westby.

Magdalene Knudson had compiled an amusing scrap book of incidents in the lives of Joe and Emma during the quarter century.

Approximately 40 relatives were invited to the Knudson home in the evening for a luncheon and get-together.

WED AT BAWLF

Joe Knudson and Emma Forre were married at Bawlf on March 24, 1943 by Rev. A. K. Odland. The first three years they resided at the Gladstone district and have since resided at Earling. Palestine Lodge hosts Masonic Degree Team

(by Grace Phillips)

Palestine Lodge A.F. & A.M. No. 46 was host to 274 Masons from many points in Alberta and beyond on Tuesday, April 16, on the occasion of the visit of a Masonic Degree Team, arranged by Corporal Reg Murray of Tofield. Wor.shipful Master of Palestine Lodge

Presiding the meeting, which was held in the Tofield Community Centre, members of Ionic Chapter, O.E.S. served the guests a turkey banquet, arrangements for which were under the direction of Mrs. Georgia Christensen, social convener, and her committee members. Mrs. Margaret Arnett, Mrs. Joyce Swift and Mrs. Mabel Boyles.

The entire gathering was impressed at the efficiency of the Eastern Star committee, which served an excellent dinner with surprising speed, and no confusion. Their job was made far more difficult by the unexpected, high attendance. Initial estimate placed attendance at about 150, although plans centered on the possibility of several more. However, with the storm on Monday night, guesses dropped the probable attendance to less than 180. However, even with guests holding plate dinners in their laps or chairs at the side, and with second sittings, there was no shortage of food or delay in serving, the remarkably large gathering, and many compliments were expressed by the visitors.

Seated at the head table and introduced by Bill Christensen, banquet chairman, were Grand Master, Bernie Brown; Senior Grand Warden, Dr. F. J. Kendal; District Deputies, Cliff Jones, Edmonton, and Frank Rogers, Bindloss; Chairman of the Higher Education Bursary Fund, Ken Crockett; Captain of the visiting Degree Team, Stan Harbin, George Thiessen, Don Goss and E. Whitmarsh.

Following the banquet, the regular April meeting of Palestine Lodge was held, during which Harry Wilkie, John Wall and Floyd Irwin, all of Tofield, were received into Masonry.

Following a short business meeting, the chairs were turned over to the visiting degree team, who conducted the ceremony for Messrs Wilkie, Wall and Irwin in a brilliant display which set a high standard for the work. Both visitors and members of Palestine Lodge were especially impressed with the crisp precision and perfection displayed by the highly-famed team, whose

Canada develops unique ice plow

A unique ice plow being developed by an Ottawa firm may revolutionize winter maritime travel by turning freighters into ice-breakers, reports Canadian Research & Development. The plow might extend the current navigation season to a full six months or more. The ice plow is an application of the principle of highway and railways push plows to marine navigation with a startling effect on ice. Not only will it smash ice that is thicker and do it at a greater speed than conventional ice-breakers, but also it makes possible conversion of any freighter or tanker into an effective ice-breaking vessel.

Standard application of the new plow would smash through an ice cap up to six feet thick and perform ice-breaking chores at speeds up to 15 knots. The Alexbow plow will be part of the bow of the ship and will be built into the vessel during construction.

The week's news from Alberta's leaislature

(by Tony Cox, CFRN)

Amendments to the Highways Traffic Act will make it an offence to use [illegible] glass in automobile headlamps or to cover them with coloured material.

The Minister for Highways, Gordon Taylor, who introduced the bill, said the amendments extend the time limit for temporary registration for out-of-the-province vehicles from 3 to 6 months. Other changes make it mandatory for holiday campers to install [illegible] January 1/69 and for motor scooter helmets to be approved by the Canadian Standards Association after January 15/68. The age of a licenced driver accompanying a learner is increased to 18.

Amendments to the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Act clarifies that the fund was never established to underwrite insurance companies, the Workmen's Compensation Board or to insure trains, aircraft and utility companies, whose property is damaged by automobiles. The bill also [illegible] that [illegible] are not motor vehicles and people who have claims arising from their use may not [illegible] the [illegible].

Education Minister Raymond Reierson says there will be no increase in school construction grants this year but lower than anticipated tenders by contractors could lead to a re-assessment of construction programs for the future. He suggested the increased interest in school construction is the result of a drop in a new industrial and commercial building starts.

But school boards will be looking for an extra $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 from property owners this year to meet rising education costs, he warned. Mr. Reierson also predicted that supplementary requisitions would, on the average, increase from the present 6½ mills to a maximum of 12 mills. Concerning teachers, he urged restraint in salary requests, suggesting their sights are set too high.

The leader of the opposition, Mr. Lougheed levelled a charge at the government last week, saying it is too complacent in its education policies and wastes its energies defending its record rather than planning for the future.

Health Minister, Dr. J. D. Ross would like to see the federal medicare scheme delayed a year to allow more time for discussion. He feels the delay would result in a plan, better tailored to the country's needs.

Amendments to the Alberta Health Plan include the introduction of a standard group to supplement the individual contracts, now operated by the AHP. The act also makes it possible for approved carriers to provide major medical insurance. It also creates the machinery for more extensive financial coverage outside of Alberta for those persons suddenly requiring medical treatment. Dr. Ross is to meet with Alberta Blue Cross and MSI to see if a common package can be worked out.

Agriculture Minister Mr. Strom is opposed to the province's participation in building more grain handling facilities at the west coast to assist in the export of prairie grain. This is the responsibility of private companies and port authorities, he said. Instead of adding unnecessary costs onto the grain farmer, the Department of Agriculture would rather assist in the development of a greater variety of crops.

Speaking outside the Legislature, Mr. Strom said one firm is offering a contract for 10,000 acres of buckwheat with an expected minimum guarantee of $2 a bushel.

As Chairman of the Human Resources Development Authority, Mr. Strom has indicated favourable consideration is being given to co-operative projects proposed by three Southern Alberta Indian bands. Representatives of the Blood, Peigan and Blackfoot reserves asked the government last month for $900,000 for such diverse projects as learning management procedures, cattle operations, farming, store management and school vans. An economist and a livestock specialist are to assess their feasibility.

Because of the increasing number of violent crimes and the subsequent anguish to innocent victims, the Legislature has agreed to consider new legislation that will provide compensation for these people.

And if you are wondering about the longest sitting of the Alberta Legislature, that came in 1909 when the House sat continuously from February 10 to May 26. Last year, the session began February 9 and prorogued April 14. This year, the Speech from the Throne was read February 15 and after 42 days and 28 nights, the House is still going strong.

This column is a regular weekly feature prepared by the Family Financial Counselling Service of a national personal finance corporation, P.O. Box 2820, London, Ont. All questions submitted to the above address will be answered, in print or by return mail. Names will not be used in print. However, all questions should be accompanied by a complete name and address.

DEAR SIR: I have a serious problem, and an urgent one, too; so I hope you will give me a quick reply by mail although you have our permission to put it in your paper if you want to. This is the problem:

We live on fairly average means and have been going along, living pretty much like other people do, not saving very much, but paying our bills regularly. Like most people, we bought quite a few things on time, but our income was enough so we could make the payments without too much trouble.

Then the blow fell, and my husband was taken ill. His income was reduced and we had a mile high pile of medical bills. Now we can't meet the payments on some of our purchases, and I don't know what to do.

MRS. F. N.

First of all, keep your head. These problems can be worked out, and have been. I urge you as an initial step to contact your creditors and explain the situation to them. I promise you that nine out of ten will be anxious to work something out under which you make smaller payments until you are back on your feet. But by all means, get in touch with them before your credit rating is damaged. Most misunderstandings begin with the reluctance of the person who owes money to talk things over with his creditor. As a result, the creditor thinks that payments are not made because the customer is unwilling to make them rather than because of changed financial circumstances.

Again, I can assure you that if you talk things over with your creditors, you'll find they're very willing to help you through what must be a very difficult period for you.

Farmers to march on legislature

Farmers from Sub-district 8 of the Farmers Union of Alberta will march on the Alberta Legislature today, joining with several other farm groups throughout the province in a protest over the government's recently imposed three-cent tax on farm gasoline. The "march" was organized last Saturday, according to Bernie Rostaing, one of the directors of Sub-District 8, following a meeting of directors. No reference was made to other districts, and they were left to take any action they felt reasonable.

Ernest Kehli, of Sedgewick, president of District 8, reports the group has contacted each of the MLA's in the area represented by the Counties of Camrose, Flagst. ⁴⁄, Stettler and Ponoka, and have been assured these members will meet them on the steps of the legislature at 1:00 p.m. Thursday, probably accompanied by several other members.

The group were unable to estimate how many farmers might join in the protest march, but felt it would be a sizeable number. Because of difficulties in parking cars and gathering, it is planned to meet right on the steps of the Legislative Assembly rather than in some other area.

You Are The Detective

This morning you are investigating a fatal hit-and-run accident. A middle-aged woman, Mrs. John Hill, was hit by a car at about 8.40 last night, killed instantly by the impact of the speeding car, the make of which neither of the two witnesses on the scene was able to identify—but both of them agreed that the car barely slowed down after striking the victim and roared away.

The death car has been found abandoned on a vacant lot this morning, about three miles from the scene of the tragedy, the blood-stains and fragments of clothing on its front bumper and grill all having been matched up and proving it is indeed the car involved. You have also discovered it's the same car that was reported stolen by its owner, Thomas Tracy, via a phone call to the police last evening. At that time he said he had left his car parked with the ignition key in it while he went into his neighborhood drugstore to buy some cigarettes, then after going outside and discovering that his car was missing, he hurried back into the store and phoned the police.

You now drive to the drugstore mentioned by Tracy, a small corner establishment whose door bears the neatly painted message "Open Daily—9:00 to 9:00." You question the owner, Malcolm McGregor, who confirms what Tracy has told you, that he did come into the store the previous evening. "Yes," he says, "Tom is one of my regular patrons. He came in here just as I was getting ready to close the store, he bought some cigarettes, we exchanged a few friendly words, then he went into the phone booth and made a call, and left."

Next you return to your office where Tracy is awaiting your questioning. He exclaims, "I hope you're able to track down that guy who used my car to kill that poor woman! I was shocked enough last night when I discovered my car had been stolen, but even more shook up this morning when I learned that it had been involved in that ter ible hit-and-run thing!"

You'll probably be 'shook up' some more when I tell you now that your story doesn't hold up," you say. "In other words, you're my Number One suspect as the driver who killed Mrs. Hill!"

What has made you suspect Thomas Tracy?

SOLUTION

The victim was hit and killed by the car at about 8:40 the previous evening. But Tracy didn't report his car stolen until shortly before 9:00, according to the owner of the drugstore from which Tracy phoned the police. Also, Tracy told you he discovered the 'theft' after leaving the store, then returned to the store to make his phone call—but the druggist told you he made the call immediately after his purchase of the cigarettes and before leaving the store.

Surf Skimmer on display in Edmonton

Called the Surf Skimmer, the craft is manufactured in Edmonton, and is in effect a motorized surf board. It's constructed of foam-filled reinforced fibreglass, measures 9' 6" long, tips the scales at a mere 42 lbs., and is powered by a 6-h.p. engine that propels it at speeds up to 25 m.p.h.

It's ideally suited to lake or lagoon operation and is easily controlled by a simple hand throttle. Sped is increased by squeezing the throttle, and decreased by releasing. The propeller is built flush with the underside of the craft for complete safety of operation.

The Surf Skimmer looks as if it will be a winner for local enterprise this summer.

Surf Skimmer on display in Edmonton

The public will get its first look at an entirely new kind of water craft at the Trade Fair this year.

Called the Surf Skimmer, the craft is manufactured in Edmonton, and is in effect a motorized surf board. It's construction of foam-filled reinforced fibreglass, measures 8' 6" long, tips the scales at a mere 43 lbs., and is powered by a 6-h.p engine that propels it at speeds up to 35 m.p.h.

It's ideally suited to lake or lagoon operation and is easily controlled, by a simple hand throttle. Speed is increased by squeezing the throttle, and decreased by releasing. The propeller is built flush with the underside of the craft for complete safety of operation.

The Surf Skimmer looks as if it will be a winner for local enterprise this summer.

IN MEMORIAM

LYONS —In loving memory of our dear son, Barry Robin, who passed away April 27, 1967:

When last we saw your smiling face
You looked so fit and well,
That little did we realize
It was your last farewell;
We did not know that morning
What sorrow night might bring,
Your sparkling smile, your happy laugh,
Could make the whole world sing.
Each dawning day has thoughts of you,
Each eventide a prayer,
And in the hearts that loved you,
You always will be there.
'Tis sweet to know we'll meet again
Where partings are no more,
And that the ones we loved so well
Have only gone before.

—Lovingly remembered and so heartbreakingly missed by Daddy, Mommy, Brothers and Sisters. 32p-5101

CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my friends and relatives for their kindness and thoughtfulness during my recent stay in the hospital. A special thank you to the nurses and Dr. Shandro.

—Mrs. Joseph Shanley 32p-4060

Choirs will present programs in Tofield Lutheran Church

On Sunday evening, April 28, at 8.00 p.m., the St. Albert Lutheran choir, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Olson, will present an Easter Cantata in the Lutheran Church at Tofield.

The St Albert Lutheran Church is a Home Mission church, and it was not two years ago that Pastor and Mrs. Raymond Olson arrived in St. Albert to establish a Lutheran Church there, and after two years it has shown the amazing growth to a membership of 200 and an enrollment of 200 Sunday School pupils. The choir was also formed at the same time and has proved to be one of the strong links in the church.

Easter is over, but for the Christian world the great importance of Christ's crucifixion and then His ascension to glory is still being celebrated, and it is this message that the choir will bring.

Last Sunday the Bardo Senior Choir presented their Cantata at St. Albert, and this will be a return gesture on behalf of the St. Albert Choir.

Then on Tuesday evening, April 30, at 8:30 o'clock, the Camrose La berum Bible School will present a program of musical numbers. This year the choir is under the direction of missionary Martha Pedersen, who is presently one of the teachers at C.L.B.I.

The choir this year is making a tour of northern Alberta, and the church is very happy that the choir included Tofield on its itinary itinerary.

Tofield 4-H Day is this Saturday

The Tofield 4-H Beef Club will be staging "4-H Day" in Tofield on Saturday, with all types of activities planned.

Some of the 4-H'ers will be at Fisher's Garage from 8 on o'clock in the morning until 6 00 o'clock in the evening, washing cars for a nominal fee. Other members of the club will be selling popcorn and shining shoes.

The Tofield Community Hall will be the site of a mammoth bake sale, that gets underway at 1:30 p.m.

All profits from 4-H Day will be put to use for various 4-H projects.

Minor baseball is organized

A meeting of interested persons and prospective coaches for the minor baseball program in Tofield was held Tuesday evening in the Community Hall.

The group decided to try and organize four teams this year and selected coaches for these teams. Hand coaches will be A's, Les Young (10 years and under); B's, John Bourgan (12 years and under); Ed Bisgrove (12 years and under), and Don Roth (Peaty League).

The organization expressed the opinion that they would need the support of the entire community to make the season a success, and that a strong effort must be made to obtain this support.

Canadian Dairy Princess, Janet Olesen from Daysland is shown with the Honorable Frank Richter, B.C.'s Minister of Agriculture. During her visit to B.C.'s capital, Victoria, on April 3rd, she was introduced from the floor of the B.C. Legislature by Mr. Richter. At a private luncheon earlier she presented Mr Richter with a milk stool.

Ryley oldtimers pass within short period

(Mrs. R. Davick)

Jim Lamont of North Surrey, B.C., passed away on March 23, at the age of 73 years. He was a long-time resident of Round Hill and Ryley for a number of years, later moving to British Columbia with his youngest daughter, Barbara. They made their home with a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lamont, until failing health necessitated his admittance to a nursing home until his passing.

Mr. Lamont leaves to mourn his passing: his wife Hazel, who is ill in the Olyer Hospital; three daughters, Miss Barbara Lamont of North Surrey, Lois (Mrs. Kenneth Murray of Ryley and Jean (Mrs Joe Peter) of Banff, two sons, Tommy of Leduc and Sandy of North Surrey, as well as several grandchildren and other relatives.

Funeral service was held in Trembleben Lutheran Church at Round Hill, Saturday, March 30, with interment in the Round Hill cemetery

Mrs. Hazel Lamont (nee Law) passed away Saturday, April 6, in the Olyer Hospital, Edmonton, at the age of 66 years. Mrs. Lamont's death followed that of her husband, Jim, by only 13 days

Mrs. Lamont leaves to mourn: three daughters, Mrs. Jean Peter of Banff, Mrs. Lois Murray of Ryley and Miss Barbara Lamont of North Surrey; two sons, Ronald Lamont of North Surrey and Tommy Lamont of Leduc; several grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Agnes Campbell, Mrs. Lillie Brace, Mrs. Bell Mellott and Mrs. Mary Dovick, and five brothers, Allan Law of Edmonton and Donald Law of Ryley. Mrs. Lamont lived in the Round Hill and Ryley districts for many years, until her health failed, and was in hospital for nearly three years.

FARM IS SOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kondroski and family moved into the former Alex Shybo residence the end of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Kondroski have sold their farm to Selma Komarnisky and held an auction sale of their farm goods and machinery on April 19. They will be making their home in the village for the next few months, until the school term is finished, and will then probably move to Edmonton.

Percy Barlow and his brother Alex, were Sunday afternoon visitors and dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kennie McLennan. Kennie is again confined in the Tofield Hospital.

Miss Blanche Olson returned home the end of last week from a week's stay at Vernon, B.C., visiting with her son Jim and family. Mrs. Olson's daughter Kay, Mrs. R. Coombs, of the Tofield district, and granddaughter Kathy, also made the trip. They also visited with several other relatives and friends in the vicinity.

Mrs. Mabel Saser drove to Taber with her daughter Gurene and family, the C. Hammers of Viking, where they spent the Easter holiday weekend visiting with her daughter Zella and husband, the Erling Hendersons. About 20 miles north of Taber they ran into a bad snow storm and had very poor travelling conditions to Taber.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Giebelhaus had their son Earl and his wife Penny and family, of Rimbey, visiting with them for the holiday weekend.

Ten ladies of the Holden OORP Lodge attended the Annual District Meeting of District No. 4, held at Hardisty on Thursday, April 18, taking part in Lodge work.

Mrs. Lauretta Thygeson of Calgary was visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keith, for a few days during the Easter holiday week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McLeod of Edmonton were visitors and calling on friends in the district during the weekend.

A number of old time friends and neighbours called on Mrs. Lars Rilland on Friday afternoon, April 19, to offer their congratulations and help her celebrate her birthday. They presented her with a lovely potted plant of 'mums. She also had received a lovely bouquet of flowers from her family in California, U.S.A.

CAR IS STOLEN

Bill Ogonoski had the disturbing experience of having his car stolen early Saturday morning, from outside his father, Pete Ogonoski's residence. Bill and his wife had left the children there and when returning about 2:30 a.m. to pick them up, left the car running. On going outside again with the children, they found that some person had run up the street, gotten in the car, and drove away. The vehicle was found abandoned in Vegreville by the RCMP later Saturday morning.

REV. HESSELS SPEAKS HERE

Sunday, April 21, Rev. K. C. Hessels of Edmonton, former student minister, about five years ago of the Holden-Ryley United Church charge, was guest minister, taking the services at both churches. The Holden church was filled to capacity to meet again with Rev. Hessels, and Mrs. Hessels, who had accompanied him. Mrs. N. L. Campbell entertained members of Rev. Hessels' former Bible Class and members of the congregation at a buffet luncheon and social hour in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Hessels. Rev. Hessels also brought along his brother, who has been out from Holland for the past year.

EASTER CANTATA

The Junior Choir of Holden United Church, assisted by members of the Senior Choir, presented a very enjoyable Easter Cantata directed by Mrs. Dorothy Bateman on Easter Sunday, with the church filled to capacity. Mr. Larry Benson was soloist for the occasion. Mrs. Bateman has worked most faithfully with the junior choir and is to be most highly commended for the results she has achieved with the children.

Memories of '50 ball team

(Mrs. R. Dovick)

RYLEY. — The snow has disappeared, basketball is finished, and softball is here.

I happened to run onto this poem of 1950, when Jack McDonald was the principal and also coach of the Ryley High School softball team. The poem was composed by some of the girls from the south travelling home after school. Now these girls have all drifted apart, but some of the parents of the children are still around to read this old poem, "On Top of Old Home Plate" (parody "On Top of Old Smoky"):

Janet stood swinging

Hanka sent a ball flying
Straight o'e the plate,
Pat started swinging,
But it was too late

Way down to left field
Aggie saw the ball coming
And ran for a shield

The ball went out short-stop
Pat made a swell catch,
But her throw to first base
Agnes could not snatch

Joyce whacked a fast grounder
Like a spark from a forge
Ashley saw the ball coming
And screamed out "George".

Bruce was going to second,
June caught the ball well,
She turned round to tag her,
But home was our El

Marie was up batting,
She hit a short fly,
She started out running
But we'll never know why

Now the ball game is over,
You can smell it for miles—
It was 26-0
Ryley High is all smiles

Tofield boys walk in aid of OXFAM

Tofield was represented by two high school boys, Tom Christenson and Lonnie Murray, in the "Make the Million" march which took place in Edmonton on Saturday, May 4.

Commencing at 7:00 a.m. from the starting point in Hardisty Park, the boys completed their 28-mile walk at 3:30 p.m., tired and a bit footsore, but satisfied that they had made a small contribution to the hungry people of the world.

County Council meets

Eric Atwood of the A.G.T. and two other staff members attended the meeting, discussing with Council the necessity of advising in plenty of time expected roadwork, so that a rangements could be made to have A.G.T. attend the meeting and re-routing of cables. He requested that a County map be marked with all the proposed work for the year and forwarded to him at an early date. He also referred to a film, "speechless by mistake", which could be shown at any time that the Council so desired.

R. Hilton, from the Department of Water Resources, attended and discussed with the Council the proposed projects for the current year. As had been previously points out to the Council, all drainage projects were now under the A.R.D.A. system and the County would only be required to pay 25% of the cost, it was noted that the Council had approved an approximate amount of $10,000 for its share for drainage work this year, and it was suggested that the M. McVittie Project in the east end of the County be proceeded with, and also the lower portions of Shonts and Krobanksi Flood Control Projects. Mr. Hilton then retired.

Proposed policy in regards to providing necessary instructional equipment to schools on an equitable and standard basis was referred to in the Superintendent's report. The proposal establishes a basic minimum to which all schools, regardless of size, are entitled. This policy had been developed in consultation with principals and teachers, and the proposal in the form, as outlined in the report, had been discussed at the meeting of the principals association in March, 1968.

Policy No. 8200 - Instructional Equipment Foundation Program: It shall be the policy of the School Committee of the County of Beaver to supply instructional equipment to the schools in an equitable manner by recognizing that even the smallest school has certain basic needs that must be met. In addition, it recognizes that as schools increase in size, that additional or even more specialized instructional equipment is required in order to create a high quality teaching-learning situation.

Regulation No. 8200 listed the Instructional Equipment Foundation Program, what all schools in the County should be provided with and also where additional equipment would be provided. The objective was to provide all of the requirements by December 31, 1969. It was moved and carried that the proposal be accepted and that Policy No. 8200 and Regulation 8200, be approved and included in the Policy Handbook.

County Council meets

formation be received and filed

Application for Sub-Division in SE 13-51-20 W4th was referred to Council Owners of the land, Hugh P. and Margaret Bruce of RR3 Tofield, applied for sub-division of the land east of their present farm buildings.

It was moved and carried that Council has no objections to the proposed sub-division provided the County will not be called upon for any road or other improvements in or to the sub-division and that municipal regulations regarding distance from road allowance for buildings and other conditions be recognized.

The 1968-1969 Requisition from Minburn Health Unit No. 12, in the amount of $2,117.61, was read to Council.

Moved and carried that the Requisition be accepted and paid.

It was moved and carried, at 5:00 p.m., that this meeting now adjourns to Wednesday, April 17, at 10:00 a.m.

An offer from William J. Dury of Bruce to purchase Lots 27, 28 and 29 on Block 7, Plan 4854 W, Bruce, was referred to Council. Mr Dury offered $75 for the three lots and agreed to remove the old buildings, the trees situated on the lots and, in general, clean up the lots

Moved and carried that Lots 27, 28 and 29 on Block 7, Plan 4854 W, Bruce, be sold to Wm. J Dury of Bruce for $75.

RECONVENED MEETING

In regards to Lot 14 in Block 4, Plan 1362 W, Kinsella, that was required for the building to house the fire truck in Kinsella and dealt with by motion 190-68. Cy Johnston advised that he had discussed the matter with owner of the lot, A. Whidden. He had made a tentative offer of $25, and Mr Whidden appeared to be prepared to accept the offer.

Moved and carried that Cy. Johnston be authorized to offer the sum of $25 for Lot 14 in Block 4, Plan 1362 W to Mr A. Whidden

It was moved and carried that Preliminary Agreement, concerning SE 18-49-13-W4, in connection with replacement of a bridge and realignment of creek, and in regards to NE 6-50-13-W4, in connection with replacement of a bridge and a stream diversion, be accepted

W. B. Mainland interviewed the Council in regards to the situation at Nugget Lake on NW 11-49-15-W4. Mr Mainland mentioned that the lake continues onto his land, to the east of the park area, that the County has at the lake, and at that particular point there is a 350-foot stretch where the water is 20 feet deep and he, therefore, is unable to fence it. Mr. Mainland is worrying about the fact that people can get in on his land and that, in case of an accident or drowning, he would be liable He suggested that the County either take steps to burn this stretch of water or consider selling the existing park area to him.

It was pointed out that the park was established under Provincial Government regulations and that the picnic shelter and toilets had been erected with the assistance of government grants and, that, the Fish and Wildlife Branch of the Department of Lands and Forests was stocking the lake with trout and that if, if at all possible, would be difficult to turn the land back to Mr. Mainland. It was also realized that if the park was discontinued and the stocking of the lake discontinued it would meet with complaints from the people who are using the facilities. The suggestion was made that by posting "no trespass" signs so that anyone entering onto the land would do so at his own risk, might be sufficient, however, Mr. Mainland appeared to be of the opinion that this was not so. The Secretary-Treasurer suggested that the County Solicitor might be contacted in this matter, and it was also suggested that the Department of Lands and Forests should be contacted to see if they might have any suggestions in this regard.

It was moved and carried that the Secretary-Treasurer contact the County Solicitor as well as the Department of Lands and Forests in this matter.

The Secretary-Treasurer mentioned that two of the public works employees, Alfred Harbak and Morris Reum had obtained their first aid certificates

Moved and carried that the aforementioned be accepted and that Alfred Harbak and Morris Reum be paid the usual $5 per month for having a first aid certificate effective March 1.

The Council was informed that he cost of the original office building, as per bill of sale of re-paint and the repairs to re-finish the roof had been $1,- 500.00 to Metro Roofing, Ltd. A re-assessment by 1974 Forest Markets, Ltd. in the amount of $1500, and that Roofing in the amount of $1,442

Such decisions present and be recommended that the tender submitted by Metro Roofing, be accepted, as above noted and carried that the tender from Metro Roofing, 1955 Ltd. for the re-finishing of the roof on the Kinsella fire building in the amount of $424 be accepted

The matter of the Department of Water Resources and Flood Control dealt with at the April 11 meeting was again brought up particularly as to how the cost should be assessed Cr John son was of the opinion that the cost of flood control should be chargeable to the division that benefits from the work and that the trees affected should contribute to the cost. It was also considered that in in case of a large area, two or three or four divisions being involved, the cost might be paid out of general revenue in case of a local situation, that is, most of the benefit would come to one division, the cost should be charged to that division. However, it was realized that each project would have to be dealt with on its own merits and it was very difficult, if not impossible, to set out hard and fast regulations inasmuch as the Department of Water Resources was anxious to have the Council's reaction to the proposed works, it was moved and carried that Council apply to the Department of Water Resources for work to be done on the McVittie Project in total and part of the Skosta and Krupkowski Flood Control Projects, considerable to be given to the lower part of those two projects.

Barns, hogs lost in blaze

(Mrs. R. Davies)

RYLEY. — Mother's Day was interrupted by the shrill whistle of the fire siren for the Ryley Fire Brigade to help out at Peter Munkedal's farm, when a disastrous fire of unknown origin swept through his new pig barn and another small barn building, burning them to the ground. Fifty pigs perished in the blaze. Mr and Mrs. Munkedal were attending church at the time, so the fire got a good start before it was noticed.

The Ryley Fire Brigade engine also put out another fire on Sunday, a Carl Budinski's that got out of control.

The fir truck has been very busy the past week, as they put out a grass fire close by Dick Whitton's service station on Saturday afternoon.

An official welcome to visitors is expected to take place, with representatives of the City of Camrose, County of Camrose, Camrose Chamber of Commerce, as well as the host club taking part. The day's program is under the chairmanship of Ed Rudyk.

Mazankowski wins Tory nomination

Donald Mazankowski of Vegreville, president of the Progressive Conservative Party in the Vegreville constituency, early this morning became the Tory candidate for the forthcoming federal election.

The nominating convention, which began yesterday in Two Hills drew over two thousand people, over 1,000 of them voting delegates. The attendance overflowed the meeting place, resulting in many frantic last minute changes. The curling rink and arena were quickly brought into use, and a complete sound system had to be set up. With delegates so numerous and so scattered, registrations took quite some time and as one candidate speaking, the first ballot was not taken until 12 30 o'clock this morning

Six candidates had sought the nomination One candidate, David Fruechak of Andrew, withdrew in favor of Mr. Mazankowski, but of the voting delegates in attendance Mr Mazankowski took over half of the votes to win the nomination

Results of both ballots:

	1st	2nd
D. Mazankowski	798	871
C. Isbechseri	333	136
G. Egnaski	336	224
M. Kowalchuk	275
O. Kotyshyn	133
V. Palamar	34

The Liberal Party will be holding their nominating convention in Vermilion on Saturday, with at least one candidate seeking the nomination He is Jules Van Brabant, the mayor of St. Paul, Rumor persists that John Koshulska mayor of Vegreville will also of his name stand The re is also a possibility of an other of the last minute entries

The New Democratic Party has not made any move towards nominating a candidate, with no names being mentioned, and no date set for a nominating convention

The Social Credit Party has decided not to enter a candidate in this constituency, but has made no official announcement as to whether or not they would throw their support behind the Conservative candidate, as has been done in other areas

(Mrs. G. H. Taylor)

HOLDEN — A lovely early spring wedding was held Saturday April 20 at St. Stephen's College chapel, Edmonton, when Terry Elaine Good, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Good, became the bride of James W. Lusk of Bruce. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Runton, a former minister at Holden United Church, assisted by Mr. R. M. Bateman.

The altar was decorated with bouquets of white and pink carnations and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows. A college student was organist and Mrs. R. M. Bateman sang "O Perfect Love".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely formal gown of white nylon lace over white cotton, with a long lace train and matching bow. Her long, nylon net headpiece was held with a single rose decorated with pearls. Her white shoes were decorated with rhinestones and seed pearls, and her bouquet was red roses with a white satin bow.

The bridesmaids, Miss Judy Good, sister of the bride, and Miss Carol Lusk, sister of the groom, were identical formal blue crepe dresses with matching brocaded coats, and headpieces of bows and nylon with tiny white roses. They carried bouquets of white carnations tied with white ribbon and a ruffle.

Best man was Ross Lusk of Fort Saskatchewan, and the ushers were Sam Stashko of Holden and Eugene Danylak of Edmonton.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Good chose a semi-formal pink dress with matching coat, pink net hat, navy shoes and a corsage of white roses. The groom's mother wore a semi-formal off white two-piece suit with white accessories and a red rose corsage.

Last rites are held for Mrs. E. Sears on May 9th

The funeral service for Mrs. Ellen Sears, who passed away at the Allan Grey Auxiliary Hospital on Monday, May 6, was held at the Tofield United Church on May 9, with interment in the family plot at the Tofield Cemetery. Rev McDannold, assisted by Mr Bateman, conducted the memorial service.

The honorary pallbearers were Lorne Lee, Ivan Mitchell, Arthur Williams, Henry McGinitie, Leonard Stauffer and Ed Regher. Active pallbearers were Wesley Ingram, Wesley Lawson, Don Carlisle, Harold Schultz, Harold Coombes and Roy Whillans.

Mrs Sears is survived by one daughter Hazel (Mrs. Henry Dyer) of Edmonton, three sons, Albert, Stanley and Charles, of Tofield, 14 grandchildren, and one great grandson, Ronald Stewart. Also surviving are one sister, Mrs. Carrie Overton, of Indianola, Iowa, and one brother, Wesley Ingram, of Victoria, B.C.

Mrs. Sears was born Ellen Gertrude Ingram at Prescott, Iowa, March 31, 1886, and came to the Tofield district with her mother, eight brothers and sisters in October 1900. She was married December 25, 1906, to George William Sears, also of Prescott, Iowa, who came to the Ketchamoot district following the Spanish-American war. Throughout her life she remained active and interested in her church, her community and her flowers. The past two years, following a stroke, she had been a patient at the Good Samaritan Nursing Home and the Allan Grey Auxiliary Hospital.

Card of Thanks

We would like to express our thanks and appreciation for the many acts of sympathy and kindness following the recent loss of our mother, Mrs. Ellen Sears. The flowers, donations, cards and phone calls are gratefully acknowledged. We give special thanks to Rev McDannold, Mr. Bateman, honorary and active pallbearers, the choir, Mrs. Stinson and soloist Mrs. Wall; and to the friends and neighbors who provided and helped with serving coffee following the service. When the tread on an automobile tire gets down to 2-32nds of an inch, the time has come to replace it. Tread thinner than 2-32nds of an inch decreases a driver's ability to control his car and can lead to unexpected skids, warns the Canadian Highway Safety Council.

Bakery is destroyed in morning holocaust

Verner's Bakery in Ryley was completely destroyed when fire raged through the premises about 5 00 o'clock Monday morning The building and all contents were said to have been a complete loss.

No accurate estimate of the loss has been reached, but speculation is that it could be in the neighbourhood of $75,000 The fire was reported to have been at least partially covered by insurance

Fire departments from Tofield, Holden and Bruce responded to a call for assistance from the Ryley Fire Brigade

Most of the adult population of Ryley were up all night helping to clear out nearby buildings and assisting firemen in containing the blaze, which was not completely brought under control until shortly after dawn.

Along with the building and its contents, two bread trucks, parked near the buildings, were also lost.

The annual meeting of the Power Line Baseball League was held on May 21 at the Ryley Town Office. Ryley, Tofield and Bardo were represented, and Round Hill, although not represented at the meeting, sent word that they wished to continue in the league.

Garnet Barnstad was retained as president, Len Stauffer as vice-president, and Jack Lampitt as secretary. The league will open on Tuesday, May 28. A complete league schedule will appear next week, as it is still not known whether or not Viking intends entering the league.

Farmers are invited to herbicide meeting

A meeting for all farmers in the Tofield area is planned for Monday, May 27, to demonstrate the use of Carbyne, a post-emergence herbicide for the control of wild oats. It is being arranged by United Grain Growers

The meeting will start at 2 00 p.m. and it will be conducted by a technical field representative of Gulf Oil Corporation.

Similar demonstration meetings were attended by more than 4,000 farmers in 1967.

Topics of discussion will include information about wild oat plants, the stage in which they should be sprayed for maximum control, the timing of the application of the chemical and what crops can be sprayed

The representative will demonstrate how to adjust the spray boom on a field sprayer, how to calibrate the sprayer, and how to mix Carbyne in the sprayer.

Farmers attending the meeting are asked to bring the pressure gauges from their field sprayers so they can be checked for accuracy

All those at the meeting will be given nozzle tip testers to measure the nozzle output of their own sprayers.

Nominations are over as candidates selected

VEGREVILLE

It appears this constituency will wage a two-man battle between Donald Mazankowski of the Progressive Conservative Party and Jules Van Brabant of the Liberals. Neither the NDP or Social Credit have named candidates, nor apparently will they.

The Liberal Party held their convention in Vermilion on Saturday with St. Paul mayor Jules Van Brabant getting the nod after two ballots, with a total of 218 delegates casting ballots.

Results of balloting:

J. Van Brabant	107	174
L. Sereda	87	95
L. Scherot	20	30
R. Wilson	23	9
G. Bedard	16

At the last federal election in this constituency there were 30,100 eligible voters of whom 17,524 cast ballots. It could not be ascertained how many eligible voters there are for the June election.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA — Prime Minister Trudeau is moving so that Quebec's ambitions in the international field are becoming a central issue in the federal general election.

Finance Minister Sharp, Quebec Premier Johnson and Conservative leader Stanfield are all in there jumping on the same bandwagon.

The battle was formally joined when Quebec financier and constitutional expert Marcel Faribault, partner of the two national theory figured to become a candidate under the Stanfield banner.

Just what this will do to Conservative strength in the west I have John Diefenbaker's thinking on to fight for one Canada or we can say at the moment.

It is certain, however that Mr. Trudeau intends to fight for the principle of one voice abroad for Canada and he will be fighting particularly hard in Quebec. He is out to defeat Mr. Johnson on his own ground and to defeat the Conservatives who now appear to have become the main allies of Mr. Johnson in the federal field.

ONLY ONE ADDRESS!

Mr Trudeau has taken the view that no other name is remotely as important as that one. The time is, who speaks for Canada and who can build a united Canada.

The Prime Minister says that if Quebec is allowed to fulfill its ambitions it will destroy Canada. He wants all Quebec's various talents efforts—as well as similar efforts by any other province—to be channeled through Ottawa.

As he says, other countries will join in dealing with matters involving any Canadian government, there is only one address—Ottawa, Canada.

To many Canadians, there is this danger in Quebec's participation in international conferences on education. They ask what all the fuss is about.

FOLLOWING PATTERN

Mr Trudeau and many others, however see Quebec's initiatives as a thin disguise for a drive for independence. They are convinced that Mr. Johnson is playing the de Gaulle game. And what is the de Gaulle game? Listen to him.

France intends to support Quebec in their effort at emancipation . . . the result, in my opinion, will inevitably be the advent of Quebec to the rank of a sovereign state, master of its national existence."

Independence of course, is not the stated objective of the Quebec government. But Mr. Trudeau points out that Canada's independence was obtained bit by bit, by establishing precedents in the field of international relations of the kind Quebec is now trying to establish.

There can be little doubt that the international community now sees Quebec's participation in international conferences in Cairo and Paris as a move towards independence.

HELP NEEDED

If Scotland, for example, demanded such international conferences without reference to the United Kingdom government, that would in the same way be seen as a move towards independence for Scotland.

Quebec has been able to make some progress in this field mainly because of the willing encouragement of France. Obviously Quebec could not conduct any international relations if there was no other country willing to relate.

The Quebec effort has been further enhanced by France's undoubted sway over several French-speaking countries in Africa. These former colonies—heavily dependent on French aid, trade, and technology—find it impossible to resist the de Gaulle influence even though many of them are privately sympathetic to Ottawa's position in this dispute.

So far the Quebec government made any attempt to share its foreign with its image. Former Prime Minister Pearson spent his last three months in office anxiously trying to reach some agreement with Quebec on the question of Quebec participation in the upcoming education conferences in Gabon and Paris.

SNUBBED

Mr Pearson wrote three anguished letters to Mr. Johnson, suggesting that the delegation to the conferences be a Canadian delegation, even though it might be headed by the Quebec Education Minister.

Mr. Johnson did not reply to these letters until after the Quebec government had received a direct invitation to the Gabon conference which it accepted and attended, and until just before the Paris conference in April, which Quebec also attended.

Ottawa suspended relations with Gabon over the incident, but this did not prevent the Quebec Premier from holding talks on educational co-operation with Gabon's president on that same time had no diplomatic relations with Canada.

These events, astounding over seven months, were interpreted in Ottawa as a direct challenge from Quebec and an attempt by the Province to establish international precedents.

PRESERVE SOVEREIGNTY

Mr. Trudeau says he will not accept or condone these precedents and that is undoubtedly one of the main reasons why he chose to call an election immediately after he was elected leader. He wants a mandate to fight Mr Johnson and de Gaulle on these grounds, and he wants it from Quebec as well as the rest of Canada.

His thesis is simple and Mr Stanfield and other opponents will have difficulty answering it. It is this

"When you reach a stage when provinces can determine for themselves how they will act in international matters, and when they want to erect this into a constitutional and international theory, then we're arguing that you're destroying the country."

The DeGaulle game

Election chatter

Now that all parties have selected their candidates for the coming federal election, it should be interesting to follow them along the playoff trail and see the results. Only two parties have declared candidates in this constituency as compared to five in the last general election.

The Trev candidate will have to be the odds-on favourite to win because of the big majority racked up in '63, but the Liberal candidate could make it very interesting if he should pack up much backing from the other parties' supporters.

One of the questions that is often being asked these days is 'What is going to happen to the NDP and Social Credit on a national level'" Extreme opportunists would lead one to believe that Social Credit on a national scale is about finished. And many of the experts feel that the NDP will not gain nearly as many members elected as they did in the last vote. While it might be nice to offer the voters an alternate, it might be even better if we did completely return to the two-party system. Both of the major parties have almost completely dominated the base-light recently, and both will fight hard to keep it that way, and their financial backing will make it awfully hard for the other two parties to do anything about it.

The tax load

All across the province, and across the country for that matter, taxpayers are faced with another increase at the local level. In most cases almost the entire increase is due to escalating costs in the field of education. This is one area that cannot be cut-back on this making it impossible to do anything but accept the increased mill rate.

Take all the increased grants from provincial government to help alleviate the burden, and what is left that can be charged to the taxpayer? Should the government increase their grant structure it would likely mean that we are paying more income taxes in another manner. The money has to come from somewhere, and it is silly to think that when it comes from government sources that it is not costing the taxpayer.

The biggest reason for most increases is salaries for teachers. Part of this is because of the shortage of teachers, but much of it is because of wage increases. Perhaps a breakout be made a condition of establishment that teachers must purchase their own homes. If they had to make a big down payment, and a hefty mortgage payment each year for these increases became them it would be like adding a new personal income tax on another level.

Krabill - Stauffer vows exchanged on April 19

On April 19, Ronald Dunne Krabill, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Krabill of Albany, Oregon, and Mary Louise Stauffer, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Stauffer of Tofield, became husband and wife when they exchanged vows in the Salem Mennonite Church, near Tofield. Bishop John B. Stauffer, grandfather of the bride, officiated at the ceremony. Pastor Harold Boettger brought the meditation, "Christ in the Home" based on Jos. 2:1-11. Music was provided by a quartette—Ellen Lauber, Joseph and Fern Roth and Orvin Boettger. A ladies trio rendered one number, and during the signing of the register, Loretta Stauffer, aunt of the bride, sang "A Wedding Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown, designed and sewn by herself, of chantilly bridal lace over satin. She carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and rosebud streamers, centred with white lilies, on a white Bible.

Maid of honor was Miss Joyce Boettger, Tofield, and the bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Krabill, sister of the groom, and Miss Judy Schlabach, Portland, Oregon. Their street-length dresses of peau d' elegance with matching lace tops, were of mystic blue. Each carried a heart-and-cross-shaped bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Dennis Krabill, brother of the groom, was best man, while Bob Gerig, Lebanon, Oregon, and Lyle Krabill of Aurora, Colorado, both cousins of the groom, were the groomsmen. Ushers were Gaylord Kauffman, Dan Hart, Russel Stauffer and Leonard Krabill.

The bride's mother chose a horizon blue crepe dress, and her corsage was of red roses. The groom's mother wore a dress of turquoise blue, and a corsage of yellow roses.

The reception, held in the Tofield Community Centre, was capably catered to by the G. C. Mennonite Ladies Group. The three-tiered fruit cake, artistically decorated by Freda Voegtlin, graced the head table, along with blue and white tapers and arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and white gladiolus. The wall decorations, the bridesmaids' bouquets, and the cake top all portrayed the couple's theme, "Together With Christ". Lawrence Stauffer, brother of the bride, served as master of ceremonies. The program consisted of: Prayer by Paul Voegtlin; girls' trio, by Prairie Bible Institute friends; a reading; a harmonica duet, a poem, telegram read from Miss Freda Stauffer, Kitchener, Ontario, tribute to the groom by Gene Yoder, Indiana, a toast to the bride by her uncle, Orvin Boettger, and the response by the groom. Miss Marie Bolton had charge of the guest book.

Out-of-town guests were from Camrose, Edmonton, Westlock, Red Deer, Erlville, Three Hills, Calgary and Blackie, also points in Oregon, Colorado and Ohio.

The couple has since motored to Oregon, where they are now residing near Albany. After graduating from Western Mennonite High School, Salem, Oregon, Ron studied one year at Oregon State University and worked two years with emotionally disturbed boys at Prosser Boys' Village, Colorado. He is presently employed as manager of the Fertilizer Plant in Corvallis. Louise also graduated from WMHS and attended P. B. I., Three Hills, for three semesters.
